SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.
A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

Next Tuesday is the day for electing Governor, State and County officers, and Legislators, for the State of New Hampshire. No Representatives to Congress are to be voted for; and no U. S. Senators will be chosen by the new legislature, unless some vacancy should occur.

Yet the election is to turn wholly on national politics; no local matters being mentioned.

The candidates for Governor are

1. Gov. Nathaniel S. Berry, proposed for re-election by the Republican Union Convention. He is recommended by his friends as an honest unimpeachable man, a strict economist, and careful financier; an earnest supporter of the war, and as having employed an aid no less trusty than himself, viz. ex-Gov. Colby, in his military operations.

He is opposed as charged with being an abolitionist, and suspected of standing in the way to prevent some persons from getting too fat jobs out of the war; also because he is of the Republican party, while some of his opponents say that nothing but the rule of the Democratic party can save the country.

2. Hon. George Stark, proposed for election by the Democratic party; and recommended as the regular nominee of that party, as an energetic man, as he certainly is in all places where he acts, and as a fit standard bearer for the party that considers the abolitionists and republicans to be vastly worse than the rebels.

He is opposed by republicans, because of his connexion with a party, which they allege is now under the domination of proslavery and secession leaders, such as Burke and others of his school.

3. Paul J. Wheeler, Esq., proposed for election by the Union War party, composed mostly of loyal democrats,—and recommended by his friends as an earnest supporter of the War and the Union.

He is opposed by the Burke democrats, for the reason that he is too warlike and too decided to suit them, and because he is not their regular nominee. Also opposed by those republicans who see the way clear for all loyal men and war democrats to vote for Berry and Crosby.

The vote of last year was, by the official returns, for Berry, 35,467; Stark, 31,452; scat. 42.

☞ Mr. Mason, the rebel Commissioner, having stated to Earl Russell that from six to seven hundred vessels had entered and left the blockaded ports, the Earl told the House that he had asked Mr. Mason what was the tonnage of the vessels to which allusion had been made, and to that question Mr. Mason was unable to give him any answer. That, said the Earl, was a matter of great importance in the question, because the seven ports blockaded were connected with several other smaller ports, and it was possible that vessels carrying small cargoes might run from one to the other; but these could hardly be called vessels running or breaking the blockade. That was putting the rebel Commissioner in rather a close place.

☞ Very pleasant and satisfactory was the Anniversary Celebration of the Odd Fellows at the Temple on Tuesday evening. The members of the order, and a large number of friends,—gentlemen and ladies,—made up the audience, which filled the Temple. The address by Mr. Edwin P. Stone, of Franklin, N. H., presented the claims of the Order for public recognition and sympathy, with clearness and force, and Rev. Mr. Patterson, of this city, in a two minutes' talk, emphasized and endorsed what Mr. Stone had said. The Portsmouth Cornet Band furnished the street and hall music, and, as usual, gave great satisfaction.

THE REBEL ARMY.—The New York Post publishes, by the kindness of the editor of Lelode Italia, extracts from a letter from Richmond, dated over a month since, from a person still residing in the South, and with excellent opportunities for obtaining information. He says the rebel army on paper is 400,000, but in the field not over 200,000, and part of them indifferently armed. He says the rebel army on the whole line of the Potomac is only about 60,000. He thinks the Southern troops whose term of enlistment expires on the 1st of May, will not re-enlist if they can possibly avoid it.

☞ It is said that valuable information was given to our army before Fort Donelson, on the night before the surrender, by a fugitive slave, the servant of a rebel officer; and that the slave was afterwards claimed by his pretended owner,—but the soldiers would not give him up. He fared better than another negro at Port Tobacco, Md., who pointed out arms concealed, and was afterwards basely given up to his rebel master, and so severely whipped as to cause his death. Among the prisoners taken at Fort Donelson, are said to be 200 colored.

THE REBELLION.

The statement that the Division of Gen. Hooker had crossed the Potomac and entered Virginia, is denied.

By a dispatch from Washington, we are informed that Hon. Andrew Johnson has been formally appointed Governor of Tennessee, with all the powers, duties and functions pertaining to that office, during the pleasure of the President, or until the loyal inhabitants of that State shall organize a civil Government in accordance with the Constitution of the United States. In order to exercise these duties it became necessary first to give him a military position, and hence the President nominated him for a Brigadier General. This appointment the Senate has confirmed.

The town of Columbus, Ky., which has become famous by its connection with the war, is of itself of no importance, except in a military and strategical point of view. It has been described as "a poor post village of one hundred inhabitants." By the official reports from Com. Foote we learn that the Federal troops are in full possession of the fortifications upon which the rebels have expended so much labor in vain. He says:—

My armed reconnoissance on the 2d, caused a hasty evacuation, the rebels leaving quite a number of guns and carriages, ammunition and stores, a large quantity of shot and shell, a considerable number of anchors, and the remnant of the chain lately stretched across the Mississippi, with a large number of torpedoes. Most of the huts, tents and quarters were destroyed.—The works are of very great strength, consisting of formidable tiers of batteries on the water side and on the land side, surrounded by a ditch and abattis.

The rebels do not now occupy a foot of land in Kentucky. They will soon disappear from the soil of Tennessee.

A letter dated on board the U. S. schooner Kittatinny, cruising in Mississippi Sound, dated Jan. 30, says: "On the 28th inst. we captured the schooner Major Barber, loaded with arms, ammunition, &c. The cargo will amount to $50,000. A very good day's work for us. The schr. stood in for Ship Island Shoal, waiting for the pilot, Henry Coos, whom, by the way, we had captured the day before. We boarded her with our boats, and took her without resistance."

Rebel general orders, dated Richmond 1st, proclaim martial law over Richmond and the adjoining country for ten miles. All distillation and the sale of spirituous liquors is forbidden there on account of its demoralizing the army and causing disorder. All persons having arms of any description are requested to deliver the same to the Ordnance Department before the 15th of March, otherwise they will be seized.

A new rebel battery mounting fourteen guns, is reported near Sandy Point on the Potomac.

☞ It is reported from Richmond that John Minor Botts has been arrested and imprisoned for manifesting Union proclivities.

The Richmond Despatch calls attention to mysterious writings on the walls, such as "Attention, Union men;" "the Union Forever;" etc. It was these significant announcements that caused the arrest of John Minor Botts, and 20 other citizens of wealth, character and position, and the proclamation of martial law.

Com. Dupont's fleet has sailed from Port Royal: destination unknown.

The Nashville ran the blockade by flying the American flag. She ran directly up under the guns of a blockading vessel, almost within hailing distance, and then passing her raised the rebel flag and moved toward Fort Macon. Our vessel started in pursuit, following her until within range of the guns of the Fort. Several shots were fired at the Nashville, but she reports that nobody was hurt.

☞ Two New Hampshire Representatives, Edwards and Rollins, voted for the Homestead Bill, in Congress. Col. Marston did not vote, as probably he was with his regiment. It is a remarkable fact, that most of the members from the Free States voted for it, including even Mr. Vallandigham! while only one member from any Slave State did so, viz. Mr. Whaley of Virginia. All the other members from the border slave states, voted against it. The homestead bill is eminently a bill for free soil and free men,—and therefore slavery must resist it. Such questions override parties,—as in the present case, we see all these border state men but one true to slavery, and false to freedom.

☞ The steam frigate Richmond went ashore on the 21st in the night, on American shoals, fifteen miles east of Key West, on the Florida reef. She remained there on the 22d. The steamship Florida and a gunboat, name unknown, together with a number of Key West wreckers, were rendering her what assistance they could. The wind at the time was blowing directly on the reef, but the next day being calm, she would probably get off.

☞ The improved bomb shell, invented by Mr. George C. Jones, is to be tested at the Portsmouth Navy Yard this, Thursday, afternoon at 3 o'clock.

☞ The public funeral services over the remains of Cornelius Conway Felton, LL.D., late President of Harvard University, took place on Tuesday forenoon, at Appleton Chapel, in the College grounds. By the request of the family of the deceased, the ceremonial was performed in the simplest manner. The bells of the churches in Cambridge commenced tolling about 11 o'clock, and the flags on all the staffs and public buildings were displayed at half mast. In the chapel the chancel and the front of the gallery were hung in black crape. The procession consisted of the students, officers of the College, Gov. Andrew and suite, the Executive Council, the Board of Overseers, and others. The services at the Chapel were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Walker, former President of the College, and Rev. Dr. Peabody.

The Boston papers state that Rev. Dr. Peabody is mentioned as the probable successor of Pres. Felton. Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, and Geo. F. Curtis, Esq., are also mentioned in connection with the same office.

☞ We are indebted to C. C. Cushman, Esq., of Victoria, Vancouver's Island, for a copy of the Daily British Colonist, containing a letter from Rev. T. Starr King, of San Francisco, acknowledging the receipt of $1000, contributed by the loyal American citizens in Victoria to the national cause.—Mr. King, in his admirable letter, says:

"It happened that I was to deliver a discourse in the largest hall in San Francisco, Sunday evening, the 24th inst., upon the duty of subscribing largely to the national loan. The hall was crowded. Scarce less than three thousand citizens were present. Your documents reached me about noon of Sunday, and I read your vigorous resolutions and patriotic pledges to the vast assembly. Although it was Sunday night and in a religious service, the papers were received with hearty and loud applause, and contributed powerfully to inspire us with patriotism and incite us to a large subscription to the loan."

☞ A party of men at Great Bend, Pa., attempted to seize one Eggleston, on Monday night, to lynch him for cruelty to his wife. They pursued him, when he turned and fired, wounding two of his pursuers so seriously that they are not expected to recover. Eggleston has been arrested.

PARSON BROWNLOW.—Thos. W. Hartley, No. 420 Franklin street, Philadelphia, has published Parson Brownlow's Farewell Address, in view of his imprisonment by the rebels, together with a finely engraved portrait and fac simile autograph of the patriot,—printed on fine tinted paper. The publisher will furnish copies by mail at ten cents each.

☞ In Rhode Island the three parties, democrats, republicans, and Union, have each nominated Gov. Sprague,—so they will all gain the victory. In accepting the Union nomination, Gov. S. says he has not seen their resolutions—and does "not feel bound by party resolutions or party platforms,"—but means to "put down rebellion, and maintain the Federal Government."

☞ There is a confused state of things about the publication of War News: and confusion will reign, and improper news be published, until the War Department issues an authorized bulletin each morning and evening. Do this,—and stop all other war items, and all will be plain.

☞ When the Fort Donelson prisoners were en route to Chicago, the train stopped at a way station, and two of them were allowed by the guard to leave the cars for a short time. During their absence the train started, and the two rebels followed, shouting and waving their hats to be taken on board again. They had no notion of being left behind.

☞ In the recent case of Parkman vs City of Boston, Mr. Parkman claimed one dollar per foot for 14,175 square feet of land on North Charles street, and would take nothing less. The city offered sixty cents; a suit followed, and a jury gave the plaintiff forty-five cents.

☞ The army correspondent of the Chicago Tribune states that at least one thousand Federal soldiers, including the killed in the battle, will lose their lives by the Fort Donelson fight, and that the wounded will reach fifteen hundred. It was a bloody battle.

☞ The Illinois Central Railroad is going into the corn trade on a magnificent scale. The amount owing to the corporation, for lands sold to settlers, is about $17,000,000; and in payment upon these notes it is taking corn from the farmers at 18 cents per bushel—nearly twice the ruling price.

☞ The dining saloons at New York have commenced the issue of tickets for the fractional parts of a dollar, "good for twenty-five and fifty cents," and pay them out to their customers in place of change.

☞ The Iowa Legislature has enacted that the cost of jury trials shall be taxed upon the losing party, thus saving the State about $75,000 annually.

☞ Over thirty teachers from Boston embarked at New York, a few days since, on the steamer Atlantic, for Port Royal.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, on Tuesday, the bill for the maintenance and safe keeping of prisoners of war was passed. The bill authorizing the President to appoint Commissioners to meet the British and French Commissioners, to take measures for the protection of the Atlantic fisheries, was taken up and passed. Mr. Dixon proposed to elect Mr. Henry Barnard, of Connecticut, to fill the vacancy in the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution, occasioned by the death of President Felton. No business of much public interest was before the House.

☞ Sec. Chase has revoked the commission of a second lieutenant in the revenue cutter service, and ordered his name to be stricken from the roll of that service, he having been reported for the second time as absent from duty and in a state of intoxication.

While going down to Fort Warren, on Monday evening, Gen. Tilghman remarked to Marshal Keyes that he should like to see Bunker Hill. When the steamer which carried the prisoners to the fort had got so far off from shore that Bunker Hill Monument loomed up in the distance in all its majesty, the rebel General looked at it, and said that if he was to be executed he should like to be hanged from that spot. "Your request cannot be allowed," said the under-marshal; "the ground upon which that monument was erected has been consecrated to freedom. Gen. Warren fell there—it is no place for you." The Southern General did not pursue the conversation any farther.—Boston Post.

ACROSS THE POTOMAC.—Of course our information of what is passing in the Federal lines on the other side of the Potomac is very limited just at this time. But from the glimpses we get, it appears that Gen. Banks is steadily moving on. At the last advices his forces had occupied Martinsburg, which is twenty-one miles from Harper's Ferry, and about twenty miles from Winchester, where the rebel Gen. Jackson is in force.

Of matters passing on the lower Potomac we know still less. Hooker's brigade crossed over about thirty miles below Washington. The principal rebel batteries, by the last accounts, it would seem, have been evacuated, and new batteries are being placed at other points lower down the river. The rebels evidently fear being surrounded, and mean, if they can, to prevent Hooker's brigade from being joined by any force coming up the river from Fortress Monroe.—Boston Journal.

A soldier at Chicago got into a row with a stalwart negro on Sunday and struck him on the head with his clubbed musket. The case was before the police court the next morning, and the darkey and the musket both produced the former uninjured, but the latter with the stock broken, and the barrel only fit for shooting round stumps with. If all the negroes down South are as this there is no wonder the rebels want to make soldiers of them.

☞ Gen. Fremont has published an able vindication of his official conduct, in an extra sheet of the New York Tribune. He may be useful yet.

☞ Alfred Reed, of Orono, while returning home from Bangor, last Thursday evening, was knocked down, stunned, and robbed of $81.

Union Ticket.

For Governor,

PAUL J. WHEELER, of Newport.

For Railroad Commissioner.

JOSEPHUS BALDWIN, of Nashua.

Union Platform.

Resolved, That when the very existence of the nation is at stake, the discussion of all questions which have heretofore divided parties and the maintenance of political organizations thereon, are out of place, and every patriotic citizen, laying aside all partizan feeling, should rally to the support of the Government, the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the policy of President Lincoln in his efforts to suppress the present rebellion and to maintain the Constitution; and we pledge to him our cordial support in using the whole power of the nation to accomplish that end.

Resolved, In the language of the resolution so unanimously adopted at the late extra session of our Congress, that the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the county by the disunionists of the Southern States; that in this national emergency we, banishing all feelings of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only our duty to the whole country; that the war ought not to be waged in any spirit of oppression, subjugation or purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of any other State in the Union, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease.

Resolved, That we have full confidence in the ability, integrity and loyalty of Paul J. Wheeler of Newport and Josephus Baldwin of Nashua, the candidates this day nominated for Governor and Railroad Commissioner, and we present them as worthy the suffrages of all patriotic citizens of this State.

A CHANGE.

Having disposed of my milk business from this date to my son CHARLES H. HAYES, I would hereby express my thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the past TWENTY YEARS; and would respectfully request a continuance of the same to my successor.

All Milk bills contracted since the first of January, 1862, will be settled by CHARLES H. HAYES.

CHARLES HAYES.

Portsmouth, March 1

Having purchased the milk business as above, I would announce to the present customers and all others who may wish to favor me with their patronage that the business will be conducted as heretofore. Nothing but the purest article of NEW MILK will be sold. Every exertion will be made to insure its prompt delivery at the earliest possible hour.

Having retained the services of Mr. JOHN P. SWEETSER as Agent, all persons wishing to take Milk will please leave their orders with him, or at PLUMER'S Bakery, and they shall be promptly attended to.

Great pains will be taken to make the change satisfactory to all. CHARLES H. HAYES.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with

SCHWARZ'

PATENT STEATITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

MARCH.

BY BAYARD TAYLOR.

With rushing winds and gloomy skies
The dark and stubborn Winter dies;
Far-off, unseen, Spring faintly cries,
Bidding her earliest child arise:
March!

By streams still held in icy snare,
On Southern hill-sides, melting bare,
O'er fields that motley colors wear,
That summons fills the changeful air:
March!

What though conflicting seasons make
Thy days their field, they woo or shake
The sleeping lids of Life awake,
And Hope is stronger for thy sake,
March!

Then from thy mountains, ribbed with snow
Once more thy rousing bugle blow,
And East and West, and to and fro,
Proclaim thy coming to the foe:
March!

Say to the picket, chilled and numb,
Say to the camp's impatient hum,
Say to the trumpet and the drum,
Lift up your beasts, I come, I come;
March!

Cry to the waiting hosts that stray
On sandy sea-sides far away,
By marshy isle and gleaming bay,
Where Southern March is Northern May:
March!

Announce thyself with welcome noise,
Where Glory's victor-eagles poise
Above the proud, heroic boys
Of Iowa and Illinois:
March!

Then down the long Potomac's line
Shout like a storm on hills of pine,
Till ramrods ring and bayonets shine:
"Advance, the Chieftain's call is mine:
MARCH!"

COMPLIMENTARY.—The other evening—and of all the evenings of the week that it should be of a Sunday—as we were plodding homeward—not from church it must be confessed, but from a neighbor's of good repute—our feet slipped and we escaped an exhibition of "ground and lofty tumbling" only by dint of agility. A passer-by quietly remarked, "Another glass of gin would fetch you." That was a complimentary remark to a temperance man.—Nashua Telegraph.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE
—OR—
Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!
BY THOMAS MILNER, A.M., F.R.S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY-SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press, printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER.—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following:

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of JAMES F. SHORES, Jr., No. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK, who will receive subscriptions for the same.

Dr S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His SANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancer, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Ery-sipelas, Cankers in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

COMPOUND of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic, gout, and lumbago. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for those complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 30 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE for the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of weak lungs and hoarseness or voice after frequent labors. I wish to the extent to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a pill and try it.

REV. EDWIN BURNHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1y20

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (on the Act of 1836.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Extensions, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research among American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters appertaining to the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of their inventions, which are not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given are those of persons who have recently BEEN AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGE, he asks the attention of inventors and that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

There, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

The Chronicle.

"Round to no party—to no sect confined:
The world our home, our brethren, all mankind,
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

THE SCULPTOR.

"Chisel in hand stood a sculptor boy,
With his marble block before him;
And his face lit up with a smile of joy,
As an angel dream passed o'er him.
He carved the dream on the shapeless stone,
With many a sharp incision;
With heaven's own light the sculpture shone—
He had caught that angel vision.

Sculptors of life are we, as we stand,
With our souls unscarred before us,
Waiting the hour, when at God's command,
Our life-dreams shall pass o'er us.
If we carve it then, on the yielding stone,
With many a bright incision,
Its heavenly beauty shall be our own,
Our lives, that angel-vision."

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first element of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

HIS PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Cancer in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried, or known during the whole 30 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints.
Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1862.

THE CAUSE.—To say that slavery is the cause of "all our woes, with loss of" we don't know what yet; is just like quoting holy writ to prove that money is the root of all evil. The good book says "The love of money is the root of all evil;" and all intelligent persons, whose judgment is not warped by opinion or prejudice, know that it is the everlasting, needless, discussion—agitation of the slave question, which has done all the mischief—the end of which is not yet—any more than is the end of the foolish, not to say foolhardy, wrangling.

On this point in question, we are happy to have the authority of no less a personage than President Lincoln — which ought to have some weight, though we are sorry to know that the agitators referred to, have little respect for "the powers that be." Mr. Lincoln, years ago, in the Illinois Legislature, said:

"We believe that the institution of slavery is founded on both injustice and bad policy; but that the promulgation of abolition doctrines tends rather to increase than abate its evils.

"We believe that the Congress of the United States has no power, under the Constitution, to interfere with the institution of slavery in the different States.

"We believe that the Congress of the United States has the power under the Constitution to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia; but that the power ought not to be exercised unless at the request of the people of said District."

PARTY SPIRIT.—One of the most deplorable states of things, and one of the most prolific of evil, in this country, is the bitterness and intolerance of party spirit, which can see no good in a political opponent or his theory or creed. A notable instance of this was recently shown, when George Bancroft, the American historian, delivered his address, on Washington's Birthday, in New York; in which he bitterly denounced the venerable Judge Taney, the eminent and venerable Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court — using language which no gentleman, no scholar, no christian should apply to one so high in the authority and veneration of the people, if indeed he could justify its use at all.

But it is not with this directly, that we have so much to do now; but we wish to show the manner in which Mr. Bancroft's sentiments were received by those who agree and those who differ with him. The fact that he and some of his severest critics recently believed and acted together, politically, affects not our argument at all; as it is well known that friendship once turned to enmity produces the bitterest of all hatred. But mark the difference.

The Boston Transcript, (which is Republican, and goes for war to the hilt,) thus endorses the speech:

"Mr. Bancroft's oration in New York on the 22d inst., was one of the most earnest and vigorous productions of his powerful mind,—large in learning, independent in thought, compact and trenchant in style.—The most striking passages are the judgements passed on Chief Justice Taney and Jefferson Davis."

While the Post, (Union, National Democratic,) thinks

"Mr. George Bancroft must have been considerably excited when he delivered his oration in New York, on the 22d."

And the Courier, (which goes for "The Union, the Constitution, and the enforcement of the laws,") says:

"Of all Mr. Bancroft's productions,—and this is saying the worst thing that can be said of it,—this oration is the most inopportune, intrusive, fantastic, hollow. The only genuine thing in it, is its spite. It is an appropriate speech, however, to come from such a source. We have produced a great many demagogues in this country, but Mr. Bancroft is the prince of them all."

Luckly is he, who can impartially examine all things, no matter where from, and "hold fast that which is good," or which he thinks good, notwithstanding its source.

☞ It is said that Floyd swore, at Fort Donelson, that if he took a sharpshooter, he should be immediately shot. One of the boys of the 11th Illinois stood behind a tree, and fired forty rounds, each time taking a bite of hard bread and a sip of coffee between firing. One man in the 2d Iowa had two balls through one leg, splintering the bone in each place, yet begged of a comrade to place him against a tree, saying he was good for forty rounds more, and did sit and fire his whole ammunition at the rebels.

☞ The U. S. House of Representatives, on Wednesday, passed a bill appropriating $60,000 to indemnify the King of Hanover for relinquishing the vexatious tolls on vessels passing up the Elbe, under the name of "the Stadt dues." A bill was also passed discontinuing pensions to children of officers and soldiers of the Revolution.

☞ It is proved by experience that the large mortars cast for the use of Flag officer Foote's flotilla will throw a shell, weighing 200 pounds before it is filled, 3 1-2 miles.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Price has burned several public buildings in Fayettsville, Ark., including the arsenal, a lead factory, several flouring mills, and 100,000 pounds of flour. Many of the inhabitants along the road have fled, being deceived by the lies of Price, that all would be butchered. A strong Union feeling exhibited among those remaining. An old soldier of 1812 brought out a Union flag long kept concealed. The people fear that the combined forces of Price, Van Dorn, McCulloch, McIntosh, and Pike will again overrun the country, which keeps thousands from avowing their sentiments.—Price, after a hot chase, is cooling off in the Boston mountains. Ben McCulloch is this side of the mountains.

Col. Corcoran and Col. Wilcox, and other Federal prisoners, have reached Richmond. It was thought that Col. Corcoran and Col. Wilcox will be now held as hostages for Generals Buckner and Tilghman, but this was merely a rumor.

The amount of forage and provisions captured by our right wing since the advance into Virginia is estimated to be worth $20,000. This includes 4000 pounds of bacon stored for the use of the rebel army. Leetown and Lovetsville are now among the places held for the Union. Up to this time the success of the movement on the Upper Potomac has been complete.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says advices from the Lower Potomac state that the rebels are undoubtedly concentrating a large force in a direction opposite to the position of Gen. Hooker's division. There is reason to believe, also, that the rebel army of the Potomac has been greatly augmented since the recent Union victories in the West.

FOREIGN. — Advices from Liverpool to the 23d, are received. The discussion of our blockade still continued in the House of Commons, but the Government still declined to give any information in regard to vessels running the blockade.

Sir Robert Peel asserted that Ireland was full of American emissaries, trying to raise up a spirit of disloyalty, and a meeting was held in Dublin, at which a few mannikin traitors tried to imitate the cabbage garden heroes of '48, but met with no response.

Lord Palmerston said negotiations with the American government relative to the island of San Juan had been suspended in consequence of the civil war. An arrangement, however, had been made that there should be a provisional joint occupation.

Glass, Elliott & Co., in a letter to Cyrus W. Field, say they would not be willing to manufacture and lay the Atlantic telegraph, assuming the entire risk, as they believe it too great for one firm, but are so confident of satisfactory results that they are willing to contract for the work and stake a large sum on its successful laying and working.—They furnished a list of 3500 miles of cable already laid by them and all working successfully except in three small stretches.

Another frightful coal pit accident had occurred, by which about 50 miners were killed, at Merthier Tidril.

Washington's Birthday was celebrated in London, by a public breakfast at Freemason's Tavern. The Bishop of Ohio presided, and two hundred ladies and gentlemen were present. Hon. Mr. Adams, United States Minister, and Cyrus Field were present and spoke.

The Journal de Iberia gives the following: "We are informed that the Sumter has run down a ship, which, although bearing the American colors, contained a cargo of coal for Spain. The commander of the squadron of instruction has consequently sent an agent to require explanations of the commander of the Sumter."

☞ The Bangor Courier of March 3d, says that the bark American Eagle, hailing from New York, Mark Dyer of Harrington, master, owned in Jacksonville, Fla., and New York, left St. Thomas Jan. 5, for New York. Instead of going thither, she went into Holmes's Hole Feb. 18, and thence the master ran her to Harrington, Me., on the 23d. On the 26th he ordered his crew to weigh anchor to go to St. John. The crew refusing duty, he went on shore and obtained hands; but, while heaving anchor, the Collector of Machias came on board and took possession. The master was owing the crew all their wages, and was undoubtedly anxious to get the vessel out of reach of confiscation and sailors claims. It is supposed the bark carried coal to the privateer Sumter when at St. Thomas. She was taken by the Collector to Machiasport. The master has been arrested.

☞ A bottle containing a piece of paper, on which the following report is written, has been picked up on the coast near Boucau, France:—"The American ship Athens, of Portsmouth, from Newcastle, for Genoa 16 days, lat. 45, lon. 9 30 W., cloudy weather, light from NNE; several sail in sight, July 10, 1861.—John J. Shields, master. P. S.—Finder please publish date when and where found."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Dover Enquirer states that the canvass of voters which was required to be returned by the first of March, has been received from about four fifths of the State, and indicates the election of Gov. Berry by a majority of fifteen hundred over Stark, Wheeler and doubtful. The returns show Berry 29, 280, Stark 24,656, Wheeler and doubtful 3,115. The legal voters enlisted are about 4000. Three fifths of them are republicans, and two-fifths democrats.—The republicans lose 1000 votes in the State from enlistments.

—— A letter, from Capt. Snow of the N. H. 2d Regiment, which we find in the Lancaster Republican, states that Col. Marston had arrived in camp and would take command of the Regiment immediately. He has quite recovered from his wound received in camp, and will probably lead them in the fight.

—— Mr. Jacob Hook in his 93d year died at Concord, Feb. 27.—Rev. Luther Townsend died at Fitzwilliam, March 2.

—— The Ballot says, "it gives us pleasure again to hear every day the steam whistle at the carriage manufactory of Messrs. Head & Jewell, Exeter, where business was resumed last week after a suspense of some months. The prospect of an early termination of the war against rebellion is giving a gratifying impetus to business, and we hope a lively season will follow the late stagnation in nearly all branches of peaceful industry."

—— We are pleased to learn that Rev. Geo. E. Sanborne, recently of Georgia, Vt., has accepted a call to become pastor of the Congregational Church at Mont Vernon, N. H., about twelve miles from Manchester—the parish, we believe, over which Rev. John Lord was formerly settled.

NASHVILLE.—Evidently the citizens of Nashville, who have believed the infamous lies told them, have been most agreeably undeceived. Having believed that no property, no person would be safe, after the entrance of a Federal army into their city; those who remained in the city had prepared their minds for the worst. The Federal army, however, did enter, and as a result, as we learn by a dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette, the city is entirely quiet. Even the secessionists acknowledge that our military authorities are treating them cruelly kind. They admit that the "Hessians" have not committed a single outrage, while the conduct of their own troops was outrageous. Union men begin to make their appearance. They say that a majority will be found on our side, but that it will take some time to develop the feeling that has been so thoroughly crushed.

A committee, representing the military authorities and the people, were appointed to wait upon Gen. Buell. They have done so, and the interview was so satisfactory that the mayor of the city, Hon. R. R. Cheatham, has issued a proclamation, in which he says:—

There is every evidence of safety and protection to the people, both in their persons and property. I therefore respectfully request that business be resumed, and that all our citizens of every trade and profession will pursue their regular vocations. The County elections will take place on the regular day, and all civil business will be conducted as heretofore. Commanding Gen. Buell assures me that I can rely upon his aid in enforcing my police regulations.

One branch of business is entirely prohibited, viz: the sale or giving away of intoxicating liquors. I shall not hesitate to invoke the aid of Gen. Buell in case the recent laws upon the subject are violated. I most earnestly call upon the people of the surrounding country who are inside the Federal lines, to resume their commerce of the city, and bring in their market supplies, especially wood, butter and eggs, assuring them that they will be fully protected and amply remunerated.

☞ The St. John (N. B.) News say that shipbuilding is busy of late at that place, and that the prospects of ship carpenters are good for the coming summer. The tonnage of ships under way is 18,890. At Quebec there are nineteen vessels building, the aggregate ton nage of which will be about 13,000.

"A person," says the Paris Sport, "who looks at the world in somewhat gloomy colors, having recently complained in M. Auber's presence how hard it was that people must grow old. 'Hard as it is,' replied the veteran composer, 'it seems to be the only means yet discovered of enjoying long life.'"

EGGS.—Break them into hot—not boiling water, and let them remain until the yolk is sufficiently cooked—then put in butter, pepper and salt, and you have done your utmost in cooking eggs.

☞ Hon. Reverdy Johnson, on Monday was elected U. S. Senator by the Maryland Legislature for six years from March next. He succeeds Mr. Kennedy.

Special dispatches from Washington state that the publication of the evidence in Gen. Fremont's case was unauthorized.

☞ Mr. Abraham Wakeman of New York has been appointed Postmaster for that city, vice Taylor, removed.

☞ One-third of the whole population of Nova Scotia, above the age of ten years, can neither read nor write.

for one week, from 8 to 9 A. M., and 12 to 3 P. M.
He will be happy to furnish those in want, with Spectacles, Eye-Glasses,
and other articles of the kind. As DR DESSAUER has made the study of Optics his especial study for years, he is prepared to furnish Glasses for every kind of defective vision which may be required. Having for several years past furnished the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity with Spectacles, he can confidently refer to some of the most respectable citizens to substantiate his qualifications.
If desired, he will call upon any of the citizens at their residences.
A fine assortment of SPY-GLASSES and OPERA GLASSES, as above.
A splendid lot of SPECTACLES, for sale at from

A CHANGE.
Having disposed of my milk business from this date to my son CHARLES H. HAYES, I would hereby express my thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the past TWENTY YEARS; and would respectfully request a continuance of the same to my successor.
All Milk bills contracted since the first of January, 1863, will be settled by CHARLES H. HAYES.
CHARLES H. HAYES.
Portsmouth, March 1

Having purchased the milk business as above, I would announce to the present customers and all others who may wish to receive milk that patronage that the business will be conducted as heretofore. Nothing but the purest article of NEW MILK will be sold. Every exertion will be made to insure its prompt delivery at the earliest possible hour.
Having retained the services of Mr. JOHN F. SWEETSER as Agent, all persons wishing to take Milk will please leave their orders with him, or at FISKER'S Bakery, and they shall be promptly attended to.
Great pains will be taken to make the change satisfactory to all. CHARLES H. HAYES.

Local.

☞ Among the recent improvement about Market Square, we notice Mr. Henry S. Bodge has made extensive alterations and repairs, and now has a very neat and inviting establishment. He has also just received a large stock of new watches, jewelry and fancy goods—as per his new advertisement. Mr. Bodge is one of our own citizens, and has returned to trade among us, after several years experience in some of the best houses in Boston and N. York, whence he brings the most ample testimony as to his thorough acquaintance with, and trustworthiness in, every department of his business. See his advertisement.

☞ Dr. Dessauer requests us to invite attention to his new Notice this morning—which will be found in the appropriate place for new advertisements.

☞ The examination of the Franklin Grammer School, Mr. C. A. Shannon, teacher, will take place this, Friday, afternoon, at the school room on North Street.

RIGHT AGAIN.—The Daily Chronicle comes again, as regularly as the mail and the condition of the roads will allow. We thought our pleasant friend would not cut us off his exchange list, and we now have his assurance that he won't until we publish a daily. Thank you, Frank, and in return, receive the assurance that nobody laughs at your funny things more than we do.—Ballot.

Glad to hear that you laugh at anything, Thomas; for we always thought that your chief failing was in not finding fun enough in the world. The man who furnishes us food for real merriment, we regard as our best benefactor.

CORRESPONDENCE FROM THE ARMY.—We have numerous letters from the soldiers, in all sections of the army, and it is due to the writers for us to state why so frequently they are entirely unpublished or only printed in part. By means of the telegraph we have all important news at once—days, and sometimes weeks before it can reach us by mail; and our narrow limits do not allow of a repetition of the same story, or of minute details about companies or regiments that belong to different parts of the country, but of whom our readers know nothing. We are obliged to the writers for their remembrance of us, and shall at all times be most happy to publish anything of interest in this section, and to the people hereabouts who have friends in the army. What pertains to anybody from this county, to life in camp or on ship board, or that is descriptive of the country or the people where they are, will always be acceptable.

☞ A brick building, erected about fourteen years ago in Pittsfield, Mass., was crushed in on Tuesday afternoon by the weight of the snow upon the roof. It was occupied by some of the first class establishments of Western Massachusetts, and the amount of destroyed stock and goods of the occupants is estimated by thousands of dollars. The building has for a number of years been considered unsafe by some of the occupants. The building was probably two hundred feet long, perhaps more, and the roof for nearly the entire length was crushed in, and the side walls and also those on the north end were thrown down. It was at first supposed that some twenty or thirty were buried in the ruins, and the excitement at the time was sadly fearful. Mr. Sidney A. Wright, aged 33, and Miss Polly Barnes aged 70, were taken out dead. A large number were also injured very seriously, but only one case is likely to prove fatal, that of William Otis, an employe in the building.

☞ The rubber factory in Beverly, Mass., was burnt on Thursday morning. The loss is very large, and there is $60,000 insurance. One hundred and seventy-five hands are thrown out of employment. The factory has been running day and night for some time.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise, a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
The Latest Invention.

Patented June 25, 1861.

This Machine is an IMPROVEMENT OVER ALL OTHER WRINGING MACHINES YET INVENTED. It will wring a pocket handkerchief or a bed quilt dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME, and can be operated by a child twelve years old. It will save the cost of the machine in the wear of clothes, in any medium size family, in six months. It needs only to be seen in operation to substantiate the facts as stated above.

Any one wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery,—the money to be refunded if the Machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Housekeepers, try one by all means! Save TIME; save LABOR; save WEAR AND TEAR of clothes.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are
Orne's Patent
FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

A very simple and excellent article. The burners are so constructed as to purify the gas as it passes through them, and render it more brilliant and at the same time decrease its consumption.

These burners are furnished with
SCHWARZ'
PATENT SEATTITE or LAVA TIPS

Not liable to rust or corrode, unchangeable by heat or cold. They can be easily adjusted to consume as little gas per hour as is desired. Suitable for all places where light is wanted.

Price 50 cents each.

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

A very ingenious contrivance to increase light without increasing the consumption of gas—excellent for Stores, Halls, Churches, Factories or any place where a great light is wanted. The price is so low as to bring them into general use.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Please Call at No. 12 Market St.,
And examine the PATENT
UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,
THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!
Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing
FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

Morning Chronicle.

A RIDDLE FOR THE TIMES.

Gleaners in God's great field of truth,
I would come after like gentle Ruth;

Gather the sheaves ye have left behind,
Happy my simple wealth to bind;

And lay it down with a modest shame,
And go as silently as I came.

Be patient! Under the patient sun
The sweet fruits ripen, one by one.

Be patient; steadily, sand by sand,
The green earth grew in God's great hand.

Be patient; where now the oak is found,
Once slept an acorn underground.

Slowly the fruit swings ripe in the sun,
Slowly the great green earth is done.

And ere the acorn becomes an oak,
Seasons must shape it stroke on stroke.

Oh, my countrymen, leal and true,
Know ye the riddle I read to you?

Slowly the fruit swings ripe in the sun;
Slowly God's work on earth is done.

Slowly the great world grew and grew,
Slower the growth of the Good and True.

Slow climbs the oak from the acorn's shell;
Slower climbs Justice from the dark cell.

Oh, my countrymen, leal and true,
This is no riddle I read to you.

Let us be patient: in God's good time,
Justice and Mercy from Wrong shall climb.

Let us be patient, with perfect trust;
Truth is immortal, and God is just!

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (as fix the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, and in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Deeds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed in the most liberal and skillful manner. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages not possessed by any other establishment, the probability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them at other Agencies. Inventors below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE ONLY TEST OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and expressly assert, that his facilities and are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, together with the above library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proofs of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to see their orders are to be filled by a house employing no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and bowel complaints, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound has ever proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

HIS FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Ed. EDWIN BURNHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1206

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use.
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific. It is highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the Juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.
A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1862.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Thursday, Mr. Hale of N. H. reported the joint resolution of thanks to Commodore Goldsborough, officers and seamen, for gallant conduct at Roanoke Island,—and it was adopted.

An amendment was adopted to the bill relating to the pay of members of Congress, making the mileage 20 cents a mile instead of 10 cents.

The President transmitted the following message:—

I recommend the adoption of a joint resolution by your honorable bodies, which shall be substantially as follows:—

Resolved, That the United States ought to co-operate with any State which may adopt a gradual abolishment of slavery, giving to such State pecuniary aid, to be used by such State in its discretion to compensate for the inconvenience, public and private, produced by such a change of system.

If the proposition contained in the resolution does not meet the approval of Congress and the country there is the end; but, if it does command such approval, I deem it of importance that the States and people immediately interested, should be at once distinctly notified of the fact, so that they may begin to consider whether to accept or reject it. The Federal Government would find its highest interest in such a measure as one of the most efficient means of self preservation. The leaders of the existing insurrection entertain the hope that the Government will ultimately be forced to acknowledge the independence of some part of the disaffected region, and that all the slave States North of such parts will then say, the Union for which we have struggled being already gone, we now choose to go with the Southern section.

To deprive them of this hope substantially ends the rebellion, and the initiation of emancipation completely deprives them of it; and to all the States initiating it, the point is not that all the States tolerating slavery would vary soon, if at all, initiate emancipation, but that while the offer is equally made to all, the more Northern, shall by such initiation make it certain to the more Southern, that in no event will the former ever join the latter in their proposed Confederacy. Initiation, because, in my judgment, gradual and not sudden emancipation is better for all, in the mere financial or pecuniary view. Any member of Congress with the census tables and treasury reports before him can readily see for himself how very soon the current expenditures of this war would purchase, at a fair valuation, all the slaves in any named State. Such a position on the part of the General Government sets up no claim of a right by Federal authorites to interfere with slavery within State limits, referring as it does the the absolute control of the subject in each case to the State and its people immediately interested.

It is proposed as a matter of perfectly free choice with them. In the annual message last December, I thought fit to say the Union must be preserved, and hence all indispensible means must be employed. I said this nothastily but deliberately. War has been and continues to be an indispensible means to thisend. Practical acknowledgment of the national authority would render the war unnecessary, and it would at once cease. If, however, resistance continues the war must also continue, and it is impossible to foresee all the incidents which may attend and all the ruin which may follow it. Such as may seem indispensible or may obviously promise great efficiency towards ending the struggle, must and will come. The proposition now made, though an offer only, I hope it may be esteemed no offence to ask whether the pecuniary consideration rendered would not be of more value to the State and private persons concerned, than are the institutions and property in the present aspect of affairs. While it is true that the adoption of the proposed resolution would be merely initiatory and not within itself a practical measure, it is recommended in the hope that it would soon lead to important results.

In full view of my great responsibility to my God and my country, I earnestly beg the attention of Congress and the people to the subject.

THE HOMESTEAD BILL passed the House on Friday. It provides that on and after the 1st of next January, any person 21 years of age, who is a citizen, or who has declared his intention to be such, and who shall enter upon the land and cultivate it for five years, shall be entitled to 160 acres, upon the payment of Land Office fees and $10 to cover the expenses of survey. The same privilege is a corded to all men who have been in the military or naval service of the Government during the present war.

☞ The dwelling house of Mr. John Currier, Jr., in Amesbury, Mass., was entered on Monday night last, and a wallet containing over $200 stolen from a desk. Entrance was effected by drawing the staples from two doors, and the lock of the desk was also broken by the rogue. The money belonged to Mr. William F. Vining, Treasurer and Collector of the town, and a large portion of it was received by him that day in payment of taxes.

☞ The Michigan Democratic State Convention assembled at Detroit on Wednesday. Five hundred delegates were present. The proceedings were harmonious.—It was deemed inexpedient to make nominations for State officers at present. Resolutions were passed supporting the Government, hoping for the speedy extermination of abolitionism and secessionism.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror states that the Hibernians in Dover, intend celebrating St. Patrick's Day, the 17th, with a Parade, music by the Portsmouth Band; dinner and ball at the City Hall in the evening.

—— F. B. Pettingill and C. S. Sawyer, of Loudon, caught twenty-six deer, during the last two days of January, upon the Ungranted Land near Lincoln, this State.—This large haul of venison was accomplished with pocket knives and three dogs. This is the luckiest deer hunt recorded this year.

—— The term of the Supreme Judicial Court, which has continued in Manchester for about eight weeks adjourned on Thursday. There have been less than a dozen trials in all this time, the flowage and railroad cases occupying about one-half of the time. The American says, those who seek redress in law now a-days, must obtain a new tenure of life, or expect to die without knowing the result of the case.

—— Two men in Hinsdale are the possessors of family equipages very much alike. At an evening meeting, last week, the wife of one of them came out, and seeing her husband's team, as she supposed, standing near, she got in, the robes were tucked up, and off she started with the wrong man.—As the horse went in the wrong direction from her house, however, she discovered that all was not right, and an ejaculatory expression showed to the owner of the team that he had another man's wife, and the error was quickly rectified.

—— On Saturday last, the wife of John M. Stebbins, Esq., formerly of Hinsdale, but now a lawer of Springfield, Mass., was on a visit to her father's, Ex-Governor Haile in Hinsdale. While playing in the kitchen, Saturday, Willie, her eldest boy, aged 4 yrs fell into a pail of hot water, scalding him so badly that he died.

—— The salaries of the teachers in the public schools of Manchester have been reduced about $1500 in the aggregate.—The greatest reduction is in the salary of the teacher of the High School, who now receives $900: last year he had $1100.

☞ A respectable tradesman of Bordeaux was recently cheated by the following trick:—He had set a looking-glass outside the shop door for sale, when a fashionably-dressed man stopped to look at himself in it. As he stood thus occupied, with his walking-stick under his arm, a person passing behind came in contact with the stick, and drove it with such violence against the glass as to shiver it to atoms. The apparently innocent cause of this accident immediately offered to pay the value of the glass, which was 50f., and handed the tradesman a 1000f. note. After receiving the change he took his departure, and soon afterwards the tradesman made the unpleasant discovery that the note was a forged one.

☞ The New York Tribune says that the Navy Department has introduced an important change in regard to the enlistment of men in the naval service. Men of all rates have hitherto been shipped for three years. It is now optional whether they ship for three years or for the war.

☞ Blast furnace No. 3, of the Lackawanna Iron and Coal Company, at Scranton, Pa., made during the last four weeks the largest amount of iron ever produced in that length of time by a single furnace in the United States, and probably in the world; the yield of the last week amounting to 375 1-2 tuns.

☞ At Mill Spring a Tennessean from one of the rebel regiments managed to escape to our ranks. He took his stand among Fry's men, seized the gun of one who had fallen by his side, and fired forty rounds, killing the very man he most hated, one who pressed him into the rebel service.

☞ Postal communication is entirely reopened to Accomac and Northampton counties, Virginia. The Post Office Department is ready to establish, as soon as Congress gives authority, free delivery in cities, with uniform rates of postage for local and general letters.

☞ The Portland Price-current quotes Portland Kerosene illuminating oil as remaining steady at the recent reduced prices, viz: 35c per gal., (1000 gal. lots), 37c in 5 brl. lots, 38c per single brl.

☞ The Italian freemasons have just introduced an important innovation into the statutes of the society. There are now sister masons, venerables, and great mistresses.

☞ It being reported that there is much ungathered cotton on the coast of South Carolina, the Manchester Mirror suggests that a detachment of soldiers be sent out there for pick-it duty.

The Baltimore Sun says the Confederate Government follows Capt. Cuttle's advice, and whenever they find a piece of paper, they "make a note of it."

☞ Fifty dollars is the lowest price offered for an army substitute in Richmond, and in some instances $600 has been paid.

☞ Another ballet girl has been burned to death in Liverpool.

THE REBELLION.

Forty-nine of the rebel officers, taken at Fort Donelson, arrived at Fort Warren, Boston, on Thursday. One of them, a colonel, a fine looking looking man, 45 years of age, had his wife with him, she having overtaken him at Columbus, Ohio, and expressed her determination to accompany her husband even to the gallows.

The rebels are in full force at Winchester, Va., and have completed formidable earth works this side, mounting 60 guns, including field batteries. Smithfield, 7 miles southwest of Charlestown, Va., on the road to Winchester, was occupied by a strong Federal force, on Thursday. General Banks has issued a general order forbidding depredations or marauding upon the property of citizens. He says no officer or soldier shall disturb in any manner the ordinary business of the country.

A special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune from Cairo says the Federal pickets at Columbus, Ky., were driven in on Wednesday by the rebel cavalry. The woods in the vicinity of the town were shelled by the gunboats. The rebels fled. It is reported that heavy cannonading was heard at Columbus on Thursday morning in the direction of Madrid. The rebel army at that point numbers 40,000 men, they having been largely reinforced from Columbus and Memphis. They have also eight wooden gunboats.

Late rebel papers give the following items:—

The machinery from the various work shops in Nashville was removed, prior to the evacuation of that place, to Chatanooga. The people of the South are warmly urging and demanding Jeff. Davis to take the field. A bitter contest is going on at Memphis as to whether the town had better be burned on the approach of the Federal gunboats.

Steamer Mount Vernon, which has arrived at Fortress Monroe, reports that on Friday last, the steamer Mississippi, with troops and Gen. Butler on board, ran ashore on Frying Pan Shoal, staving a hole in her bows. She was hauled off by the Mount Vernon, and proceeded on Saturday afternoon. The Mississippi has water tight compartments, and probably reached Port Royal safely, where her troops can be disembarked and the damage repaired.—Her captain, named Fulton, is suspected of intentionally running her ashore. The vessel was placed in charge of one of the officers of the Mount Vernon, who will take her to her destination.

It is reported that the rebel forces near Washington, have been greatly increased within a few days, and it is rumored that Beauregard has returned to Manassas.

Mrs. William Norris and Mrs. Rogers, ladies occupying high social positions in Baltimore, were carried to Washington on Wednesday, and placed in prison on a charge of supplying the enemy with aid and giving them important information.—Both ladies have sons in the rebel army, and were prominently connected with an association in Baltimore for the manufacture of clothing for rebel soldiers.

Recent elections in Hardin and McNairy counties show the strength of the Union sentiment in Southern Tennessee,—large Union majorities having been given.—Lieut. Gwin, of gunboat Tyler, says the cry of the people is:—send us arms and a force sufficient to protect us in organizing, and we will drive the rebels out of Tennessee ourselves.

Gen. Bragg, with two regiments, has left Pensacola for Mobile, where an attack is expected.

Advices from the South state that Pres. Davis calls upon all the Governors of Confederate States for their entire militia force.

For the Chronicle.

PROSPECTS OF COMPROMISE.—Some persons have supposed that Mr. Crittenden's compromise which he proposed something more than a year ago, was a new thing.—But it was not. For the same thing for substance was moved as an amendment to the Oregon Admission bill by Mr. Douglas in 1847, carried through the Senate by 33 Yeas to 22 Nays, and then beaten in the House by the decisive vote of 121 Nays to 82 Yeas—only three Members from Free States voting for it. The Senate then receded by 29 to 25, and Oregon was organized as a Free Territory without any clog. What the Republicans were asked to do in 1861, was just what both Whigs and Democrats from the Free States had peremptorily, and all but unanimously, refused to do in 1847. And their refusal to go further in deference to Slavery than either Whigs or Democrats would do fourteen years before, was and is made a provocation and excuse for the Slavepower's Rebellion.

Bearing these things in mind, we may well ask ourselves whether it is likely that these same Free States will ever give any new guarantee or new strength to that power which made this war, which cut off $300,000,000 of Southern debt, and which will tax us for a century.

A congress, or a cabinet, may do something in the way of compromise—but the people of the Free States have their prejudices strengthened against slavery.

☞ It is stated that a noticeable feature in our foreign trade continues to be the large falling off in the importations of articles of luxury—in itself a good sign. It shows that the war, bad as it is, is having at least the happy effect of reforming our tastes, and substituting economical for extravagant habits. There is not a nation in the world which expends more in luxuries, especially in the matter of dress, than the American.

THE STAMP OF IMPRUDENCE.—The imprudent man carries postage stamps in his pocket-book, the prudent man never does—for he knows well enough that he can always borrow them of the man who has them. —Gloucester Telegraph.

English and Classical School.

The first term of this School will commence MONDAY, March 3.

The studies to be pursued embrace the Common and higher English branches, together with the languages.

The questionable system of uniting scholars of different tastes and talents in the same classes, will be discarded. Special attention given to individual progress.

Private classes in History, English Literature, Botany, etc., when desired.

Pupils received at all periods of the course. Tuition fees liberal.

A CHANGE.

Having disposed of my milk business from this date to my son CHARLES H. HAYES, I would hereby express my thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the past TWENTY YEARS; and would respectfully request a continuance of the same to my successor.

All Milk bills contracted since the first of January, 1862, will be settled by CHARLES H. HAYES.

CHARLES HAYES.

Portsmouth, March 1

Having purchased the milk business as above, I would announce to the present customers and all others who may wish to favor me with their patronage, that the business will be conducted as heretofore. Nothing but the purest article of NEW MILK will be sold. Every exertion will be made to insure its prompt delivery at the earliest possible hour.

Having retained the services of Mr. JOHN P. SWEETSER as Agent, all persons wishing to take Milk will please leave their orders with him, or at PLUMER'S Bakery, and they shall be promptly attended to.

Great pains will be taken to make the change satisfactory to all. CHARLES H. HAYES.

Portsmouth, March 1.

RICHARDS' NEW BOOT BLACKING.

This splendid compound is truly unrivaled in this or any other country for its shining quality and nutritious elements for leather, giving the boot an elegant yet black polish, quick and clean: an oil compound, rendering the leather soft and easy to the foot; strictly a leather preservative; will not dry in the box. Try it, Gentlemen, and you will be pleased with it.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Rev. D. B. Bradford, of Salmon Falls, will preach at the North Church to-morrow.

Rev. Joseph H. Allen, of Jamaica Plain, Mass., will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

Rev. Bishop Baker is expected to preach at the State Street Methodist Church to-morrow.

COMING FROM NEWFOUNDLAND.—Duprez & Green's original New Orleans and Metropolitan Burlesque Opera Troupe and Brass Band, consisting of a number of celebrated delineators of Ethiopian characters are to visit Portsmouth soon, and give two of their select and choice concerts at the Temple, on Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 10th and 11th, introducing all the latest gems of minstrelsy. The troupe are just returning from a very successful tour through Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, on their way to Boston; they will appear in this place at the above Hall for two nights only. For particulars see mammoth posters and programmes of the day. 1t

HARD-A-PORT.—Capt. Joseph Brooks of Chelsea (formerly of Portland) had a narrow escape on Monday morning last. When coming out of Mr. Green's stables with his horse and sleigh, the horse got frightened and run, upsetting the sleigh. Capt. B. though thrown out, held on to the reins, and managed, by bearing on one side of them only, to compel the horse to travel in a circle round the square, he (the Captain) being dragged, face upward, through the entire space on the snow. By perseverance the Captain conquered, and brought the animal to anchor. "That's the way," said he to the by-standers, "I always do when I get into trouble; I put my helm hard a-port."—Chelsea Telegraph.

Mr. Richard B. Kimball's "Undercurrents of Wall Street" is, in more ways than one, a very remarkable book. The author possesses a singular knowledge of human nature and portrays the workings of the brain and heart with consummate skill.—His story is true to nature throughout,—a most probable recounting of the events of many a merchant's life—while the characters introduced are real and life-like, such as are the people we daily meet, and not imaginary creations. It is impossible to read the book without being powerfully impressed by its truth to nature, and it is destined to attract a very large share of public attention. New York: G. P. Putnam. Boston: Brown & Taggard.

The first trial made of balloons to ascertain the movements of an enemy took place at the battle Fleurus, in 1794. It enabled Gen. Jourdan to ascertain the weak side of the Austrian position. In consequence of the success obtained at this battle four companies of aeronauts were organized, and finally an entire battalion. Bonaparte took with him to Egypt two companies of aeronauts and several balloons, but they rendered no service and were subsequently disbanded.

☞ Among the prizes captured by the Federal soldiers at Fort Donelson was a rifle said to be worth $1000. Its breech is inlaid with the finest gold. It belonged to a hotel keeper in Memphis, and was won by him at a horse race.

☞ A large number of bogus twenty cent Canada pieces have been put in circulation. The dies are excellent, and the workmanship cannot be well surpassed, but being much lighter than the genuine pieces, they are easily detected.

☞ Rev. Mr. Winton of Dayton, Ohio, while officiating at a burial service in that city, the other day, remarked that it was the three thousandth funeral he had attended in a ministerial capacity.

☞ The Senate Finance Committee has struck out $15,000,000 of the gunboat appropriation.

An ingenius mechanic advertises that he manufactures 'drums that cannot be beaten.'

☞ A Japanese Embassy is about to visit England, numbering sixty persons.

POPPING CORN.

And there they sat a-popping corn,
John Stiles and Susan Cutter;
John Stiles as stout as any ox,
And Susan fat as butter.

And there they sat and shelled the corn,
And raked and stirred the fire,
And talked of different kinds of ears,
And hitched their chairs up nigher.

Then Susan she the popper shook,
Then John he shook the popper,
Till both their faces grew as red
As sauce-pans make of copper.

And then they shelled and popped and ate,
And kinks of fun a-poking,
And he haw-hawed at her remarks,
And she laughed at his joking.

And still they popped, and still they ate,
(John's mouth was still a hopper,)
And stirred the fire, and sprinkled salt,
And shook and shook the popper.

The clock struck nine, the clock struck ten,
And still the corn kept popping;
It struck eleven and then struck twelve,
And still no signs of stopping.

And John he ate, and Sue she thought—
The corn did pop and patter,
Till John cried out, "the corn's afire!
Why Susan, what's the matter?"

Said she, "John Stiles, it's one o'clock;
You'll die of indigestion;
I'm sick of all this popping corn,
Why don't you pop the question?"

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance on doing the work.

The N. Y. Tribune says if you have a good article for sale, and it is something that everybody wants, then advertise it. This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-FOURTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief, consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $3.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

Also

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

NAVY YARD MATTERS.

The "Ossipee," second class steamer, was docked on Thursday to be coppered and receive her propeller and shaft. The "Reliance Company" of Mystic, Conn. have contracted to furnish her machinery, which will commence at once to put it on board.

The "Sacramento," screw sloop, in the ship house, is planked up and being calked, and will be ready for launching about the middle of April.

The "Conemough," side-wheel steamer, is progressing rapidly, and will be launched in about four weeks.

The "Sonoma," side-wheel steamer, will be ready for launching in about five weeks.

The "Mahaska," side-wheel steamer, is now receiving her machinery, and will be ready for her crew in about five weeks.

The "Sebago," side-wheel steamer, will be ready for her crew next week, and soon after ready for sea.

THE RALLY AT THE TEMPLE.

The meeting on Thursday evening was opened by a short address from Hon. W. H. Y Hackett, president of the evening, who introduced the Hon. Aaron H. Cragin.

Mr. Cragin, in a clear, logical, and eloquent manner, gave a history of the war, its causes, and anticipated results. He did not regard it as a war against slavery, but in defence of our Country and our Constitution. If in its results slavery receives its death blow, he would not be found among the mourners at its funeral. He regarded the election of Tuesday next, one of the most important to the country that has occurred for forty years. The election of BERRY will give strength to the Union—his defeat will create distrust in the patriotism of our State.

He was followed by Hon. Peter Sanborn, of Concord, who in a manner decidedly emphatic gave some startling truths, fully confirming the statements of Mr. Cragin.

CITY COUNCIL.—In the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, the committee to whom was referred the subject of raising the salary of the Street Commissioner reported, that under the existing circumstances it was inexpedient to raise the salary at the present time. Accepted. The resignation of the Street Commissioner was laid on the table.

Report of committee on rebuilding the bridewell, referred to committee on finance.

Communication from the High School Committee, relative to the "Haven Fund," was laid on the table.

Now that the danger of an immediate war with England has passed away, let us not be careless about our harbor fortifications. Now is the time to set them in order. The forts in Portsmouth harbor demand early attention.

FIRE.—The alarm on Friday forenoon was occasioned by fire in a barn occupied by Mr. John Fisher on Washington st. Damage slight.

ABSTRACT OF THE TAX BILL.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The following is an abstract of the tax bill reported to-day. It provides for the appointment by the President, of a Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with a salary of $5000 per annum, his office to be in the Treasury Department, with a suitable number of clerks. The country is to be divided, as the President may direct, into convenient collection districts, with an Assessor and Collector appointed by the President for each district, who shall have power to appoint such deputies as are necessary.

The bill provides a duty on spirituous liquors of 16 cents per gallon; ale and beer $1 per barrel; stem and leaf tobacco, 3 cents per pound, to add, when manufactured, 5 cents, and on segars, 5, 10 and 20 cents per pound, according to value; on lard and linseed oil, burning fluid and coal oil, 5 cents per gallon, refined coal oil 10 cents per gallon; gas per 1000 feet 25 cents; bank note paper 5 cents per pound; printing paper 3 mills per pound; soap five mills per pound; salt 4 cents per 100 pounds; sole leather one cent per pound; upper leather ½ cent per pound; flour 10 cents per barrel; all other manufactures 3 per cent. advalorem; on railroad passengers 2 mills per mile of travel; commutation tickets 3 per cent; steamboat travel 1 mill per mile; omnibuses, ferry-boats and horse railroads, 3 per cent. on gross receipts from passengers; advertisements five per cent. on amount of receipts annually; for the use of carriages annually from $1 to $10, according to value; gold watches $1½ silver watches 50 cts; gold plate 50, silver plate 3 cts. per oz.; billiard tables $20; on slaughtered cattle 50 cts each; hogs 10 cts. each; sheep 5 cts. each; licenses for brokers $100; auctioneers $20; wholesale dealers $50; retailers in liquors $20, in goods, $10; pawn brokers $50; rectifiers, $100; brewers $50; hotels, inns and taverns, graduated according to rental, from $5 to $200; eating houses, $10; commercial brokers, $50; other brokers, $20; theatres, $100; circuses, 50; bowling alleys, $25 each; billiey; wholesale pedlers, $50; other pedlers, from $5 to $20; coal oil distillers, $20; income, 3 per cent. on all over $600, deducting the income derived from dividends, etc., which are taxed separately; railroad bonds and dividends of banks and saving institutions, 3 per cent.; payment of all salaries of officers in the civil, military or naval service of the United States, including Senators and members of Congress, 3 per cent.; legacies and distributive shares of personal property of deceased persons, from 1 to 5 per cent., according to the degree of relationship; and stamp duties on all kinds of legal and commercial papers, all patent medicines, telegraph messages, and all goods by express.

A BRIGHT SPOT.—We do not, for ourselves, lay claim to any extra share of disinterested zeal or solicitude for the welfare of others, nor forget the old adage: "Misery loves company," the truth of which, we are sorry to say, in our observation and experience, seems too generally exemplified in the conduct of God's reasoning creatures toward each other; but we do claim that we have the right to rejoice with, and to congratulate the managers and the stockholders of "The Home Insurance Company," of this city, on its success and prosperity during the past year, and on its financial strength, as evidenced in its Abstract from the usual Annual Exhibit of its condition on the 1st day of January, as the same appears in the advertising columns of our present number. The assets of the company amounting to nearly one and a half millions of dollars, after making satisfactory dividends to the stockholders. Surely such success, the fruit, as we suppose it must be, of prudence and good management of the affairs of the institution, is worthy of this passing notice in such times as these.

We have secured one of the policies on our property, and only wish we were so fortunate as to hold a certificate for some of its stock.—New York Pathfinder.

IMMORTELLES.

A TRUE MAN.

Such was our friend. Formed on the good old plan—
A true and brave and downright honest man!
He blew no trumpet in the market-place,
Nor in the church, with hypocrite face,
Supplied with cant the lack of charity;
Loathing pretence, he did with cheerful will
What others talked of while their hands were still!
And while "Lord, Lord!" the pious tyrants cried,
Who, in the poor, their maker mocked and sinned,
His daily prayer, far better understood
In acts than words, was simply doing good.
So calm, so constant was his manly mind,
That by his loss alone we know its worth,
And feel how true a man has walked with us on earth! —Whittier.

THE GOOD PARSON.

The' holy in himself, and virtuous,
He still to sinful men was mild and piteous;
Not of reproach imperious or malign;
But in his teaching soothing and benign.
To draw them on to heaven by reason fair
And good example, was his daily care.
But if any were froward and obstinate,
Were he of lofty or of low estate,
Him would he sharply with reproof astound.
A better priest is nowhere to be found.
He cared not on pomp or power, or reverence,
Nor made himself a spiced conscience,
The love of Christ and his apostles twelve
He taught; but first, he practiced it himself.
Chaucer.

Be merry, man, and take not sair in mind
The wavering of this wretched world of sorrow:
To God be humble, to thy foes be gentle,
And with thy neighbour gladly lend and borrow;
He chance to night, it may be time to morrow;
Be lyrlie in heart for my aventure,
For oft with wise men it has been said aforwer,
Without gladness availes no Treasure.

Follow on pity, dee trouble and debate,
With famous folkes hold thy company;
Be charitable and hardy, be in thine estate,
For worldly honour lasteth but a cry,
For trouble in earth can take no melancholy;
Be rich in patience if thou be gentle poore;
Who lives merrily, he lives mightily;
Without gladness availes no treasure.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see 2d Vol. Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Canada, France, Belgium, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed in the most liberal manner, and on reasonable terms. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions. Also, legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, not enjoyed by the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. Inventors should bear in mind, from that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and no SUCCESS IS THIS DEPARTMENT OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove to any inventor, his unbiased fitness and the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration of the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such numerous and remarkable proofs of skill, by gaining on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and unadulterated Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no traveling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive prompt attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for pthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this method to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it."
Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD.
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use.
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial properties as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific. Highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture of manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.
A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.
WE REFER TO

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, MARCH 10, 1862.

For the Chronicle.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE, on Emancipation and Compensation, appears to have taken members of Congress by surprise, as they were not looking for anything of the kind.

The Boston Courier says of the proposition:

The Southern States would probably look upon it with some superciliousness; as they have no disposition whatever to emancipate their slaves at all. It is possible that some of the Border States might act upon it, for the purpose of rejecting the proposition; though we hardly think that even they would give it any consideration.

There is some truth in these statements: such lordly men as Mason, Wise, Floyd and Wigfall, are not likely to condescend so much as to consider a mudsill's proposition on such a vital topic.

The Courier adds:—

The abandonment of the subject, on the part of Northern politicians, can alone help to end the existing conflict; and any direct, purposed attempt to meddle with slavery, either now or at any future period, during the continuance of the struggle, would only embroil the country still further.

These statements of the Courier, as well as the President's resolution and message, go to show that there are real difficulties, many and great, in way of carrying out any half-and-half policy about slavery and freedom.

Before the rebels had made their coup d'etat to secure the slave empire of King Cotton, Northern politicians might have abandoned the subject, and let slavery have full sway. But they did not do it.—Mr. Douglas fought in the Senate against the Lecompton slave trap, and his friends at Charleston fought against the same thing in a worse shape. And now they cannot abandon it. The rebels will not let them.

When they make war on the rebellion, they run against "the subject,"—and when we come to conquer a peace, or to get it by compromise, "the subject" of slavery will be there, with its horns and hoofs; and tho' Northern politicians may try to dodge away from it, "our Southern brethren" will not let them.

The politician who tries to sit on two such stools as freedom and slavery will surely come to the ground: and he who tries to ignore the whole subject is like the ostrich, which when pursued, hides her head in the sand.

Just so long as slavery endures, in the United States, exactly so long it will make trouble for Northern politicians. *

For the Chronicle.

The N. Y. Tribune says it never printed a State paper with more satisfaction than it feels in giving the Special Message of President Lincoln to Congress, by which he recommends an emancipation resolve. The N. Y. Times in gingerly words questions the effect of the President's policy. The N. Y. World and Herald approve it.

The Boston Journal also bespeaks for it a careful consideration, and gives its approval of the design. The Boston Post says:

We read the President's Message to Congress with regret. We think the Government and the country have as much as they can manage in conducting the war and endeavoring to restore the Constitution and the Union. The States can control their own domestic affairs better than their neighbors can direct. If they desire to emancipate their slaves, they are the parties to initiate the measures necessary to that end.—We see no authority in the General Government to appropriate the funds of the Union for the especial benefit of the slave-holders, or any one class in any State; nor do we believe any interference of the kind, if it were duly authorized, would facilitate the end proposed. The immense taxation the war has rendered necessary is as great a pecuniary burden as the people in the loyal States are disposed to bear.

The Post sees the real difficulty in the case, viz. love of domination in the slave power,—and the supercilious contempt of labor and laborers by the cotton lords who will not brook interference.

The Post is right also, in another thing, viz. that the Government and country have as much as they can do, in conducting the war and restoring the Union. They have more than they can do, if they expect to restore slavery to its former position. South Carolina has made that impossible. *

☞ Mr. Weed writes from London to the Albany Evening Journal, under date of Feb. 7:—

"Mr. Mason has lodgings at Fenton's Hotel, where he is as little the subject of attention as any private gentleman could desire. He was visited by secessionists—and no one else. This marked neglect of the chivalry of Virginia, in the person of a Confederate Commissioner, is not without its significance."

REJECTED.—We understand that P. R. George, Quartermaster, and A. J. Butler, Commissary, of Gen. B. F. Butler's staff, have been rejected by the Senate. The nominations of Z. K. Pangborn as Paymaster, and of John Clark, formerly of the Courier, as Commissary, have also met the same fate.—Boston Journal.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Solomon Heath, of Bow, has a hen which lately laid an egg 8 1-2 inches in circumference one way, and 6 1-3 inches the other. Within it were two yolks, and another perfect egg, shell and all, not far from the usual size.

—— A son of Hon. Joseph Clough, of Canterbury, was killed at the siege of Fort Donelson. He had been several years a resident of Texas.

—— As it is becoming the custom of towns throughout the State to direct the publication of the Annual Reports of Selectmen and School Committees, the Concord Statesman recommends that town officers be authorized to close their reports with the 20th of February, in order that the books may be printed and delivered to the people before the March election. By making this the end of the fiscal year, more time will be obtained by the printers, while no detriment can come to the towns.—Will men who take an active part in town affairs see that this matter is set right?—The public and the printers will be benefited by a little change in this regard.

—— In Lebanon, on Tuesday, the roof of the covered railroad bridge was crushed in by the weight of the snow, and the night mail train, being without a head-light, ran into it. Singular to state the cow-catcher and the force of the train cleared the track of rubbish, and the train passed through with no damage except a pretty thorough raking of the engine, which did not, however, disable it. The train was delayed but a few minutes.

—— Lieut. Col. W. G. Veazey of Exeter, of the Vermont third Regt., has been appointed Provost Marshal of Gen. Smith's division on the Potomac.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate, Friday, Mr. Davis, of Kentucky, urged immediate action in the case of his colleague, Mr. Powell, who is accused of disloyalty.—If he is to be expelled from the Senate, the Legislature of Ky. wish to elect his successor before they adjourn, and not suffer a disloyal Governor to appoint his successor. The bill providing for the occupation and cultivation of the cotton lands in possession of the United States, was passed by a vote of 26 yeas to 16 nays. The bill provides for a Board of Receivers and Guardians to let the lands for a year or less for money, or on shares or cultivate them themselves, the lands to be laid off in lots of from 1000 to 3000 acres. A register of all indigent persons who come into the plantations to be employed at fifty cents a day and properly cared for; the money to be advanced to them for clothing and other necessaries. Hospitals are to be erected for the sick, and physicians provided by the Board.—The profits, if any, are to be placed to the credit of the Secretary of the Treasury, who will supply the funds, necessary to the experiment.

The House passed a resolution of inquiry in relation to the negroes at Fortress Monroe. The bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase coin for the use of the Government, was passed. Mr. Blair spoke at length to show Gen. Fremont's responsibility for the disasters at Springfield and Lexington. Mr. Colfax, of Ind., defended Gen. Fremont.

☞ At Woods Flat, Cal., a short time since, a bloody affray took place between William Congleton and David Sharp, growing out of the fact that the former, a married man, took a young lady to a ball, who was engaged to the latter. Sharp walked into the ball-room, and in the presence of the company grossly insulted Congleton, when the latter said: 'Sharp, if you want to see me, I will go to the bar room with you, for this is no place to quarrel.' On entering the bar room Sharp drew a revolver and fired; the ball struck Congleton, and he fell on his knees; but springing to his feet, he drew a large knife and made at Sharp, who again fired, the ball striking this time in the side. They now clinched, and as they did so, Sharp fired the third time, the ball grazing Congleton's cheek, while Congleton inflicted three stabs in Sharp's breast. Congleton started to go to his room, but fell before reaching there. Sharp bled to death in a few moments. Congleton was tried and discharged on the ground that it was done in self-defense.

☞ The King of Dahomey has declined to heed the efforts of the English Government to induce him to put a stop to the barbarous sacrifices of human life. He objects to foreign intervention, and thinks the "grand custom" of his royal and sable forefather is quite good enough for him.

☞ A man at Woodstock, New Brunswick, contracted to convey the British soldiers from that place to Canada at sixty-four dollars per head, and sub-let his contract to another person at twenty-four dollars per head, thus making forty dollars net on each soldier conveyed. The average number conveyed in January was fifteen a day. *

☞ Orders have been received at Augusta, Maine, from the War Department, for the Cavalry regiment to move immediately.

THE REBELLION.

A flag of truce from Norfolk to Fortress Monroe brought down the commandant of the French steamer. He represents great excitement at Norfolk. The people are in dread of the destruction of the city in case of an attack. The steamer Merrimac was lying near the Navy Yard, with a flag flying and crew aboard. She draws twenty-three feet of water, and was described as looking like the roof of a sunken house, with smoke-stack protruding from the water. A strong force was concentrating at Suffolk to check Burnside, who was reported to have occupied Winton in force, and moving on Suffolk.

The reason given by the rebels for not returning Corcoran is, that maps and drawings have been found concealed on his person.

The Richmond papers of Friday contain no military news, except the arrest of a number of Union men principally Germans. A detective broke into the room of the German Turners, and found two American flags, with a painting on the walls of the Goddess of Liberty, with Union colors and shields, with the motto underneath, "Hats off!" The paintings and flags were seized and confiscated.

The rebel House of Representatives have passed a resolution by a vote of 71 to 11, directing military commanders to destroy all the cotton and tobacco that is in danger of falling into our hands.

A dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., says the Federal troops have possession of Murfreesboro', and that Gen. A. Sydney Johnson has retreated to Decatur, Ala.

A special dispatch to the St. Louis Democrat says a gentleman who left Pope's command Thursday, states that the rebels at New Madrid, Mo., have between 5000 and 10,000 men, and four gunboats anchored off the town. It has been completely invested by our troops. Some skirmishing has ensued. Several of our men have been killed by shells thrown from the rebel gunboats.

It is reported that the rebels are fortifying Savannah on the Tennessee river.

A dispatch from Denver City says that by military express they had learned that a desperate and terrible battle, lasting all day, took place at Valverde, New Mexico, ten miles south of Fort Craig, Feb. 21st. The fight was probably renewed on the 22d. The loss is great on both sides. Both parties claim the victory. A regiment of New Mexicans ran away. Capt. McRae, who had charge of our artillery, and every one of his command, were killed at their post, and their cannon taken by the rebels. Kit Carson was within fifteen miles of Fort Craig, and firing was heard from his direction,—with what result was not ascertained when the messenger left.

Capt. Wilson, formerly of the Minnie Schiffer, who rescued the passengers of the steamer Connaught, and afterwards became a rebel, has been taken prisoner in attempting to run the blockade, and is at Key West.

☞ The Warrior, as a sea going craft, is as bad a failure as the Great Eastern. She has been ordered home from Gibraltar, to make good a host of defects caused by the bad weather she encountered during her voyage between Plymouth and Lisbon. It is asserted that the statement made some time ago with respect to her laboring heavily, and refusing to answer her helm, "was actually less than the truth."

☞ The Portland Advertiser says "Waldoboro' is the most patriotic town in Maine. Since 1854 she has received over $84,000 of government pap and contributions in aid of sufferers by fire. She has raised twelve soldiers for the war; of these three deserted to the rebel army, six were guilty of mutiny, and sentenced to Tortugas, leaving only three true to the flag. It was the banner Dana town at the last election."

☞ In his official report, Com. Lynch, of the rebel navy, states that at the close of the first day's fight at Roanoke Island he had not a pound of powder or a loaded shell remaining on his flag ship, and few of the other rebel vessels were better off. He says, too, that the Federal shells reached a greater distance than his own, which he attributes to superiority in the powder used by the Union vessels.

SALE OF COTTON.—At the last government sale of confiscated cotton in New York (154) the prices ranged from eighteen and one-half cents (the price paid per pound for one bale of inferior grade) to fifty-three cents The sale was by no means as satisfactory as either of the others.

☞ The Pennsylvania railroads have made a profit of eleven and a quarter millions of dollars during the past year. A large portion of it came from the conveyence of troops and supplies for the army.

☞ Bishop Andrews has postponed indefinitely the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which was to have met in New Orleans on the 1st inst.

Spare the rod, and you'll have no fish for dinner.

ACCIDENT.—On Friday forenoon, while a number of men were at work on the ruins of the old Eastern Exchange, (which was burnt two weeks ago) on Eastern Avenue, Boston, a portion of the wall fell, burying four of the laborers. One of the number, named Michael Sulivan, had one of his legs broken, and was otherwise injured. The three other men escaped serious injury.

☞ In the stables of the French Emperor there are at present four hundred and three horses, of which seventy are thoroughbreeds of the rarest kinds; one hundred and ninety-one, for the imperial carriages, of half-blood, and one hundred and thirty six hack horses. Altogether the state stables, exclusive of the cavalry and military studs, contain one thousand one hundred and fifty horses.

PERSONAL.—Charles Mackay, of England, the poet, arrived in the Canada Friday, and is stopping at the Parker House, Boston.

'FRANKLIN SCHOOL A MODEL SCHOOL.' —Messrs. Editors:—Having been present at the examination of the Franklin School on Friday last, under the instruction of Mr. C. A. Shannon, I was highly pleased with the good order and proficiency exhibited by the scholars in their prompt and correct answers to the questions asked them by their teacher. It showed to me his excellent qualifications for his office and its good effect in the advancement of his scholars. I have been conversant with this School many years, being often in years past one of their School Committee. It has had many good Teachers, one of whom is now teaching in the district, and others are near us; but the trouble, I think, has formerly been with the parents of scholars, they being often opposed to the teachers, and instilling into the minds of their children the same disposition. Committees in past years have been often called on to arrange such difficulties.

I think, as they have now a teacher of their own neighborhood, well qualified for his arduous duties, they should support him In a higher school and with teachers obtaining higher salaries, I have not seen better order nor greater improvement than in the Franklin School under its present instructor, who merits every commendation, as do the efficient School Committee for the faithful performance of their several duties.

AN OLD RESIDENT OF WARD 1.
March 8, 1862.

☞ A shed on Vaughan street, belonging to the Franklin House, was demolished on Saturday afternoon, by the pressure of snow on the roof. A carriage in the shed was crushed by the fall. The building was not very valuable.

☞ Rev. John Moore, of Lynn, Mass., will deliver the lecture before the Young Men's Lyceum, at Kittery, Me., this, Mon-Monday, Evening. Subject: Garibaldi.

MINSTRELSY TO-NIGHT.—Duprez and Green's Original New Orleans and Metropolitan Burlesque Opera Troupe are to make their bow this evening to a Portsmouth audience, at the Temple, after an absence of nearly two years. No doubt they will be received with a warm reception, as we have been almost destitute of Minstrelsy for the past five months, and our people feel quite hungry for something of this sort. Go early if you wish a choice seat, as we presume such will be in great demand to night. It

SATANIC PAPERS SUPPRESSED.—Under the direction of Chief of Police Amee, the Boston Police made a descent, about 8 o'clock Friday evening upon the offices of the Varieties and New England Police Gazette and the Sporting Life (two grossly immoral papers), and seized all the types, the forms, and the editions just published for distribution. The Varieties was published in Court Avenue, by Wm. Evans, and the Sporting Life by John Stetson, Jr., in Water street. The property confiscated at the former office made two cart loads.—Both these papers had been published two or three years, and had become an outrageous nuisance.—Boston Courier.

A RIDDLE.—A gentleman who was paying his addresses to a lady at, length summoned courage to ask if his suit was agreeable to her, and whether he might flatter himself with a chance of its ultimate success? The lady replied "Stripes;" telling the gentleman to transpose the letters of the word so as to form out of them her answer. The reader who can find the secret need never fear being non-plussed by a lady; those who cannot discover the puzzle must either wait until they can overcome the difficulty or give up all thoughts of successful wooing.

☞ The Tribune says that the parents of Jeff. Davis went from Black Rock district in North Killingworth, Connecticut, where he now has relatives residing. Also that the parents of A. H. Stephens went from the same place.

☞ A lump of placer gold having been found in the crop of a turkey killed in Honolulu, an investigation of the mountain is taking place to ascertain the existence of mines.

☞ At the request of the acting Governor of Missouri, it has been ordered that, at the next election in the State, every voter shall be required to take the oath of allegiance.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says 150 rebel soldiers recently deserted from Savannah to Gen. Sherman. When asked why they did so, they replied they were tired of fighting in a rich man's war.

☞ There is a young man in Portland so charged with electricity that he has only to rub his foot three or four times on a carpet in order to light the gas by the electric sparks from his finger.

☞ Now that a pretty stringent tax-bill has been reported, we notice quite a change of feeling in favor of confiscating the property of rebels to pay the expenses of the war.

☞ At the Gardiner, Me., Mills they use for paper stock, mummy rags. Recently a very ancient coin was discovered in one of the bales, which bears evidence of great antiquity.

The Northampton Courier says, that at a late wedding in an adjoining town, the bride who had just espoused her third husband, requested the guests to sing the hymn of which her first husband was 'so fond,' commencing 'Hark from the tombs.' Phancy the phelinks of the happy bridegroom.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

The N. Y. Tribune says if you have a good article for sale, and it is something that everybody wants, then advertise it. This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. Burr & Co. wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion; and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be ganged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,
Price 50 cents each.
Also
COLE'S COMET BURNER,
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

Vintage of 1857. Very fine favor, rich dark color, and will compare favorably with the best old Oporto Wines.

White Muscatel,

A rich and delicious wine, similar to, but much finer than, the Angelica.

Grape Brandy,

Vintage of 1857. Fine flavor, and pronounced by good judges to be equal to the Pure Hennessy and Otard.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE,

—OR—

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to ascertain the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent can be had by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not enjoyed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to Patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of journeying or sending to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who prefer Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

EMPOUND, or Liniment, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.
Ed. Elwyn Burnham."

PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably
SUPERSEDE ALL OTHER HAIR-BRUSHES

Whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it, pronounce it a complete success.

It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot possibly get out of order; is compact, elegant, durable, and will SAVE TWICE ITS OWN PRICE, within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

Please call and examine, buy and use them.—Sold at the Medicine Store of

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use.
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS,
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, penetrating and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO
a few well known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every item fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

"We believe the institution of Slavery is founded on both injustice and bad policy; but that the promulgation of Abolition doctrines, tends rather to increase than abate its evils."—President Lincoln.

TUESDAY, MARCH 11, 1862.

THE ELECTION.

The choice of State, District and County officers for New Hampshire, is to be made to-day, from the following three tickets nominated.

REPUBLICAN UNION TICKET.

Nathaniel S. Berry, Governor.
Dixi Crosby, Railroad Commissioner,
Richard B. Tenney, Councillor,
William H. Y. Hacket, Senator,
Alonzo J. Fogg, Register of Deeds,
Samuel A. Haley, Treasurer,
John Hodgdon 2d, County Commissioner.

DEMOCRATIC REPUBLICAN TICKET.

George Stark, Governor,
James S. Cheney, Railroad Commissioner,
George A. Pillsbury, Councillor,
Thomas G. Furber, Senator,
Gilman B Hoyt, Register of Deeds,
Bard P. Roberts, Treasurer,
Samuel Hobbs, County Commissioner.

UNION TICKET.

Paul J. Wheeler, Governor.
Josephus Baldwin, Railroad Commissioner.
George A. Pillsbury, Councillor.
William B. Small, Senator.
Alonzo J. Fogg, Register of Deeds.
Samuel A. Haley, Treasurer.
John Hodgdon 2d, County Commissioner.

While we think the Republicans have considerable "reason for the faith which is in them," of re-electing their ticket in the main; we have no other interest or wish in the matter, except to hope that the best man and the best cause may win. The candidates are all good men, so far as we know them; and we have no doubt will do what they deem best for their State and country, whether elected or not. And we are not among those who believe or fear that the world will cease to move on account of the success or defeat of any or every "party." And while we go in for the largest liberty of thought and action for all, we wish there was less intolerance each for the other, among those who differ in opinion, in prejudice, or principle.

"Hurrah, hurrah, keep the motion,
Every man to his own notion."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A Washington correspondent of the Concord Statesman, thus refers to the Second N. H. Regiment, and its commander, Col. Gilman Marston, of Exeter:—

Col. Marston left here on Friday last to join his regiment, with the confident hope of speedily seeing active service. That is truly a noble regiment, and, I can add with great emphasis, likewise under noble leadership. Since it marched over the avenue to Bull Run I have come to know the commander of that body of men very well, and his men also have learned to love and honor him as few commanders are loved and honored. Col. Marston is with his regiment and their work, with all his heart. I have seen no officer during these troubles more so; and I suppose there are very few men in the service better informed in the profession of arms, especially in the department of guns and gunnery. My prayers shall mingle with those of ten thousand others that a success commensurate with its conspicuous merits may crown this regiment, when the conflict comes.

The health of the Fifth Regiment is very much improving. The measles is a terrible scourge to a camp; worse than the small pox in an aggravated form. It leaves the system so open to the encroachments of almost every other disease, is what makes it so fatal in soldier's life.

—— In Manchester, the Mirror states, the election of various city officers by the Board of Aldermen and Common Councilmen is usually accomplished by nominations made by a special committee of both branches. These nominations are generally conclusive, and by agreement one member casts a ballot in the name of the whole, to save time.

☞ In Brownville, Me., on Sunday evening, 2d inst., Benjamin Gifford got into a quarrel with his wife, when her brother interfered. Gifford then seized a double-barreled gun and fired at him. The ball grazed the young man's shoulders, and passed through the head of Gifford's child, a boy about three years old. The murderer was secured and placed in confinement.

☞ Queen Victoria has graciously signified her approval of an obelisk to be erected in Hyde Park to the memory of Prince Albert. The memorial fund will pay the expenses, and the Queen, in a letter to the Lady Mayoress, said she could contribute as a sovereign, if not as a wife, to the tribute to one whose every thought was for England's good.

THE REBELLION.

A special dispatch to the Chicago Times says that thirty cannon have been found at Columbus, which had been thrown away by the rebels in evacuating the place.

Col. Geary has taken Leesburg, Va., and driven Gen. Hill with his rebel command from the town and surrounding forts. The stars and stripes now wave over all. Gen. Hill's army fell back towards Middleburg. The command took many prisoners and stores, and are in possession of the Banks, Post office, and public buildings. Forts Beauregard and Evans were also taken.

ATTACK ON OUR FLEET IN HAMPTON ROADS.

While many deceived themselves with the idea that the rebel steamer Merrimac was a failure, she has come out of her lair run down our sloop-of-war Cumberland, captured and destroyed the sailing frigate Congress, and driven the steam frigate Minnesota aground. This was on Saturday.—The Merrimac, accompanied by the iron-clad steamers Yorktown and Jamestown, came down slowly, and made directly for the frigate Congress and the Cumberland. Nothing of her was to be seen above the water except a short smoke stack and a flag staff, flying the rebel flag. Both of our vessels, at a distance of 100 yards, rained full broadsides on the iron-clad monster, but the balls struck and glanced off, having no more effect than peas from a pop gun. After receiving the broadside of the two frigates, she ran into the Cumberland, striking her about midships, and literally laying open her sides. She then drew off, fired a broadside into the disabled ship, and again dashed against her with her iron clad prow, and knocking in her side left her to sink, while she engaged the Congress, which lay about a quarter of a mile distant.

A dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune from Fortress Monroe, states that the Cumberland had a crew of 500 men, nearly half of whom went down with the frigate, but a negro states that some of the crew who swam ashore give the number of her loss at 100.

The Congress in the meautime kept up a sharp engagement with the Yorktown and Jamestown, but having no regular crew on board of her, and seeing the hopelessness of resisting the iron-clad steamer, at length struck her colors. The Jamestown then approached and took from on board all her officers as prisoners, but allowed the crews to escape in boats. The vessel being thus cleared was fired by the rebels.

The rebel vessels then opened with shot and shell on Newport News batteries, which briskly returned the fire. In the meantime the steam frigate Minnesota and the frigate St. Lawrence went to the assistance of our vessels. The approach of night, and the fact of some of our vessels getting aground, (the Merrimac, also, it is thought) put an end to the fight. The Ericsson iron-clad battery "Monitor" arrived at Hampton Roads on Saturday night, and Sunday morning went up to the protection of the Minnesota. On the approach of the Merrimac, supported as on Saturday by two other steamers, she was engaged by the Monitor in a desperate close contest. The two rebel steamers retired early in the engagement. The two iron-clad steamers fought for four hours, part of the time touching each other, and at last the Merrimac was driven back to Norfolk in a sinking condition. She was towed by the Jamestown, Yorktown and several smaller boats, towards Norfolk.

The arrival of the Monitor on Saturday night was truly providential; and it is a fortunate coincidence that the telegraph was completed Sunday to Fortress Monroe so that the news of Sunday's victory comes to mitigate the mortification over Saturday's disaster.

The Monitor, our first iron-clad steamer, is a floating steam battery, carrying two columbiads of the largest pattern, (180 pound balls of wrought iron,) in a revolving turret. She was built by Ericsson, the well-known engineer; was not to be accepted by Government until she had proved herself successful. She was under the command of Lieut. John L. Worden, who was made a prisoner at Pensacola at the beginning of the rebellion, and was only recently exchanged.

The Merrimac, originally one of our first-class steam-frigates, of 40 guns and 3200 tons, and built at Charlestown in 1855, fell into the hands of the rebels at the abandonment of the Norfolk Navy Yard, and has been made over into the engine of torment which has now raised so much confusion. The destroyed sloop Cumberland, 24 guns, 1726 tons, was originally a frigate, and was built at Charlestown in 1842. The frigate Congress, also destroyed, 50 guns, 1867 tons, was built at Portsmouth in 1841. The Minnesota is a first-class steam frigate, of the same pattern as the original Merrimac and built about the same time. She is under the command of Capt. G. J. VanBrunt, a gallant officer, who would have been glad to have had the opportunity to board the Merrimac, which the latter was careful not to give. The Minnesota was not afloat Sunday.

THE REBELLION.

A rebel dispatch says our forces had landed on Cumberland Island and sent forward a detachment to occupy the town of Fernandina, Fla. Most of the citizens abandoned the place some weeks ago, and the military was withdrawn from Amelia Island on which Fernandina is situated, about ten days since.

The Washington Intelligencer publishes a rumor that the rebels are evacuating Manassas.

The rebels are reported in strong numbers at New Madrid, and have been endeavoring to drive away our forces by throwing shells from their gunboats. Large gangs of negroes are at work on Forts Randolph and Pillow: the former mounts 100 guns, and on these forts the rebels rely for the defence of Memphis, where there are said to be a few rebel troops. The rebel legislature has scattered after several ineffectual attempts to transact business.

It is currently reported that Winchester, Va., was evacuated by the rebels on Monday. A Washington dispatch says it is believed that the rebel army is retreating from Centreville and Manassas.

Dispatches from Com. Dupont announce the capture of Fernandina, Fla., and Brunswick, Ga., by our forces. From both places the rebels fled on approach of our gunboats. This gives us control of all the coast of Georgia, from South Carolina to Florida.

☞ Gibraltar advices of the 18th ult. state that the pirate Sumter is still there.—No signs of her departure. The U. S. steamer Tuscarora was in Spanish waters off Algesiras.

A Madrid telegram of the 25th, says the captain of the Sumter had been arrested at Tangiers, at the instance of the American Consul at Gibraltar, and the commander of the Tuscarora, who went to Tangiers for that purpose. It was reported that the Sumter appeared off Byores, South France, Feb. 10.

The Tax Bill reported to Congress is extensive enough to cover almost everything produced in the country, and will give all classes the opportunity of contributing liberally to pay the war debt and the interest thereon; and we presume this will be pleasant—that everybody desires to pay—to enjoy the luxury of bleeding for their country, if they cannot have the privilege of dying for it. It was evident before the war, and since hostilities commenced, that most of our newspapers desired nothing so much as to contribute their part, and we are glad to see that it is to be no small part. We shall have it on paper, on advertisements and in various other ways. The Tribune thinks it will amount to $25,000 annually on their establishment, and all others will have as much in proportion. If the churches are taxed as much—and we think the newspapers and churches should be privileged in paying most largely—there will be a great revenue derived from these two sources; but we are afraid church property and incomes will be exempt. If the newspapers and churches were properly taxed, and then all property of rebels in arms or advocating treason confiscated, we should reach the three grand points, and the burden to the rest of the country would be light.—Herald

MODERN DEFINITIONS.—Oversight—To leave your old umbrella in a newsroom and carry away a new one.

Unfortunate Man—One born with a conscience.

Rigid justice—A juror on a murder case fast asleep.

Credit—A wise provision by which constables and sheriffs get a living.

Love—An ingredient used in romance and poetry.

Religion—Damning your neighbor for not thinking exactly as you do.

MR. MASON IN PARLIAMENT.—The person who attracted most attention was the Southern Commissioner, Mr. Mason, who had a seat in one of the side galleries. Singularly enough, his next neighbor was a negro of the deepest dye, one of the Haytian Embassy. Necessity brings people into strange companionship; and the author of the Fugitive Slave law and the most thorough-going supporter of the institution under other circumstances, would certainly have been terribly "rifled" at the box-keeper who had ushered him into such company.—Cor. Manchester Weekly Express & Review.

☞ Our friend Tenney, of the Brunswick, Me., Telegraph, thus tells the story of the horse that went to bed:—

A few days since, a horse broke from a sleigh, throwing out a gentleman and two ladies; he dashed down the road, towards the village—ran against the sleigh of Mr. Jacobs—tore off the top—upsetting Mr. Jacobs and lady with him; as he approached the house of Mr. John Merryman he made for an open door, plunged in through the entry to the kitchen; here a man was seated at a table; seizing the horse, he leaped from his chair—and the animal sprang over it, and dashed into a bed-room, bringing up against the partition, and falling upon the bed, where he was captured lying flat; but before he was removed, there was a mass generally, and he pretty effectually kicked the feather bed to pieces.

A NOTEWORTHY FACT.—The Louisville Journal remarks:

"We understand that not the slightest injury has been done to any of the officers or editors of the bitter and ferocious rebel newspapers in Nashville or Clarksville.—Does any one suppose that such forbearance would have been shown towards the loyal papers and editors of Louisville, if Buckner had got possession of this city?"

☞ A Richmond correspondent of the Charleston Courier throws considerable light upon the whiskey question in Virginia. He says that "within six months two hundred additional distilleries have been established in Virginia, and that they are buying up all the corn, their profits being so enormous that they can afford to pay the highest price for it." He next describes the peculiar virtues of this corn whiskey upon the human system:—"It carbonizes (or burns into a crust) the mucous membrane of the windpipe, sets the brain on fire, and sends a cold tremor through the system."—A soldier taking half a dozen nips is drunk for a week, and a second or third repetition of this experiment "drives the breath out of his body."

THE NEXT POPE, it is rumored, will be an Irish-American citizen, Archbishop Hughes. Pope Pius IX is now more than three score and ten years old, and in very infirm health; and it is reported very currently in Paris that his preference is for Archbishop Hughes as his successor, and that Louis Napoleon's preferences are the same. If Archbishop Hughes should eventually become the head of the Church, we believe it would be a fortunate day for the world; and especially would America be benefitted in having so strong a friend and so ardent an admirer of democratic institutions filling so important a place, while much might be hoped from his influence for the peace and progress of Europe.—Herald.

☞ The rebels call our armies "Feds;" the Louisville Democrat supposes in contradistinction to their own starvation.

Local.

POLICE COURT, Saturday.—Howard Chase, for an assault on Joseph H. Avery, was fined $5, and costs $10 44. The defendant in this case is a teacher of a school in Newington, and the plaintiff one of his scholars. A few days since, as we understand the circumstances of the case, a person called at the school to see the plaintiff, and he asked permission to go to the door; being refused, he attemped to go without such permission, and the teacher having punished him for this disobedience, he brought action, with the above result.

John Leavey, for an assault on Joshua Rainsbottam was fined $5, and costs $4.80.

James Duvall, for drunkenness, fined $5, and costs $4.03.

Daniel Leary, for same, fined $3 and costs $3.86.

☞ Carpenter William M. Laighton, of this city, and Gunner Eugene Mack, who is well known to many of our citizens, were stationed upon the U. S. Sloop Cumberland, which has been destroyed by the Merrimac.

We are pleased to learn that a dispatch was received in this city on Monday afternoon, announcing that Mr. Laighton was safe.

☞ Civil Engineer B. F. Chandler, of the Portsmouth, N. H., Naval Station, has been ordered to Washington on special duty, and left this city in the Monday evening train.

☞ CLEANING THE STREETS.—We are glad to see that a large number of men are employed in cleaning away the snow and ice from the thoroughfares of the city, under the supervision of the Street Commissioner.

☞ Duprez & Greene's Burlesque Opera Troupe gave a grand concert at the Temple last night, and this evening are to make their last appearance in this city.—Go early if you wish to see how the inside of the hall looks.

A TREAT IN STORE.—We are pleased to learn that the eloquent and popular orator, Fred. Douglas, is expected to lecture in Portsmouth, at the Temple, on Saturday evening next. 1t

☞ See advertisements of sale of parts of Schooners, by auction, to-day; and of Steam Tug Wasp, next week.

☞ In a circular entitled "protection against lightning," published some years ago by E. Merriam, Esq., to whom we are indebted for a copy, we find the following statement in relation to lightning rods upon churches, which may throw some light upon the question which has been raised in relation to the protection afforded by the rods upon the Congregational Church at Kittery Point, Maine, recently struck by lightning.

Meeting-houses with high steeples require a different conductor from other buildings. It is frequently the case that the spire is strengthened by an iron spindle run through the top of the spire, upon which a wind vane is affixed. A small rod on such a spire will be useless; the lightning will take the spindle and descend to the bell, if there is such a fixture, and if there is no conductor between the belfry and the ground, it may pass through the building. I would have two or more rods, with points, under the bell, to carry the lightning to and into the ground. The end or ends of the building should be each furnished with rods.

☞ A Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune states that Acting Master's Mate J. R. Craig of the Constellation, at Portsmouth, N. H., has been dismissed the service for drunkenness.

☞ The search for the frigate Vermont has thus far proved fruitless: it is thought by some that after being disabled she succeeded in arranging some sort of a steering apparatus and sailed for Port Royal.

The San Jacinto has returned to Charlestown Navy Yard, and will sail to-day (Tuesday) for the South.

☞ Nothing is easier or more common than to grumble, we know; and it is less difficult to stay at home and plan war, than to go out and fight. But on Saturday the news from Norfolk was that the Merrimac had her crew aboard and flag flying—and it does seem as if our fleet should have been better prepared for her, than to allow the terrible naval disaster which occurred.

THE PRESIDENCY OF HARVARD COLLEGE.—The names most prominent from which to select a successor of President Felton, are Mr. Hill, President of Antioch College, Robert C. Winthrop and Caleb Cushing, with the chances in favor of the first named.

☞ The people of Augusta, Maine, voted on Monday, upon the question of abolishing the "Common Council" in their City Government. All the functions of the City Government would then be performed by the Mayor and Aldermen. It has been difficult to obtain a quorum at the meetings of the Common Council.

A good man is kinder to his enemies than a bad man to his friends.

☞ An order has been issued by the Navy department to the effect that no Acting Masters, or Master's Mates, shall receive their appointment until they have passed a most satisfactory examination in seamanship, gunnery, &c.

☞ It is stated by the St. John Courier that the population of New Brunswick now exceeds 252,000, being an increase, compared with the last census, of over 30 per cent. The Roman Catholics number 85,000, being more than one third of the entire population.

☞ Preble, who has been confined in the Maine State Prison for several years, for wife murder, died about two weeks since. He was the father of Preble who murdered his wife in Auburn, last summer. Father and son in prison at the same time, for the same great crime.

☞ The Richmond Dispatch publishes a letter from Mr. C. J. Faulkner, stating that the report in the Northern papers that he had made a speech in favor of the Union is "an audacious imposture and fraud." He utterly disclaims any such speech or opinions.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

The N. Y. Tribune says if you have a good article for sale, and it is something that everybody wants, then advertise it. This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its self-adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be ganged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

Also

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

The Chronicle.

A LOVE CASE IN PARIS.—In Paris a young man who had become deeply in love with an interesting lady, Mademoselle Julie R., asked her hand in marriage, but was rejected. At last becoming convinced that there was no hope for him, he repaired to her house, and after bearing from her lips a firm rejection of his offer, drew a pistol from his breast and shot himself through the head. He fell at her feet a mangled corpse. Terror so completely took possession of her at the sight, that she remained transfixed to the spot like a statue, utterly insensible, and her body perfectly rigid.—Physicians came, but care and science could do nothing. In half an hour, however, an uncontrollable, violent paroxysm of tears and sobs relieved the poor girl. The next day, while she, surrounded by her family, was working quietly in another parlor, she was seized at the same time of the day the first fit fell upon her, with a second fit. Every day this disagreeable phenomenon was renewed, and the physicians declared they could do nothing for its relief, time being the only physician which could alleviate it. Mademoiselle Julie R. was fond of birds, she had a large cage full of them hung above a window in the court yard.—She was so busily engaged feeding them one Saturday that she forgot all about her daily paroxysm, which overtook her while she was in a chair feeding the birds, and necessarily leaning out of the window.—She fell out of the window the height of several stories, upon the stone pavement of the court yard, and when taken up was found to be fatally mangled.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE,

—OR—

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER.—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of JAMES F. SHORES, Jr., No. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK, who will receive subscriptions for the same.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed in the most reasonable and speedy manner. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for procuring Patents, not necessarily the superior ability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no Agency of the kind asks the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

Then, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors o apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 2, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I with by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.
Ed. EDWIN BURNHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or bottles of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to Dr. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 13ow

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is a most convenient TOILET ARTICLE, ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably
SUPERSEDE ALL OTHER HAIR-BRUSHES

Whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men, who have examined it, pronounce it a complete success.

It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot possibly get out of order; is compact, elegant, durable, and WILL SAVE TWICE ITS OWN PRICE, within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

Please call and examine, buy and use them.—Sold at the Medicine Store of

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD.
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use.
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, and in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors; and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO
a few well known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine.

THE REBELLION.

Maj. Gen. Halleck on Monday sent the following dispatch to Gen. McClellan:—

"The army of the Southwest, under Gen. Curtis, after 3 days' hard fighting, has gained a most glorious victory over the combined forces of Van Dorn, McCulloch, Price and McIntosh. Our loss in killed and wounded is estimated at 1000. That of the enemy is still larger. Guns, flags, provisions, &c., were captured in large quantities. Our cavalry are in pursuit of the flying enemy.

Dispatches from Washington confidently assert that the rebel force has fallen back from Centreville, Winchester, and the lower Potomac. A dispatch from Charlestown, Va., says:—"It is now ascertained beyond a doubt, that Winchester has been evacuated by the rebels. All the prominent places between here and Winchester are occupied by our troops."

Manassas has been evacuated by the rebels, and our forces have taken peaceful possession. Our troops occupied Centreville and Fairfax Court House on Monday night. The Light Cavalry had been sent in pursuit to harrass and track the rebel retreat. It is supposed to be their design to fall back first upon Fredericksburg and then upon Richmond. They evacuated Fairfax on Sunday night, leaving behind tents standing, and other property in large quantity.

There was a fight at Sangster's Station, Monday, between Gen. Kearney's brigade, and an equal number of rebel regiments. The latter were driven back. Several were killed on each side, and thirteen rebels captured.

All the fortifications at Manassas were abandoned, and everything possible burned. The rebels encamped back of and below Occoquan retreated on Saturday, destroying everything they could not carry on their backs. Union troops took possession on Tuesday.

Two Union men, who escaped from New Orleans Feb. 26th, say the approaches to the city to the South are pretty well defended: on the north the fortifications run back to Carrollton. The only persons in the city not regularly enlisted are Jews. The city, they say, is full of secret Union clubs; at least 11,000 persons belong to these clubs. The Memphis Appeal advocates the burning of the city as a last resort, but the Mayor has ordered that any persons detected in setting fire to houses should be immediately hung. Gen. Beauregard has gone to take command at Island No. 10. Many transports were lying at the foot of the Island to take off the troops in case of defeat.

The quantity of railroad iron down South renders the apprehension reasonable that more "Merrimacs" will be floating out. It is the government's duty to prepare for them, by having something equally serviceable. It is to be regretted that neither the government, nor, in fact, any one else, foresaw the necessity of mail-clad vessels on our sea coast earlier in the war.—Boston Post.

The Boston Traveller has urged it repeatedly, from the day the war begun.—"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

☞ The schooner J. W. Chapman arrived at New York Monday night, and reports having laid by the U. S. frigate Vermont for five days, rendering such assistance as was in her power. She left the Vermont March 6, in latitude 38 45, longitude 63 08. The ship was then drifting S. S. E. half East, about two knots per hour, being still at the mercy of the winds and sea, and entirely helpless. Her rudder and sails were gone. She required the immediate assistance of steamers.

There is a large representation of the Scotch element in our army, judging from the names of some of the prominent officers; McClellan, McDowell, McClernand, McLean, McCook, McArthur, Cameron, Callom, Hamilton, Wallace, Burnside, Cochrane, Ord, Logan, and others.—Scott, too, is a Scotch name, and though Gen. Scott is not in the army, his spirit is with it, and he in a certain sense may be said to lead all the forces of the Union.

TAXES.

THE NEW TAX BILL.—One of the most objectionable features of the bill is the way in which the tax is to be collected, viz: by tax gatherers appointed by the President. This will give the President power to appoint a host of hungry applicants to office. These tax gatherers will have to be paid by the people for their services, to say nothing about what they will steal, or the some way defraud the Government and the people of.

Why the State authorities cannot collect the taxes as well as the officers of the General Government, is more than we can tell, unless it is desirable to bleed the people to support a set of lazy officials, in order to reward them for party services.

The way they intend to put it on to the newspapers is a caution to us poor devils who are making a tremendous effort to obtain three meals per day, a place to sleep, means to pay our washer woman punctually—and to indulge in an occasional ride out of town behind a horse that goes his mile inside of 8 minutes. They have put a tax upon the advertising patronage of 5 per cent.; 3 mills per pound upon paper; a tax upon telegraphic messages; a tax upon the gas which lights up the newspaper office;—and so on to the end of the chapter; including, also, 3 per cent. upon income. We suppose that what is left, after the Government gets through, will be taken by the City and State authorities; or perhaps they will take the machine and run it for the benefit of Government and put the proprietor into the Army to fight for twelve dollars a month to obtain a living for himself and family.

This arrangement, taken as a whole, and looking at it in all its aspects, is a big thing—on ice—and is most beautiful to contemplate. It offers great inducements to those out of employ, with "a large capital," to engage in the business at once. They can run through their pile tolerably quick.

So far as we have been able to ascertain, nothing has escaped taxation, if we except babies and their linen. Wet nurses not allowed, unless in extra cases, to be decided by the Congressional Committee on the War. The color of the flag held out by the parient—red excepted—will have a great influence with the Committee in deciding the matter. Nothing is said about sleds used by boys to coast with; nor cats, which are merely pets; canary birds are also exempted, and the seeds to feed the same.

All these things are well calculated to create an intense admiration for the war, and to raise our patriotism to a high pitch—as we go marching on. We shall immediately dispose of what few traps we have got, come down to fish balls and brown bread, and give up lunch. It is hard, but then our duty to our country and to the economy race requires us to make the sacrifice. So here goes! Hurrah for the Republican party and the men who are to improve the condition of the people, if the voters will only put the Democrats out and the Republicans in. Where is Fremont? where is Cameron? and where, oh, where, is Morgan? —Herald.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO "BOB," THE FIREMEN'S DOG.—This most useful dog to the firemen of the London Brigade, like all its predecessors, has been run over by an engine whilst proceeding to a fire, and killed. The animal was in the habit whenever the fire-bell at the station rang to "make ready" to start, to run in front of the engine to clear the way, and when he got to a fire he would run up ladders, force his way through windows, and enter jeopardised rooms more quickly than the firemen could.—Some time ago, at the time of the explosion in the Westminster-road, "Bob" darted into the burning house, and was seen to leave with a cat in his mouth. At another fire in Lambeth, "Bob" attended, as usual, and the firemen were told that all the inmates had been saved, but the animal went to a side door and barked loudly, which attracted the notice of the brigade, who felt convinced that some one was in the passage, and upon opening the door a child was found in the passage nearly suffocated.—Last year the dog went through some of his extraordinary performances, such as showing how to pump the engine, at the annual meeting of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and was to have appeared at the same society's meeting on Monday, in order to show how dumb animals can be made obedient if treated kindly. The dog, on going to a fire on Saturday, was run over and killed. "Bob" used to wear a brass collar, on which was engraven,

"Stop me not, but let me jog,
For I am Bob, the London firemen's dog."

—London Field.

☞ Rev. Dr. Chapin, in his lecture on the 'People,' recommends that kavish contractors be "packed between their shoddy cloth and their tainted meats, and then carted off by contract."

☞ Seth S. Fairfield, Democrat, was elected Mayor of Biddeford, Me., on Monday, by 200 majority. The Democrats carried five out of seven wards.

RYE finely pulverized and used daily as a tooth-powder is said to stop caries, and promptly cure the small abscesses, which are formed on the gums.

THE UMBRELLA.

The rain came pouring from the clouds,
And pouring through the gutter,
While o'er the dripping, hurrying crowds,
Awnings did flap and flutter.
Fair Annie clung unto my arm,
And I'd just sense to tell her,
That she should never come to harm,
Beneath my good umbrella.

The wind and rain did both combine,
In turning round a corner,
To bring her cheek almost to mine!
It did, upon my honor.
She gave a little sudden start,
And said, "you careless fellor!"
My tongue apologized, but heart
Bless'd wind, rain and umbrella.

In life's sharp angles, wind and rain—
Its fair and sunny weather—
Our paths have not thus always lain,
Along its way together.
For I the moral courage lacked,
My depth of love to tell her,
Even with that rare occasion, backed
By rain, wind and umbrella.

Now she a farmer's meal prepares
Bless'd in her humble station,
While I am harnessed with the cares
That vex a mighty nation.
Yet I'd not have my wife infer,
(My stately Arabella,)
What memories thrill me, even with her,
Beneath the umbrella.

☞ The Boston Courier takes a very favorable view of President Lincoln's late Message, in favor of general emancipation, and closes thus:—

"The President's proposition is in our judgment, wise and timely now. It will be treated with derision at the extreme South—the ultraists of the North will change their present tone about it—but of its practical benefit towards the great object of restoring the Union we have had no doubt from the moment of its promulgation."

We hope it may prove to be beneficial, though extremists should denounce it: and it really appears plain, that if we cannot find constitution enough to kill the rebellion there will be found rebellion enough to kill the constitution.

The Union (of the Free States) seems stronger than ever; made so by the war: but the constitution, derided by the rebels, and having in itself no provisions for half the new cases that arise, is likely to be pushed aside by the current of events, which no man can control.

CONGRESS.—The U. S. Senate, on Monday, after the reception of petitions and resolutions, passed the bill providing for the payment of $60,000 to the King of Hanover, as idemnity, for relinquishing the Stadt dues. Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts offered a resolution, tending pecuniary aid to certain States, for purposes of emancipation. The resolution was laid over, for future consideration. The bill to organize the cavalry was amended by reducing to 30 the number of volunteer regiments authorized to be retained in service. Besides these 30 volunteer regiments of 12 companies each, the bill authorizes an increase of two companies to each of the five regular cavalry regiments, which will make the strength of that arm of the service about 44,000 men. The Senate also passed the new army rule, from the House, forbidding the return of fugitive slaves by any person in the military or naval service of the United States.

The House amended and passed a bill to regulate the sutler system in the army. Mr. Roscoe Conklin of New York asked leave to present a resolution in relation to the gradual abolition of slavery, as proposed by the President in his recent message.—The rules were suspended and the resolution received. A motion to postpone its consideration was debated until the adjournment.

IRON CLAD VESSELS.—Naval officers have long entertained a strong prejudice against iron-cased war ships, and it is, in part, through their influence that no more of them are now in the service of the country. Events have proved that Congress, in authorizing the building of such formidable vessels, have acted the part of wisdom. Let the Navy Department now take heed from the severe lesson taught the government by the rebels. It is time that the inventive and constructive genius of our country, in making vessels of war, should not be defeated by a want of intelligent appreciation at Washington.

☞ Dr. Charles Mackay, the popular song writer, after recently presiding at a meeting of secessionists in London, has come to the United States, to disseminate their principles and advocate their cause, as a correspondent of the London Illustrated News. He arrived in the last steamer, and on his passage through Boston to New York, expressed great surprise and evident dissatisfaction at having found Boston as quiet and apparently as prosperous, as when he left it five years since. He said he expected to behold mobs in our streets, and a total disorganization of society, and absence of all law and order.

☞ Mrs. James K. Polk has an elegant residence near Nashville, and the remains of her husband, once President of the United States are buried there. One of our Generals had a short interview the other day with Mrs. Polk, and although their meeting was pleasant as far as politeness could make it, no doubt remained of the lady's faith in the Southern cause. She took occasion to say that, although the people of the United States once made her husband President, the abolitionists did not do it.

☞ English Parliamentary proceedings have been enlivened by a challenge from O'Donoghue to Sir Robert Peel, for expressions made by the latter which the former considered personally offensive. The Palmerston government got scent of the affair and warned Peel against making himself a party to such a breach of privilege, and brought the affair to the notice of the House. The O'Donoghue apologized to the House, but made some sarcastic remarks in relation to Peel.

☞ The March number of the Working Farmer, published by Mapes & Lockwood, New York, is issued. We have already given our idea of the publication's high merits. The February number, on account of the great demand for it, ran short, but having reprinted it, the publishers are prepared to furnish any back numbers on application.

THE MONITOR,

which so wonderfully manifested her efficacy, in preserving our fleet from utter destruction at Fortress Monroe on Sunday, is a floating steam battery, carrying two columbiads of the largest pattern. Her keel was laid on the 20th of October. The following description of the vessel gives an idea of her invulnerability, and accounts for the little injury she received from the Merrimac:—

The hull is sharp at both ends, and instead of the gradual curve of a cutwater, the bow projects, and coming to a point at an angle of eighty degrees, the sides, instead of the ordinary bulge, incline at an angle of about fifty-one degrees to the vertical line. The hull is flat-bottomed, six feet six inches in depth, and built quite light of three-eigth inch iron. It is one hundred and twenty four feet long, and thirty-four feet wide at the top.

Resting on this is another, or upper hull, also flat bottomed, with perpendicular sides and pointed ends. It is forty-one feet and four inches wide, so that it juts over the lower hull on each side three feet and seven inches. It is one hundred and seventy-four feet long, thus extending twenty-five feet beyond the hull at each end. The sides are five feet high, and when in fighting order the lower hull will be entirely immersed and the upper one sunk three feet six inches, thus leaving but eighteen inches both fore and abaft above water, the battery drawing ten feet of water. The sides of this upper hull are composed of an inner guard of iron; outside of this is a strongly fastened wall of white oak, thirty inches thick, and covered with an iron armor six inches in thickness. The bottom of this vessel is joined to the hull, so that the interior is open to the bottom, as in a sloop.—The deck comes flush with the top of the upper hull, and is bomb proof. First is a frame of oak beams, ten inches square and twenty-six inches apart, covered with eight-inch plank, and protected with two layers of iron, each an inch thick. There is no railing or bulwark of any kind above the deck.

The ends of the upper vessel projecting over the hull, fore and abaft, serve as a protection to the propeller, rudder and anchor. The propeller is of course at the stern, and the equipoise rudder behind that, and they are so protected by the upper vessel that they cannot be struck by a ball. The anchor is in front, and is short but very heavy. It is hoisted by a chain running into the hold, up into a place fitted for it, outside of the lower hull, but within the impregnable walls of the upper hull. The inclination of the lower hull is such that a ball, to strike it in any part, must pass through at least twenty-five feet of water, and then strike an inclined iron surface, at an angle of about ten degrees. It is, therefore, absolutely protected, yet so light as to give great buoyancy,. A ball striking the eighteen inches of exposed upper hull, to do material damage, must pass through six inches of iron, thirty inches of white oak, and then about half an inch more of iron.

The hull being finished, we will go on board. Only three things are exposed above deck. In the centre is the turret or citadel, the wheel-house, and possibly a box around the smoke escape.

The battery, so far as can now be judged, seems to have no vulnerable part, save the port holes, which are exposed only for about half a minute in firing. Its sharp and massive iron prow will enable it to sink any ordinary vessel with perfect ease. In case it is boarded no harm is done. The only entrance is at the top of the turret, which cannot easily be scaled, and even then but one man at a time can descend. There are no places in the deck where an entrance may be forced, so the boarding party may stay until the sea washes them off, or the sharpshooters assist their departure.

ELECTION IN PORTSMOUTH.

Tuesday was as pleasant as a day in March could be, with two or three feet of ice melting rapidly.

Town meetings in Portsmouth were very still and quiet, never more so.—The grounds of voting were well understood to be those of National Politics, and intelligent voters knew that they were either sustaining the national and state administrations, in republican hands, or opposing them.

In Wards 1 and 2, as may be seen by the following returns, the Republicans had majorities, and elected their Representatives. In Ward 3, of course Democrats were elected.

Gov. Berry gets 779 votes, Mr. Stark 488, and Wheeler and scattering 7. Last year Stark had 7 majority here; this year Berry has 284 majority, a net gain of 291.

For Senator, Mr. Hackett, republican, has 273 majority in this city, and is elected.

We learn by telegraph from Boston that fifty-five towns give Berry 12,712; Stark 9,688; Wheeler 563.

☞ Portland was excited on Sunday evening. The Advertiser of that city says:—

Somehow or other a report was extensively circulated that the Merrimac had passed Fortress Monroe, and the blockading squadron into the open sea. And as Portland harbor, and no other, has abundant depth of water for the Merrimac to enter, the opinion was pretty extensively expressed that she would come directly to our port.

People down that way seem to think that Portland harbor is the only one on the coast that has any water in it! Portsmouth harbor has a depth of water sufficient to float the Merrimac and another on top of her; yet, we have not heard that our citizens were particularly alarmed about the matter, though there might have been something here which would have tempted the rebels to enter and destroy it. The idea has been broached, that probably the Merrimac is not much of a sea-boat; but we don't believe all we hear. Look out for her, and her confoundedly smart managers.

Portsmouth, March 10.

Messrs. Editors:—In your riddle of heart-work, which appeared in the Chronicle of this morning, you say, "those who cannot discover the puzzle contained in the lady's answer, Stripes, must either wait until they can overcome the difficulty, or give up all thoughts of successful wooing." If I should have occasion to go through that ordeal again, I would Persist, and win the fair lady, as I have once already. Your friend,

MR. PAY PROMPTLY FOR THE DAILY CHRONICLE.

No doubt this is the answer to the Riddle—but another is not so agreeable, "Step, Sir." And a third is suggestive, "Priests."

☞ We are requested to call the attention of the Surveyor of Highways for the Plains District, to the fact that Greenland road is almost impassable, especially near the Tabor farm.

☞ The U. S. Ship Constellation, Com. Henry K. Thatcher, sailed from Portsmouth Navy Yard on Tuesday afternoon.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our members remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

The N. Y. Tribune says if you have a good article for sale, and it is something that everybody wants, then advertise it. This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without disturbing, IN LESS THAN ONE-MINUTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

THE PHOTOGRAPH ALBUM.

When the turf, so green and stilly,
Shuts a faded flower from view,
Folded here, our broken lily
Blossoms in fragrance and in dew.

Soft blue eyes, too early closing,
Violets of departing springs,
In these dainty leaves reposing,
Rest among our cherished things.

Jealous time would vainly pilfer
Beauties from maturing girls;
From the tresses touched with silver
Turn we to these golden curls.

When the turf of battle gory
Blooms in daisies o'er the slain,
And the hero's grave of glory
Holds the form we seek in vain,

Here the dark eye proudly flashes
On our eager gaze once more,
And beneath the shadowy lashes
Gleams the fiery glance of yore.

When the father's head is hoary,
And the mother's heart is cold,
And their lives' benignant story
Is a tale too surely told,

Then the aid of art we borrow;
Here each honored face appears,
Blessing every dim to morrow
As it blest our earliest years.

Friends have passed from our embraces,
Passed to home across the main,
And the love-light of their faces
May not warm our hearts again.

But we guard those features cherished,
Changeless under changing skies,
And, when life itself has perished,
Here its fond resemblance lies.

Something from the life supernal
Haunts the form it wore below;
Not alone is love eternal,—
Here we keep its smiling glow.

Guard we thus our treasures human
Till diviner forms are seen;
Press we here the lips of woman
Till an angel comes between.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE.

—OR—

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY SIX NUMBERS, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER.—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

Prof. LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of JAMES F. SHORES, Jr., No. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK, who will receive subscriptions for the same.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, not possessed by the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The success which is below given proves that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on not one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.
Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1209

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS,

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wine in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO
a few well known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 1862.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

E. C. R., Portsmouth P. O.—Our terms for transient advertisements are cash in advance.—50 cts. first insertion, 25 cts. afterwards, per square.

M. M., Portsmouth P. O.—Your stupid lies about three women being drowned in going in a boat to the Shoals, "did not go down here;" and on inquiring of the respectable lady whose name you forged as signature, your falsity was proved. We have the stamps you enclosed to pay for sending those papers off, to remunerate us for our trouble. You will have to rise earlier in the morning, before you can sell the Chronicle thus.

L. D. C., Washington.—Thanks for your favor, but it was received too late to be of interest to publish.

C. S. C., Boston.—Don't like the black list in Boston Herald, eh! Well, we don't, but it's a poor rule that won't work both ways—and if you don't pay us for advertising you, why may we not pay you by advertising ourselves!

T. B. B., Lawrence.—Want "your own time" to pay our money, do you? Well, time waits for no man—but we will try and wait for this man a little time. Rather cool, though, we take it, for the time of year.

"Justice," Chelsea.—Is most respectfully informed that we have had all the justice we want of him—and that he has had neither more nor less than justice at our hands. Why didn't he put his ubiquitous "W. W." to his lying, anonymous gratuitous note?

Numerous Inquirers.—Why don't we publish all the births? Because we are not informed of all—and when we are, many parents request us not to. It is of no advantage to us, either way; but if you want your babies printed, just fetch 'em on—if you are ashamed or afraid to have them known, we are sure we don't want to honor them by publishing.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

The Statesman Extra of Wednesday morning, contains returns from 121 towns, footing up for Berry 21,545, Stark 18,407, Wheeler 947. The republicans have elected County officers in the close county of Merrimack; have elected 4 of the 5 Councillors, 9 of the 12 Senators; and will have 50 or more majority in the House: keeping the political power in the State exactly as it was last year.

Returns from 135 towns give Berry 23,737, Stark 20,031, Wheeler 1038.

Paul J. Wheeler, one of the candidates for Governor, is returned as a Representative from Newport; and there are two other Wheeler democrats from other towns, in the House.

IMPORTANT NEWS.—The Dutch have taken Holland again—the sovereign people of New Hampshire are to rule the State for another year, with the consent and aid of the wire-pullers—the Outs and the Ins have had their annual tussle, resulting in the success of those who got the most votes, as usual. The sun rose on Wednesday morning, very much as it would had "the other side" been "victorious." Good, so.

☞ Our returns from New Hampshire Election, published on Wednesday morning, were much more meagre than we had ever before given on similar occasions—but more could not be got in Boston until a very late (or rather early) hour, if at all that night. Even to give what we did, some of our night hands were employed till the small hours; and we start our press at four o'clock. We notice the Concord Statesman procured their returns, even from Coos County, via Portland, and could not procure reports from many towns in their own Merrimack County.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Curtis's official report of the battle of "Pea Ridge," Ark., fully confirms the brief dispatches of Gen. Halleck. The battle was begun by the enemy on the 6th inst, continuing through the 7th, and finishing on the 8th by the total route of the enemy. The victory was purchased at a heavy loss to the Union army. The loss of the enemy can never be ascertained, for their dead are scattered over a large field. The wounded, too, may many of them be lost and perish. McCulloch fell on the 7th. Their forces scattered in all directions, but the main force has probably returned to Boston Mountain. Another account says our loss was about 450 killed and wounded. The rebel loss was about 1000 killed and wounded, and 1000 taken prisoners. The attack was made from the north and west, our army being completely surrounded. Gens. Van Dorn, Price, McCulloch and McIntosh were present with about 25,000 rebels. Gens. McCulloch and McIntosh are reported mortally wounded. We have also captured a large amount of stores, cannon, teams and ammunition.

All the papers of the frigate Cumberland having gone down with her, it is impossible to obtain a list of the killed and missing. The latest and most correct account is 116, and it will be reduced to 100. The names can only be ascertained at the Navy Department by comparison of the pay rolls.

The rebel accounts of the naval engagement in Hampton Roads, represent that the Merrimac, or, as she is called by them, the Virginia, received some damage, but nothing that was serious. They admit the loss of four killed and several wounded on board. Capt. Buchanan, who commanded her, was seriously wounded on Saturday, and the command devolved on his Lieutenant. The officers say very little, or nothing about the Sunday fight. The Yorktown is said to have had a shot in her boiler.

A Washington dispatch says the Merrimac reached Norfolk on Sunday evening, from which it may be inferred that she was not capable of making very good time.

The Beaufort correspondent of the Norfolk Day Book says the Nashville is now lying at Morehead City. One hundred vessels are reported at Hatteras, supposed to contain reinforcements for Gen. Burnside. Ocracoke Inlet is said to be blocked up with stone vessels.

Virginia has been called upon for 40,000 additional troops by the rebel government.

Steamer Philadelphia arrived at New York on Wednesday, from Fort Pickens 1st inst., Tortugas 4th and Key West 6th. Bark Tycoon, with part of N. H. 7th regiment, had arrived at Tortugas, and ship S. R. Mallory, with other portions of the same regiment, was passed off Caryssfoot Reef, on the 6th. Gen. Arnold is in command at Fort Pickens, Col. Brown having sailed for New York.

The Secretary of War advertises for proposals for the immediate construction of ten iron clad gunboats similar to those in use at Cairo and on the Cumberland. He will receive proposals by telegraph.

It is rumored that Gen. Bragg with all his rebel forces has gone to Elizabeth City, N. C., from Pensacola, after destroying fortifications, guns, etc., there. It is said 20,000 or 30,000 rebel troops in North Carolina have been ordered to Norfolk, Va.—The rebel batteries at Aquia Creek were evacuated on Wednesday.

The rebels admit that one shell from the Monitor killed 17 men on board the Merrimac, and wounded Capt. Buchanan, who has since died: they also admit the Merrimac was somewhat injured.

Gen. McClellan has taken up his headquarters at Fairfax Court House. The work of repairing the bridges at Bull Run, injured by the rebels, has already been commenced. Everything at Manassas indicates a precipitate flight of the rebels. All the log huts are standing and an immense number of canvas tents. No guns were found, but piles of bullets and cartridges were left in the tents, and immense quantities of Quartermaster's stores. About 30,000 bushels of corn had been burnt. Our troops found abundant rebel trophies—pack saddles, army orders, muskets, revolvers, bowie knives, letters, &c. Over one thousand pack saddles were found, all new, and marked C. S. A.

Some of President Lincoln's war orders are published by authority. One dated Jan. 22, ordered that Feb. 22 "be the day for a general movement of the land and naval forces of the United States against the insurgent forces; that especially the army at and about Fortress Monroe, the army of the Potomac, the army of Western Virginia, the army near Munfordsville, Ky., the army and flotilla at Cairo, and a naval force in the Gulf of Mexico, be ready for a movement on that day." Gen. McClellan having personally taken the field at the head of the Army of the Potomac, Mar. 11, was relieved from the command of the other military departments. Gen. Fremont is assigned to the command of a "Mountain Department," comprising the mountainous regions of Tennessee, Virginia, and North Carolina.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester American is in error in stating that "Gov. Berry was Governor of this State when the war broke out." Hon. I. Goodwin, of this city, was Governor at that time, and for some little while after, and to him is justly due some of the credit arising from the unexcelled equipment of our N. H. regiments.

—— The Congregational Chapel in Fisherville, was crushed and ruined by the snow which had gathered upon it, on Thursday. It was discovered the roof was settling, and men commenced to remove the furniture, but they had labored only about ten minutes before the whole structure was observed to tremble, and in a moment was levelled to the ground. One man was standing in the door, and a dozen or more were upon the steps, but no one was killed. Mr. R. H. Gibson was buried beneath the ruins, but not fatally injured. Others were struck by falling timbers, but received no permanent wounds. The edifice was erected in 1849. For the past year it had been used for levees and lectures.

—— On the 7th inst., a descent was made upon a gang of counterfeiters who have been operating for some months past in Laconia, passing spurious bank notes on various banks, and Samuel F. Gilman arrested upon the charge of passing a counterfeit $10 bill on the Atlantic Bank of Boston, and two $5's on the Southbridge Bank, Southbridge, Mass. Gilman is supposed to be a mere tool. The chief criminal is yet to be detected.

Gilman was brought before D. C. Woodman, Esq., and waived an examination and was bound over in the sum of $900 for his appearance at the next term of the Supreme Judicial Court.

EFFECT OF THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE. Washington 8th.—The President's message respecting slavery in the States occasions much debate and anxiety among the proslavery members of Congress. It is believed that it will carry the Confiscation and Emancipation bills now before Congress triumphantly through. Several conservative Republicans were hesitating to vote for emancipation in this District, but the message from the President shows them that Mr. Lincoln is in favor of the measure before the Senate, and it will pass. The significant part of the document is in one of the last paragraphs, and the Slave State men here regard it as openly threatening to destroy the institution of slavery unless the resistance to government should cease within a very short time. The President coincides with the Secretary of War on the subject of slavery, and Mr. Stanton openly declares his purpose to be to overthrow slavery, if thereby the cause of the Union and a legitimate government can be aided. —Special to N. Y. Evening Post.

☞ The Boston Transcript don't like it, that the Advertiser says the Merrimac's success shows "superior pluck, vivacity and energy" on the part of the rebels. This is like the loyalists' course all along—deriding and scouting the rebels' power and skill and resources, and yet constantly being worsted, out-manœuvred and deceived by them. We think it is about time to own up that those stories that the Merrimac was a failure, were to be told to the marines only.

☞ The New Jersey Assembly enjoyed themselves hugely over a bill "concerning goats." An amendment was made including "elephants and other colored persons." This created immense laughter. The fun was kept up for more than an hour. A colored man, who stood a silent spectator of the proceedings of the House, came in for a share of the fun. A resolution was offered that the "doorkeeper provide the Ambassador from Hayti with an arm chair in the rotunda."

☞ Workmen will commence next month to build a large new L on the United States Naval Hospital, at Chelsea, Mass.—More room is needed immediately, as patients are continually being sent to the Hospital. Twenty-five came from New York last week.

☞ If there hasn't been sensation enough this week to satisfy the most morbid taste, then the only thing left for it is to set the river on fire, and sweep the Gulf States into the ocean. Battles on land and sea—attacks and surrenders, retreats and pursuits; blood and thunder in abundance—not to mention elections. Bonner and Brent must look to their laurels—romance is nowhere, compared to reality—Mrs. Southworth's imaginings pale before the history of to-day.

☞ The U. S. House of Representatives, Wednesday, amended the 8th section of the Act to promote the efficiency of the Navy, so as to read:—"the hours of labor and rate of wages in the Navy Yards shall conform, as near as consistent with the public interest, to the private establishments in the immediate vicinity, the respective Yards to be regulated by the Commandants, subject to the revision and approval of the Sec. of the Navy."

All the principal forts in New York harbor are garrisoned by order of Gov. Morgan.

The Senate Naval Committee, on Wednesday, agreed to report a bill appropriating fifteen millions of dollars for iron-clad vessels of war.

Mr. Fox, Asst. Sec. of the Navy, now at Fortress Monroe, states confidently that the Monitor will, in the next engagement, sink the Merrimac, though he thinks the conflict will be terrible.

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Feb. 8, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SH. JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered state, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.—Containing ergotine and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28dawâm

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

A CHANGE.

Having disposed of my milk business from this date to my son CHARLES H. HAYES, I would hereby express my thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the past TWENTY YEARS; and would respectfully request a continuance of the same to my successor.

All Milk bills contracted since the first of January, 1862, will be settled by CHARLES H. HAYES.
CHARLES HAYES.

Portsmouth, March 1

Having purchased the milk business as above, I would announce to the present customers and all others who may wish to favor me with their patronage that the business will be conducted as heretofore. Nothing but the purest article of NEW MILK will be sold. Every exertion will be made to insure its prompt delivery at the earliest possible hour.

Having retained the services of Mr. JOHN P. SWEENER as Agent, all persons wishing to take Milk will please leave their orders with him, or at PLUMER'S Bakery, and they shall be promptly attended to.

Great pains will be taken to make the change satisfactory to all. CHARLES H. HAYES.

A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MINUTE OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringer Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

Also

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much dryer, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any urchin will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to ascertain the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that from the great interest he believes, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The large practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and this one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in consequence of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 20. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1862. NO. 36.

The Chronicle.

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren all mankind.
Love truth, do good; be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

"We believe the institution of Slavery is founded on both injustice and bad policy; but that the promulgation of Abolition doctrines, tends rather to increase than abate its evils."—President Lincoln.

BLACK LIST.—We give in this morning's Chronicle the first instalment of our black list,—though we have inserted it once or twice in our Weekly before. Concerning it, a brother publisher says:

Black List.—Our brother of the Portsmouth (N. H.) Chronicle is advertising unsettled accounts for sale. That's right, brother; show up the great rascals who will not pay their newspaper bills;—a man is "meaner than rot," who will permit his newspaper account to run on, and make not the slightest attempt to cancel it. We must hang up a few more of our beauties, just to try the temper of the steel. We only hope nobody will prompt the Humanity Association to prosecute us for cruelty to animals.—Brunswick (Me.) Telegraph.

We don't see why newspapers shouldn't follow the example set by their more particular, if less important, cotemporaries, the banks, in this matter. They, of course, "protest if not paid," whether or no—no matter how "short" or unfortunate a fellow may be; but if a man will "show cause, if any he has," why his bill cannot be adjusted, we will try and "consider him something."

Since issuing the warning notice of this list, we have had quite a number of old accounts settled from it, which, hence, do not now appear in the list. We are convinced that the plan has worked to our advantage, thus far; and we shall extend the list soon, unless those most interested, next to us, "come down."

☞ At Camp Chase, where the rebel prisoners are held, who were taken at Fort Donelson, our officers of course make out a roll of the rebel officers with their names, rank, residences, regiments, occupation, age, size, color of dress, etc. When Tom Clay, grand-son of Henry Clay, was asked for his occupation, a brother officer answered, "a lawyer;" to which young Clay replied, "lawyer, b—l! I'm a gentleman.—Put down my occupation 'Southern gentlemen.'" There were only three such "gentlemen" in the lot, though there were 51 farmers, 15 lawyers, 5 planters, &c.

☞ How about Maury's 100 iron-clad gunboats? Perhaps the story has some truth in it after all.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

HIS PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Cankers in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and bowel complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and dry coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it."
Eld. EDWIN BURSHAM.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay forit, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1200

FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1862.

IRON CLAD SHIPS OF WAR.

When any disaster occurs, it is very natural to ask, Who is to blame? and when such a disaster may be repeated, it is natural to ask, How it may be prevented, or remedied?

In respect to the mischief done by the rebel steam turtle Merrimac, the Senate asks, Who is to blame,—Mr. Wilson making the usual motion.

Mr. Hale said, that so far as he knew, no matter what disaster occurred on sea or land, neither the War nor the Navy Department, except in a single instance, made inquiry into the matter.

Mr. Wilson said, from his knowledge the attention of the Departments has been called to this rebel ship. It has been known for months that she was fitting out. Merchants and underwriters felt anxious, and the attention of the Government has been called to it over and over again.

Mr. Grimes of Iowa said, in regard to the disaster at the mouth of the Mississippi, the Government has done all it could. The responsibility of this late disaster rests on the Government for not long ago sending a military expedition against Norfolk. The officers of the Navy have been ready at all times to break the Potomac blockade, and the flotilla was under orders for several days for that purpose, but a superior military officer, who had command of all the forces, forbade the expedition. The responsibility does not rest on the Navy Department.

These statements go to show who is to blame. The following paragraphs from the Boston Traveller do something more in the same direction, and also suggest one of the best things to be done now, viz. cover some of our own steamers, coarsely, with iron, forthwith. The paragraphs are written by a man who knows something about ships.

By the way why do we not, to-day, have some practical nautical man like Robert B. Forbes, as Secretary of the Navy, instead of a lawyer, who knows no more about ships, than old sailors do about Blackstone?

The recent operations of the steamer Merrimac will probably convince the Secretary of the Navy that the advice of those who have persistently contended that iron-cased vessels were a humbug, is not entitled to much consideration. Before the attack on Fort Sumter, the iron-cased battery, which formed one of the principal engines of its reduction, was pronounced a humbug; the steam ram at New Orleans, which sent three or four vessels to sea, was also a humbug; and the Merrimac has been so often reported a failure, that no one apprehended a danger from her. The success which has attended the partially mail-clad vessels upon the Western waters is still fresh in the public mind, and shows the value of iron-casing.

Hardly had the present Secretary of the Navy been confirmed, when several of the most eminent mechanics in the country urged upon him to have iron-cased vessels built, with which to reduce the Southern forts; but the "power" behind him, sneered at vessels of this class, pronounced them all wrong upon scientific principles, and not until the fifth or sixth month of the war, did he have sufficient light upon the subject to act. The vessels now under contract will not be finished to be of any use against the rebels, for the war will be finished before they are completed. The Stevens' Battery lies unfinished because she is iron-clad.

A year ago Mr. Donald McKay, submitted the model and specifications for an iron clad vessel, to be finished in ten months; yet, like others, he was treated with indifference. We state these facts to show that the people have not been slow to appreciate the importance of using every known means to put down the rebellion, but their servants, for want of knowledge, have been guided by the advice of those who are rebels in their sympathies. If this were not so, why were not the Minnesota and the Colorado, and vessels of this class covered with iron to meet the Merrimac? If the rebels could raise a wreck, cover her with iron, and send her down the river in a few months; surely we, who know what was the object of her equipment, could in the same time have sent a dozen vessels, all iron-plated to resist her. Why not rough-plate a dozen or more vessels at once—why wait to have them cased scientifically?

The publication of Mr. Lenthall's opinion of iron-cased ships of war, would probably show the advice upon which the Secretary of the Navy has relied. It would be of special interest at this time. Mr. Lenthall is the prime Naval Architect at Washington.

☞ The U. S. Senate Tuesday directed the Naval Committee to inquire into the causes of the late disaster at Hampton Roads. The House, by a vote of 88 to 31, passed the resolution in relation to the abolition of slavery, contained in the recent Message of the President.

The U. S. Senate, Wednesday, passed a bill to deduct 10 per cent. from all salaries now paid by the Government, during the war. In the House, a bill was reported from the Committee on Territories, giving the President power to institute provisional governments over districts of country now in rebellion, to be continued until the people form new State Governments. Mr. Pendleton of Ohio declared the bill to be unconstitutional, and moved to lay it on the table— which was agreed to by a vote 65 to 56. The House then went into Committee of the Whole, and commenced the discussion of the new tax bill.

☞ Fast Day in Massachusetts—Thursday, April 3.

THE REBELLION.

Jeff. Davis has suspended Gens. Floyd and Pillow until they can give a more satisfactory account of their conduct at Fort Donelson. Petersburg, Norfolk and Richmond are under martial law. The rebels have manifested some displeasure at the retreat of their army from Manassas, but are assured tha it is a measure of strategy.—It is reported that Gen. Lee has been nominated for commanding general of the rebel army.

As nearly as could be ascertained at Washington, on Wednesday, the rebel army which retired from Manassas had taken position at Gordonsville, a village in the southern part of Orange county, about 60 miles south of Manassas junction and 75 miles northwest of Richmond. Later accounts state nothing of importance to our army was found at Manassas. The wagons, about 30 in number, were old and worn out. The contrabands came in and helped themselves to whatever clothing they could find, and also to the commissary stores.—The works deserted by the enemy are not occupied by our troops. The rebel rear guard, on passing through Gainesville, six miles from Bull Run, fired and destroyed the village. Moore's extensive flouring mill at the fall of Bull Run Mountain, and six miles from the Stone Bridge, was also burned. The railway stations and bridges for the distance of about fifteen miles, were destroyed yesterday morning. It is supposed, making a fair average for the number the huts could contain, that the rebel troops at Manassas did not at any time exceed 60,000 men, and that not more than 30,000 have occupied that section within the last two months.

The Times' Washington dispatch says the retreat from Centreville commenced as late as last Friday, and was at first conducted in a very orderly manner. When the rear of the army was leaving Manassas some over-excited rebels set fire to some railroad bridges beyond, and then the rebels began to burn and destroy, and run away in the greatest confusion. Gen. Jackson and half his rebel army left Winchester a week ago, and went by the railroad to Manassas, while the other half are reported to be moving southward, along the valley of the Shenandoah.

The Washington Star says: We have positive information that the rebels have retreated as far as Gordonsville. Our scouts probably penetrated the country, at an early hour Wednesday morning, as far as Culpepper Court House, thirty-five miles in the rear of Manassas.

A letter received in Providence, R. I., from a man in Burnside's division, and dated Roanoke Island 3d inst., announces that the report that the rebels were evacuating Manassas had reached there. Gen. Burnside will, therefore, be on his guard.

Winchester, Va., was evacuated by the rebels on Wednesday after a brief resistance to our troops. A large amount of stores, ammunition, provisions and many horses have fallen into our hands.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe says the steamer Merrimac is afloat at the Norfolk Navy Yard, and a large force of workmen are repairing her. Serious damage was received by one of her prongs and the forward part of the boat was stove in, in the engagement on Sunday; that part is now being strengthened. The people of Norfolk are said to be in a state of mingled fear and rejoicing.

Skirmishes have occurred in New Mexico between our forces and the rebels, the latter having approached within a mile and a half of Fort Craig, and then withdrawn; but there had been no decisive battle up to Feb. 23d.

Gen. Bragg is now reported as having reached Memphis, from Pensacola. He brought 10,000 men, who were sent to reinforce New Madrid and Island No. 10. He and Beauregard are at Jackson, Tenn., constructing fortifications. Martial law was proclaimed in Memphis last Monday, to check insubordination and to compel the citizens to turn out and fight. No defensive preparations are being made between there and New Orleans. Forts Randolph and Pillow are represented to be strong positions, but less formidable than Columbus, already abandoned. It is said the rebels confess that the reduction of these will give us all the points on the Mississippi. Their gunboats are all at Island No. 10, and carry rifled 74 and 32-pounders. The fleet is under command of Com. Hollins.

All newspaper correspondents at Fortress Monroe, except the Agent of the Associated Press, have arrived at Baltimore, being ordered away by Gen. Wool, for failing to comply with his regulations respecting news.

☞ In the town meeting at Newington, on the second day, Wednesday, we understand a motion was made to reconsider the vote postponing indefinitely the article for the choice of representative: that the moderator refused to put the motion; but declared the meeting adjourned to the afternoon, and left the house, as did many of the people. Those who remained chose a new moderator, reconsidered the former vote, balloted, and chose Mr. Nathl. Coleman representative.

THE FIGHT OF THE IRON-CLAD VESSELS IN HAMPTON ROADS.—The New York Evening Express describes the conflict of the Merrimac and Monitor as follows:—

"A gentleman who witnessed the naval engagement in Hampton Roads on Saturday and Sunday, says that only one man was killed by the shelling of Newport News. The fire of our ships had no effect upon the Merrimac until the arrival of the Monitor. The Merrimac can do no damage to a vessel or fort unless within a half mile, on account of the lowness of her guns, which are hardly above the level of the water. In a gale she would be powerless.

"The report of the Monitor's guns was much heavier than those of the Merrimac's. Not a man was to be seen on either ship—all being housed.

"Our informant says the Merrimac is a 'devil,' but the Monitor a little more so; and that unless a gun explodes on the Monitor she would have the advantage of her adversary.

"The Monitor has the advantage of being all the time broadside on, and able to deliver her fire from any position. Her guns being so arranged that she can rake her own decks, if necessary."

In another article the same paper says:

This Hampton Roads fight is one of the most scenic, the most 'splendid,' ever read in history! The whole world will read it, as Romance, as Melodrama! The stage—Hampton Roads, is the grandest water stage in the world. The boxes are the shores of James River, on both sides, the Chesapeake, Fortress Monroe, Newport News, &c. Thousands and tens of thousands of spectators could see,—thousands more than a Roman Coliseum could hold. The Melodrama was two days in performing, Saturday, 'Uncle Sam,' amazed, astounded, affrighted, scattered, beaten, shakes and shivers over a terrible to morrow. A submerged monster had peered out from the deep, and sunk one frigate,—hundreds of sailors swimming for their lives,— and that spectacle, so terrified another, that the Stars and Stripes came down from over her, and the white flag of fear went up. The steamer Minnesota 'shied up' to the monster, doubtful of her destiny. The broken shaft Roanoke was hauled off. Night then suspended the parts of the actors; but during that night a little David, with a sling of only two guns in his quiver, turned up from the deep, unexpectedly, amazingly,—as if some Deus ex Machina,—and on Sunday, the great, big, burly, lubberly Goliath Merrimac, shattered, shorn of his power sneaks off into harbor! Forty Bowery Theatres all combined, with all their blue and yellow powder, tin thunder, and sheet iron clatter, cannot begin to pantomime all this! It was the grandest Melodrama, on the grandest arena, the world has yet seen.

☞ A number of gentlemen held a meeting in New York on Sunday night, and called sundry distinguished merchants and loyal ship-owners out of their beds to advise on the best means of defending the city against the Merrimac, which was believed to be on its way to Fort Hamilton, having demolished Fortress Monroe. The Mayor, it is stated, suggested the procuring of old ships and sinking a stone fleet in the ship channel.

☞ Work upon the second iron-plated steamer at Greenpoint is pushed with the utmost speed, day and night, and it is hoped that she will be ready for sea during the present month. This vessel will be much larger than the Monitor, will carry eighteen guns of the largest calibre, and will be practically invulnerable. It is confidently believed that she will be the fastest of this slow species of war vessel ever constructed.

☞ During the recent floods in California, Hercules, the largest of the famous grove of mammoth trees, fell to the earth. The tree had a leaning toward the southwest of about ten degrees, and the rains and snows loosened and softened the earth about the roots so that they gave way to the immense weight and leverage pressing them upward.

NARROW ESCAPE.—As the wife and son of Mr. Stephen Harmon were walking on the track of the Railroad in Buxton, Me., Thursday, they were overtaken by the outward train. The boy succeeded by climbing the snow, which was some eight feet in height, in getting off the track. The mother being unable to escape in the same manner, leaned over as far as she could, the whole train grazing her and tearing her clothes nearly all off her person.

The Boston journals are discussing with a good deal of feeling the presence of Dr. Charles Mackay in this country, that personage, it seems, having arrived here by a recent steamer. He has of late identified himself with Secession intrigues in London, and with Sécession agents of the most disreputable sort, such, for instance, as Mr. Hiram Fuller, formerly of this city. Very probably Mackay is now here as an agent of Jeff. Davis, the fact that he is a fool not rendering him any the less eligible for that purpose.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ An establishment for the sale of fine Havana cigars (the only one in France) has just been opened in Paris, by the Government. In two weeks, more than 100,000 cigars have been sold. The prices vary from $60 to $300 per thousand.

☞ A special dispatch to the St. Louis Democrat, dated Rolla, Mo., March 12th, says that Wild Billy Price, a desperate chief of a guerrilla band of rebels, has been taken prisoner, and is now in custody at Springfield, Mo.

☞ By the arrival of the North American we have the highly important intelligence that the English Ministry have had the effectiveness of the blockade of ports in the seceded States under consideration, and have deliberately come to the conclusion that "it is effective."

☞ Rev. R. P. Ambler, late a spiritualist lecturer, has been recently restored, at his own request, to the fellowship of the Universalist Convention in Rhode Island,— and has delivered a lecture on the "Lights and Shadows of Modern Spiritualism, as viewed in their relation to the Christian system."

☞ The National Intelligencer says that Mr. Lincoln's emancipation message was urged by some of the largest slaveholders in Maryland and Delaware.

It is stated that Generals Buckner and Tilghman were put in close confinement at Fort Warren on Monday. Cause not known.—Boston Courier.

will deliver a lecture upon

"The Black Man's Future in the Southern States;"

AT THE TEMPLE,

On SATURDAY EVENING, Mch. 15.

MR. DOUGLASS is one of the race concerning which it is now so often asked, "What is to become of these slaves?" As MR. DOUGLASS has been a slave, and knows the characteristics of his race, no one can answer better than he the question as to the future destiny of the negroes now in slavery.

In order that all may have an opportunity to hear this celebrated lecturer, the tickets of admission will be but 10 Cents.

Doors open at ½ of 7. Lecture to commence at half past 7.

A CHANGE.

Having disposed of my milk business from this date to my son CHARLES H. HAYES, I would hereby express my thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the past twenty years; and would respectfully request a continuance of the same to my successor.

All Milk bills contracted since the first of January, 1863, will be settled by CHARLES H. HAYES.
CHARLES HAYES.

Portsmouth, March 1

Having purchased the milk business as above, I would announce to the present customers and all others who may wish to favor me with their patronage that the business will be conducted as heretofore. Nothing but the purest article of NEW MILK will be sold. Every exertion will be made to insure its prompt delivery at the earliest possible hour.

Having retained the services of Mr. JOHN P. SWEETSER of Kittery, all persons wishing to take Milk will please leave their orders with him, or at PLUMER'S Bakery, and they shall be promptly attended to.

Great pains will be taken to make the change satisfactory to all. CHARLES H. HAYES.

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1851.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

To most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Feb. 8, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, the Mayor was empowered to authorize the City Treasurer to overdraw from time to time, to the amount of $4000, in addition to the amount already overdrawn ($2000.)

A motion to rescind the resolution recently passed, appropriating the interest of the Clark Fund, as not in accordance with the provisions of the will, was rejected.

A motion to take the subject of the Haven Fund from the table, was lost.

The Committee on school houses was authorized to procure twenty dozen inkstands at $2.50 per dozen, for the use of the High Schools.

An appropriation of $1400 for re-building the bridewell at the Alms-house, was made, in concurrence with the Common Council, and the committee on City Lands and Buildings, with the Mayor added, was authorized to repair the building in accordance with the plans submitted. It is proposed to heat the new building throughout by means of furnaces.

The matter of the present condition of the defences of Portsmouth harbor was referred to, and a special committee was appointed to consult with our leading citizens in regard to the same, and to report at the next meeting.

COAL FOR MANCHESTER. — The first cargo of coal of the season, destined for Manchester, arrived here on Wednesday in the schooner Unison, of Freeport, Me., from Philadelphia, and is to be discharged upon the cars of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad at Rindge's wharf. This is the first arrival since the completion of the branch to Manchester, and it is to be followed by a large number of cargoes for that city.

☞ Business at Portsmouth Navy Yard is brisk. With the six steamers at the wharves, on the stocks, or in dock, in various stages of completion; and the two ships in the houses, in statu quo, Uncle Sam has quite a modern fleet here. But the Monitor or the Merrimac (now Virginia,) is worth the whole of them for most purposes—and we hope soon to see our loyal and royal Portsmouth mechanics at work on the iron-plated steamers, for which all the modern fleets in the world have got to be exchanged, judging from the signs of the times. The roll of the Yard includes about 2000 men.

☞ Fred Douglass is going to tell us about the future of the black man in this country. "Somebody" says he is more concerned about the black future of the white man.

SENATORIAL DISTRICT NO. ONE.—The following is the vote for Senator in this district. The candidates were, Dem., Thomas G. Furber, of Newington; Rep., W. H. Y. Hackett, of Portsmouth. The name of William B. Small, Esq., of Newmarket, was used by the Union party, we understand, without his consent.

	Hackett	Furber	Scat

* Gov. vote for 1861

It will be seen that Mr. Hackett is re-elected by 442 majority over all. Majority over Furber, 452. Republican majority in 1861, 139.

PERSONAL.—The first reports of the representative delegation from Exeter gave the name of "Joseph C. Hill." We are happy to notice an improvement in the name, which lengthens it out to "Joseph C. ☞ A letter from Port Royal to the Littleton Journal says: "The other day some rebels were taken on the Savannah river while duck shooting, among whom was a captain in the rebel army. Three of our chaps exchanged clothes with the prisoners, and by means of this disguise penetrated into the heart of Savannah, and returned safe. This and other circumstances has convinced Gen. Sherman that he has men in his command capable of performing any manner of duty."

☞ A New Jersey soldier sent to a friend in Camden, a rebel 60-pound bombshell. It was represented that the load had been withdrawn, and the shell was left at the hotel. On Saturday evening Mr. Bennington Ackley and Charles Hammell were examining the shell, and the former stuck a lighted paper into it, when a tremendous explosion occurred, killing Mr. Charles Hammell, wounding Ackley so that he lived but two hours after, and causing great damage to the hotel. The room in which the accident occurred was entirely demolished, as also was the furniture. A piece of the shell went through the floor, and broke a grindstone in the cellar.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING of all sorts is promptly done at the Chronicle Office.

Marriage, Visiting or Business Cards Printed or ENGRAVED in the best manner.

All sorts of Cards, Papers, and other stock, furnished for Printing.

Wedding, plain, Initial, or Business ENVELOPES, on hand, furnished, or Printed to order—in any style.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

The N. Y. Tribune says if you have a good article for sale, and it is something that everybody wants, then advertise it. This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CUREATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. RUSH & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

(Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ It is stated that the rebel General Buckner, while on his way to Fort Warren, said that the Battle of Bull Run was a very fortunate circumstance for the North, and a most disastrous one to the rebels, for the reason that it induced the latter to assume a false security and unfounded confidence in their ability and fighting status, while it exasperated the Union troops and goaded them on to the adoption of every effort to retrieve their defeat. In this view, it was the Bunker Hill of the present war.

Some curious facts have just come to light with regard to the execution of the slave-trader Gordon. A powerful influence was brought to bear on the President to commute his sentence. It came very near succeeding; in fact it was respited for two weeks. But Gordon was hung by the dictates of a question of foreign policy. Sumner decided this point, strange as it may appear. The President sent for him, and the two talked the matter over in that light; and it was finally decided that unless Gordon was hung this Administration would continue to endorse the imbecility and leniency of the North on the slave trade. In Sumner's words—"No more blank cartridges must be fired; foreign nations demand solid shot." Gordon was hung, and Sumner rejoices in keeping the Administration on one line of policy at least. As the first conviction and execution for that kind of crime, the merit of its success should fall where it belongs. History demands that.—Wash. Cor. Bos. Her.

☞ In the rebel Congress on Tuesday, the operations of Gen. A. S. Johnston were discussed. Mr. Adkins said that nearly every member of the Tennessee Legislature had signed a petition for his removal from that department.

☞ The rebel "blockade" of the Potomac is at length removed, after lasting through a period of nearly five months, from the 17th of October to the 9th of March.

☞ Surgeon S. F. Cones, has been ordered for duty on the receiving ship Ohio at Boston, and has reported for duty.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE,
—OR—
Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!
BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—unseen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but there are few inventors who can be trusted for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to any, which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, that can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society; many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt-Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Honeset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it."
Ed. EDWIN BURBANK.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1206

SATURDAY, MARCH 15, 1862.

OUR NAVY.

WHAT WE REQUIRE TO MAKE AN EFFICIENT NAVY.—The sharp battle at Hampton Roads has inaugurated a new era in our naval history. Since the great struggle which ended in sending Napoleon to St. Helena, Great Britain has invested hundreds of millions in war vessels to very little purpose. The first mechanical and scientific revolution was the introduction of steam, and that found the old fashioned seventy-four and ninety gun sailing ships comparatively worthless. They could only float in deep water; they had no reliable motive power, they were huge targets for the guns of an enemy, and their ordnance were too small to be effective against heavy rifled cannon. With the introduction of steam power came, first a large class of screw steamers; and next a small fleet of gunboats that could run in shallow water, enter bays and rivers, and with two or four heavy guns, do execution at a great distance, while standing little chance of being hit.—The third naval improvement was to build an iron-cased ship like the "WARRIOR," or "LA GLOIRE," and from which great expectations have been formed, but we fear only to be disappointed. The vessels are as huge a mark as the old seventy-four, can only run in deep water, and having perpendicular walls can be pierced by a point blank shot fired at right angles with her sides. The "Warrior," we hear, labors badly at sea, is not considered safe, and stands a good chance to go down in a gale, with all on board, from sheer weight of metal. The WARRIOR and LA GLOIRE may be likened to a mailed knight clad in such heavy armor as to be powerless to hurt his enemy.

It remained for us to unite the ideas of the plated ship with the modern English steam gunboat, but with the original improvement of having the sides built at an angle with the perpendicular, so as to present a slanting surface to the enemy's shot. Our engagements at Forts Donelson and Henry, and also the rather disastrous affair at Hampton have completely demonstrated the utility of these naval turtles.—We will not pretend to say whether the Western gunboats, the "MONITOR," or the "Merrimac" are the best form, but severe trials have completely demonstrated the vast superiority of these invulnerable mail clad steamers. We fully believe if we had two hundred of these vessels carrying from two to six guns each, we should be more than a match for Great Britain in a maritime contest, with all her vast navy. Two of these boats, with the heaviest shot glancing from their sides like hail from a house roof, could sink a dozen British line-of-battle ships. It is needless to attempt to disguise the facts, or talk of economy; from ten to twenty million dollars invested in vessels of this class will be worth five times their cost, and will protect our harbors more effectually than if we made every seaport town a Sevastopol.

A few years ago Hon. Hiram Walbridge of New York proposed and urged with great force the formation of a Militia OF THE SEAS. The idea was a grand one, and should have been acted upon. In view of future contingencies, as well as in our present struggle we shall need both the Militia Navy and a fleet of iron-clad gunboats and sea steamers. We know not who is responsible for the late surprise in the James river, but one thing is certain, our Navy Department has not been conducted with that energy which our perilous circumstances loudly demand. A good business man like Gen. Walbridge at the head of the Navy Department, would soon bring order out of chaos, and give us a Navy equal to every emergency. We can profit by the experiments of other nations, and so long as England has invested millions in a fleet of hulks only to find them useless, let us take warning from their folly, and, following the lessons taught by our experience at Donelson and Hampton, set afloat a class of vessels that we now know will be invulnerable. With a foreign trade that is now second to but one nation in the world, we need have no fear that the vessels will not be required. Our commerce must continue to expand, and it must be protected; and we shall have no time, chance, or opportunity so good as the present to increase our naval strength. The best man in the country should be placed at the head of the Navy, and that Navy be built and organized in accordance with the dictates of our rather dear bought experience.

☞ In a letter replying to congratulations tendered him upon the success of the Monitor, Mr. Ericsson says:—

"Give me only the requisite means, and in a very short time we can say to those powers, now bent on destroying republican freedom, Leave the Gulf with your frail craft, or perish! I have all my life asserted that mechanical science will put an end to the power of England over the seas.

The ocean is nature's highway between the nations. It should be free; and surely nature's laws, when properly applied, will make it so."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Returns received from all but eighteen towns in the State give Berry 31,374; Stark 27,489; Wheeler 1553. Berry's majority is not far from 2000.

—— A private of the N. H. 4th Regiment, who was recently convicted by a court martial, at Port Royal, of theft, was sentenced to pay for the sugar, molasses, and fish stolen, to the value of ten dollars; to walk a post of one hundred paces with his hands tied behind him; the first day eight hours, with rest of one half hour; second day ten hours, with rest of one hour; his only sustenance during the two days to be bread and water; to have half his head and half his face shaved; to wear a placard upon his back, bearing the inscription of 'Thief.'

—— A son of Mr. Joseph P. Hall of Upper Gilmanton, five years of age, was drowned in the river in that town, on Saturday last.

—— The Maple Sugar House in Milford owned by Chas. B. Shattuck, Esq., of Pepperell, was consumed by fire on Monday morning. Loss heavy and property uninsured.

—— Twombly brothers, printers, of Dover, are engaged with a gentleman at Washington, in getting up directories for the army, containing the names, residences and general information regarding the troops.—Such a book well and carefully prepared, would be of inestimable value to the public and aid historical societies in the future.

—— Lieut. Lyford of the Ordnance Department was one of the few that aided in raising the American flag upon Fort Columbus, by our fleet, after the land forces were in possession. He is son of Stephen C. Lyford, Esq., of Laconia, and a graduate of West Point.

—— Miss Susan Pillsbury, about 45 years of age, a native of Springfield, committed suicide in Manchester, early on Thursday morning, by means of strychnine. She has hinted at this for some time, and had evidently matured her plan calmly and deliberately.

On the mantel piece, in the room where she died, were clothes all arranged for laying her out.

—— The Directors of the Sullivan Co Agricultural Society have appointed Wednesday and Thursday, the 1st and 2d days of October next, for holding their annual fair.

—— The Dover correspondent of the Manchester Mirror states that Judge Doe has not yet recovered from his recent severe illness; and while his friends are anxious that his ability, keen judgment and sound law may again be dispensed upon the bench, it is feared he will resign, as he contemplates a trip to Europe, for the benefit of his health.

—— Jonathan Jenness, Esq., of Rye, butchered a hog only ten months old, weighing 400 pounds dressed.

A LOTTERY SWINDLE BROKEN UP.—On the 8th inst., the police took possession of a room in Lowell which there is reason to believe has been for some time the headquarters of a lottery swindle, and arrested three persons who are supposed to be implicated in the affair, though the principals, named L. L. Todd & Co., have not yet been arrested. They had been doing business in times past under the name of Sherwood & Co., Williams & Co., and other aliases, though their late business seems to have been done under the name of B. F. Rothschild. The parties had been very successful, sometimes receiving as high as $30 per day, which was, of course, a total loss to their dupes, they failing to see the $100 which no doubt they looked for with much anxiety. The names of the parties arrested are John R. Lowell, Charles H. Garland and Charles H. Woods,—the latter was arrested in New Hampshire.

☞ Gen. McClellan crossed the Potomac on Monday last, to assume command of the army in Virginia, and conduct its advance into the rebel territory. A correspondent of the Times says "His reception among the troops, as he passed to their head, was one of the grandest ever witnessed in this country. The largest body of men ever put in motion at once since the battle of Solferino, moved from the banks of the Potomac on that day. For many miles, on divers roads, the embattled ranks pressed forward, and the cheers that hailed the General at one point of the lines was taken up by regiment after regiment, and division after division, until the whole vast army rent the heavens with shouts of welcome.—Gen. McClellan rode through the ranks in motion, his hat ever in his hand, returning the salutes of the enthusiastic soldiers.

☞ Mr. Holt, one of the commissioners to settle the accounts in the Department of Missouri under Gen. Fremont's administration, has arrived at Washington. They have completed their work, and reported the aggregate amount of claims presented as about $10,000,000. The awards made are below that figure.

One thing Floyd can't steal.—The hearts of his soldiers.

THE REBELLION.

Further accounts from New Mexico confirm the report of a battle near Fort Craig. By the flight of a regiment of New Mexicans, the small body of regular troops was left to contend alone with an overwhelming force of Texans. Capt. McRae, the gallant commander of the Federal light battery, with his artillery cut down, and his support killed, wounded or flying from the field, sat down calmly and quietly on one of his guns, and with revolver in hand, refusing to fly or desert his post, he fought to the last, and gloriously died like a hero, the last man at his guns. Lieuts. Michler and Stowe, like Capt. McRae, nobly and bravely sustained the honor of our flag to the last and died the death of patriots. Many other of our officers are wounded. Our loss is about 200 killed and wounded. The loss of the enemy is believed to be much greater. Kit Carson was in command of a regiment of volunteers, who were deployed as skirmishers. His command did good service during the action and behaved well.

A Federal tug-boat, on Thursday, went down to Quantico, towing a large scow with shears and machinery for removing the cannon found abandoned in the rebel batteries. A large number of shells have been found in the rebel magazines. They were neatly packed in fine seaweed, which is said to be an excellent plan to keep the powder dry and prevent premature explosions.

A Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia North American reports that Beauregard has been appointed commander-in-chief of the rebel army, and that the evacuation of Manassas was at his suggestion.—It is further said that he has arrived at Richmond.

The line of the Rappahannock has been deserted by the rebels, and a balloon reconnoisance from Pohick Church shows no enemy within thirty miles.

☞ The Surgeon of the lost frigate Congress in a letter to the Philadelphia Press, says he believes the rebels have deceived us in regard to the draft of the Merrimac.—They have reported that she drew twenty-three feet of water, and it was believed on board the Congress that she could not reach that vessel in consequence. If her draft had been so great she could not. In his opinion she does not draw over fifteen feet of water.

REBEL STEAMERS RUNNING THE BLOCKADE.—The Richmond Inquirer says the steamers which lately run the blockade of New Orleans, were the Victoria and the Miramon, both from Havana—each of which brought 25,000 pounds of powder and a number of rifles. By burning hard coal, which makes no smoke, the Victoria managed to elude the Federal cruisers off the Mississippi until she struck on the bar about two or three miles below Fort Livingston, a rebel fortification. This happened at night. In the morning a Federal discovered her and bore down rapidly, but when within a mile grounded herself.

The Federal vessel it is said, at once opened fire, with shot and shell, and kept it up from 8 A. M. till 5 1-2 P. M., firing in all 283 shot from rifled guns, only three of which struck! One shell penetrated a bag of coffee above the powder stowed in the hold, to within two inches of the kegs, but did not burst. At 5 1-2 P. M. the Federal vessel retired, but returned at daylight next morning with two others of lighter draft; but during the night, by the use of lighters, the Victoria was taken in with her cargo under the guns of the fort. The Miramon was also chased, but not fired upon, escaping in the fog from her pursuer.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer has the following in connection with the Roanoke Island affair:—

"An authentic anecdote of Major Hugh W. Fry, (rebel) has reached us, and is so thoroughly characteristic of the man that we cannot forbear giving it publication.—During the heat of the conflict, Major Fry, with a battalion of infantry, was conveyed to the island to reinforce its defenders.—Upon debarking from the steamer upon Roanoke, Maj. Fry jocularly exclaimed:—'All passengers for Fort Warren will please take the coaches on the left hand side.' The sally provoked general laughter, but within two hours afterward the joke was proved to have been prophetic; the jocose major and his companions were all ticketed for Fort Warren."

☞ The Cincinnati Gazette says Gen. Grant has asked to be relieved of his command, as trouble exists between him and his generals.

☞ Capt. Baldwin, of the U. S. ship-of-the-line Vermont, narrowly escaped death by suffocation, from the fumes of charcoal. Chilled with cold, a charcoal fire was kindled in a brazier in his cabin. A visitor found Capt. B. stretched upon the sofa in an insensible condition, and it was with great difficulty that he was restored to consciousness.

☞ John Davis, the gunner's mate, who covered the powder magazine with his own person, in Elizabeth City, to protect it from the fire caused by an exploding shell, thus risking his own life to save others, has been made gunner.

☞ The confiscation resolutions have passed the Maine House of Representatives—yeas 104, nays 26. They had previously passed the Senate 24 to 4.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hall! cleanly art, universally so prized, [plies;
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it sup-
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part—
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way;—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt ev'ry one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean combs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, 'so rich,' you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise?
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

A CHANGE.

Having disposed of my milk business from this date to my son CHARLES H. HAYES, I would hereby express my thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the past TWENTY YEARS; and would respectfully request a continuance of the same to my successor.

All Milk bills contracted since the first of January, 1862, will be settled by CHARLES H. HAYES.

CHARLES HAYES.

Portsmouth, March 1

Having purchased the milk business as above, I would announce to the present customers and all others who may wish to favor me with their patronage that the business will be conducted as heretofore. Nothing but the purest article of NEW MILK will be sold. Every exertion will be made to insure its prompt delivery at the earliest possible hour.

Having retained the services of Mr. JOHN P. SWEETSER as Agent, all persons wishing to take Milk will please leave their orders with him, or at PLUMER'S Bakery, and they shall be promptly attended to.

Great pains will be taken to make the change satisfactory to all. CHARLES H. HAYES.

IMPROVED BOMB SHELL.—We noticed a fortnight since that Mr. George C. Jones, of Olney, Me., had just patented an improvement in the shell, by which it is made capable of discharging, through perforations, with or without exploding, a large number of musket balls in every direction horizontally. The experiments ordered by the Secretary of the Navy were made at the Portsmouth Navy Yard last week. An eight-inch shell, weighing 60 lbs., charged with 20 ounces of powder and 112 musket balls, was placed in a box of four-inch plank, seven feet square. Marks of every ball were found in the sides of the box, some of them passing through the plank. Sixteen pieces of the shell were found, which weighed only 34 lbs., leaving 26 lbs. scattered out of reach. The experiment was, we understand, satisfactory, and the shell will probably be introduced into the service.

☞ The popular orator Fred Douglass is to speak at the Temple this evening. His lecture is to be upon "The Black Man's Future in the Southern States," a subject which is well calculated at the present time to interest the public. This lecture has been delivered to crowded houses and has given great satisfaction. 1t

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Rev. Dr. George W. Briggs, of Salem, Mass., will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

Rev. John Moore, of Lynn, will probably preach at the North Church.

☞ Lieut. F. W. Henry has been ordered to the gunboat Mahaska, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

CAPT. EDWIN A. ROWE.—In a late Oregon paper we find the following respecting one of the Portsmouth natives:—

The sensation of to-day has been the arrival of two companies of the Second Regiment of California Mounted Volunteers, commanded by our old acquaintance Capt. Rowe. The command consists of 175 or 180 men, well mounted, armed, and equipped, on the way to relieve the garrison of regulars of Fort Churchill. The volunteers are in admirable condition and in fine spirits. They are encamped in the heart of the town, and their tents were visited this evening by the Governor and pretty much everybody else in town. Captain Rowe will go to Fort Churchill to-morrow, accompanied probably by Governor Nye.

GEN LANDER'S BLOOMING GAP CHARGER.—This fine animal was brought from camp at Paw Paw, Western Virginia, with the remains of the late General, and was led behind the hearse at the funeral at Salem. The horse was forwarded in time for the ceremony through the promptness of the obliging superintendent of the Eastern Railroad, Mr. Prescott, who sent him from Boston by a special train.

☞ Ship Isaac H Boardman, 1432 tons, built in Portsmouth in 1855, was recently sold in London for $42,000. She was owned by I. H. Boardman, Charles Lunt, Joseph B. Morss, Wm. H. Brewster, Capt. Henry Cook, James Blood and Albert Currier, all of Newburyport, and Capt. Wm. Sanborn of Seabrook.

☞ A dispatch from Earl Russell to Lord Lyons, dated Feb. 15, is published in the London papers. It says information shows that notwithstanding there has been a sufficient blockading force off Charleston and Wilmington, various ships have eluded the blockade. The English government is of opinion that if sufficient ships are stationed at the ports to prevent access, and to create evident danger to vessels leaving or intending to leave, or providing such ships do not voluntarily permit violations, the fact that various ships may have escaped will not of itself prevent the blockade from being effective.

Lieut. Worden, commander of the Monitor, is sure he put three shots though the Merrimac, and the general opinion at Fortress Monroe is that she was disabled; but Asst. Sec. of the Navy Fox, who was on the ground, thinks otherwise. The Monitor was entirely unharmed. Not a man was killed, and the only one injured was Lieut. Worden, whose face and eyes suffered twice from the flame and iron particles from shells bursting outside, which penetrated through a small aperture into the pilot house, through which he was directing the fight. The crew and gunners felt thoroughly safe, so much so that a quartermaster came on deck to inquire where the fight was going on. He was hard of hearing, and could not make it out below. An English naval officer who saw the fight says that no vessel in the British Navy could withstand the Monitor. It is believed that our loss both days is not far from 300, including the missing—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ Later Gibraltar advices say it was the Lieutenant and not the captain of the Sumter, who was arrested, and it is said he has been released. Federal ships are watching the Sumter, which remains stationary at Gibraltar.

☞ The Cincinnati Gazette says Gen. Grant has asked to be relieved of his command, as trouble exists between him and his generals.

Not so Dusty.—"Dost thou clean my furniture fair handmaiden?" asked X, of the pretty servant who was polishing his escritoire.

"I Dust" replied the handmaiden.

☞ The second Commencement of Lewis' Normal Institute for Physical Education was held at Mercantile Hall, Boston, on Thursday Evening, March 13. The exercises of the occasion embraced remarks by Dr. Lewis, gymnastics by the graduating class, consisting of club, wand, dumbbell, ring and bag exercises; presentation of diplomas, &c. The graduates numbered eighteen—ten ladies and eight gentlemen, from Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Ohio, Kentucky and Cuba. Both ladies and gentlemen appeared in true gymnastic costume. The valedictory was pronounced by Mr. Eben Knowlton, a member of the graduating class.

☞ The Naval committee of the Senate have agreed to recommend an appropriation of $15,000,000 for the construction of iron-plated vessels of war. The $15,000,000 appropriation which the Finance Committee reported adversely, was for gunboats.

Special Notices.

☞ We earnestly call attention to the announcement of the lecture to be delivered on this Saturday evening at the Temple, by Frederick Douglass. Mr. Douglass is a very eloquent and accomplished orator, and his subject is an important one, and ought to be carefully considered by every American citizen. We predict for him a full house on the occasion. 1t

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Not water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MINUTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

Also

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Feb. 5, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

DEATH AND RESURRECTION.

Our life is onward—and our very dust
Is longing for its change, that it may take
New combinations; that the seed may break
From its dark thraldom, before it lies in trust
Of its great resurrection. Not the rust
Of cold inertness shall defeat the life
Of e'en the poorest weed, which after strife
Shall spring from our dead ashes, and which must Bless some else barren waste with its meek grace.
And germs of beautiful vast thought, concealed
Lie deep within the soil, which evermore
Onward and upward strive. The last in place
Enfolds the higher yet to be revealed,
And each the sepulchre of that which went before.
—E. Oakes Smith.

Our fireside's easy chair,
Is there any place bodie
Where such pleasant hours we share?
Where the hours so gently glide?
Though but humble the fare
That Winn's daily table provide,
Dainty's cup can never compare
With the joy that sparkles there,
By our own fireside.

Those who love us till we die,
Who through troubles have been tried,
Who will watch the closing eye
When all grows cold beside—
Where shall friends like these be found,
Search we the earth and ocean wide!
Where, on all this weary round,
Save that hallowed spot of ground
Called our own fireside.
—John Clare.

FLOWERS.

They are the autographs of angels, penned
In Nature's green-leaved book, in blended tints,
Borrowed from rainbows and the summer skies,
And written everywhere—on plain and hill,
In lonely dells, and crowded haunts of men;
On the broad pennies, where no eye save God's
May read their silent, sacred mysteries.

Thank God for flowers! they gladden human hearts;
Seraphic breathings part their fragrant lips
With whisperings of Heaven.
—Albert Laighton.

JOHN L. LENHART, Chaplain of the sloop-of-war Cumberland, who was drowned during the engagement with the Merrimac, was from Newark, N. J. He entered the service in 1847, and in 1860 he was with the sloop Constellation on the African Squadron, after which he was transferred to the Cumberland, on the Home Squadron. He was a man somewhat advanced in years.

Geo. N. Sanders, the renowned and redoubtable Geo. N. Sanders, was in Nashville on the Sunday of the surrender—but not since that. Putting a bundle on the head of a stick, and the stick over his back, and his back to the city, he was last seen perambulating a turnpike that leads away down South into the depths of Dixie.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE,

—OR—

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY-SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making the large volume of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoölogy and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of JAMES F. SHORES, Jr., No. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK, who will receive subscriptions for the same.

THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC:

Containing besides the usual Astronomical matter,

Accurate Lists of the Executive and Judicial Officers of the U. S. Government;

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, superior to any, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that some may PROCURE PATENTS, if not in THE PATENT OFFICE thus the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES TO BE DERIVED, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to Patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN MAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be equalled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Brandy and Wine for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who prefer Pure Liquors and Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.
The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:
HIS PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.
CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.
RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, sciatica, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.
HIS FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.
HIS OCTAGON SOAP cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.
COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and dry coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts.; large, 50 cents.
EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others afflicted that Swett's Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it."
Ed. KOWIN BURNHAM."
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. f20o

MONDAY, MARCH 17, 1862.

AN ODD PRAYER.

Rev. Dr. Sawyer, of Chicago, was ordained at Winchester, N. H., in September, 1829, and he has had occasion lately to write a letter, correcting some error about his ordination, which letter is published in the Christian Freeman.

On that occasion, Rev. Joshua Flagg, one of the most eccentric men that ever entered the ministry, offered the Ordaining Prayer, and was followed by Rev. Russell Streeter, who gave the Charge.

The ordaining prayer was as eccentric and outre as its author. The late Dr. Whittemore tells the story as follows:

Mr. Flagg was a man of strong feelings on political matters; and, being a firm partisan of General Jackson, who had been inaugurated the previous March, as the President of the United States, he broke out, near the close of his prayer, with the following ardent supplication in behalf of the president: "And, O L rd, wilt thou remember thy servant, the President of these United States, elevated to his high position by the free-will suffrages of his grateful fellow-citizens. Wilt thou bless him, O Lord, and crown him with success; and may he be enabled to put down all his political foes, as he put down the British hosts at the battle of New Orleans."

Such a petition, so out of place at any time in public worship, was more especially as a part of an ordaining prayer, sent a shudder over the assembly, especially the preachers; and Mr. Ballou felt it his duty to administer a faithful rebuke to Mr. Flagg as they walked away from the church at the close of the services. Mr. F. had a strong voice, and it failed none of its power in proffering the petition for President Jackson. This was a disagreeable matter; but on the whole, the session at Winchester was a very happy one.

Dr. Sawyer states the same facts in other words, adding an item about Mr. Streeter that will be enjoyed by those who have seen that gentleman's hair years ago, and who know how earnest and excitable he was. Dr. Sawyer says:

Mr. Flagg was an earnest friend of Jackson, and could not well afford to let an occasion like that pass without telling the universe what he thought on the subject. He therefore entered somewhat at length into an eulogium upon the old hero, and concluded by a very earnest prayer that he might overcome all his political enemies as he had conquered the British at the battle of New Orleans!

I do not know what Br. Streeter's political opinions then were; but I well remember his appearance during this rather odd episode in an ordaining prayer. He stood behind me and directly against the great pulpit window of the old Winchester (N. H.) Meeting House. His arms were extended to their utmost length above his head, not in the ordinary attitude of devotion, however, and his hands grasped the sash violently. His soul was evidently much exercised, for he groaned audibly, and when the prayer, if so it may be called, was ended, he wiped the perspiration from his brow as if he had been through the furnace with Shadrach, Meshech and Abenego! His face flamed, and it seemed to me that his very hair was several shades a deeper red than ordinary. He commanded himself admirably, however, when the ordeal had passed, and delivered a charge, such as few men could deliver, full of spiritual wisdom and grace. In the calm tones of his voice, in the solemnity of his manner, and the eloquence and pathos of his language, one would have recognized no trace of his recent intellectual and æsthetic conflict, but have seen simply the earnest minister of Christ in the performance of a great spiritual duty.

REMOVALS FROM OFFICE.—The following remarks on the removals from office, are interesting both for their historical character, and as touching a matter most disgraceful to the nation and dangerous to its very existence:—

"Gen. Washington during the eight years of his administration made only nine removals; the elder Adams made ten in four years; Mr. Jefferson made forty-two in his eight years, and the consequence was a great outcry; his successor, Mr. Madison, true to the principle he had stated in the first Congress, made only five removals in eight years; John Quincy Adams, only two in four years; but Gen. Jackson inaugurated the present sytem, making two hundred and thirty removals the first year he was in office. Under that sytem the outs are always too many for the ins, and no President since Jackson has ever been re-elected, nor ever will be till the system is changed, though his character should conjoin the virtues of Washington with the abilities of Hamilton.

THE SATANIC PRESS.—The Boston Police on Friday afternoon made a second visit to the office of the "Varieties," and seized the "forms" and some fifteen hundred copies of the paper. Only a portion of the edition was printed, and the advent of the police prevented the completion of the work. The contraband articles were carried to the Chief's office.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer calls upon the old and crippled in the city and all hitherto exempt from duty to turn out and drill for garrison service. It thinks the emergency requires aid from every man in the South.

☞ Eight hundred and forty-three dollars in gold were found upon the person of a woman in New York, arrested the other day for begging.

For the Chronicle

THE BLACK FUTURE.—An anonymous "Somebody" (presumed to be a white man) "says he is more concerned about the black future of the white man," than he is about "the future of the black man in this country," as exhibited by Fred. Douglass in his lecture.

Nothing is more natural than this, (says Uncle Toby) for the members of a race to be anxious for that race especially; and thus it is, that Douglass has, and expresses anxiety for his fellows in color and slavery And supposing, as we do, that the bible was made for white men, we copy a few items from the book, quite suggestive of the fact that men and nations may shade their future with darkness, by sin and folly, or make it glow with light by piety and wisdom.

Solomon says, "The path of the just, is the shining light, that shineth more and and more unto perfect day; but the way of the wicked is as darkness! they know not at what they stumble!" [Their future is black.]

The High and Lofty one that inhabiteth Eternity, speaking by Isaiah, bids his chosen people Israel "to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free and break every yoke"—promising if they do so,—'Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health spring forth speedily!" and again, "If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke—draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul, then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon-day!"

Somebody and everybody will please to take notice that this advice and these promises were given to a Nation as proud as our own, and possibly as wicked;—and that the same God who ruled among the nations then, rules among them now, and judges them much in the same way, viz. making them to eat the fruit of their own doings, and filling them with their own devices.

We look upon the present clouds and darkness, hanging over our nation, as a righteous retribution for evil deeds, and into the future we look with the brightest hopes of regeneration, justice, liberty and prosperity.

We do not belong to the croakers. It is not near so dark now as it was a year ago. The iron clad ship Union is vastly stronger now than it was then, and grows stronger every month, by the hammering of foes without, and traitors within. Let us have courage enough to do right, and we shall soon have more real, substantial prosperity than ever. — U. T.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— We find mentioned a curious case of "kleptomania" in Concord, which is without its parallel certainly in this State. It appears that the dry goods and millinery interest in particular, have been made the victims of a remarkable series of thefts, extending through twelve or fifteen years' time, committed by a female who has resided in Concord for a number of years. The stolen goods are valued at $2000 and include silk and other dress patterns, laces, velvet, handkerchiefs, large quantities of gloves, thread, hose, shawls, needles, pins, shoes, and articles of similar character. They were only acquired, and stored away in large trunks at her boarding place, and it is probable that nearly all the property has been recovered. It is thought the unfortunate woman is a sufferer from mania for theft, and no legal proceedings have been instituted against her. It has been her custom to wear an ample shawl, and by secreting her booty beneath this she has invariably escaped detection. Some days ago she was observed to be laboring under extreme depression of spirits, and at length she asked her employer if he was intending to send her to prison because of her thefts He thought her insane, and so free was she deemed from any cause for suspicion, that it was not until after repeated declarations of guilt that any examination was made of her effects. Among the recovered property were found goods owned by men who went out of business more than seven years ago, together with much that it is impossible to identify.

—— The Mirror states that Dr. B. Nelson, Major of the New England Cavalry, was brought to Manchester on Thursday night from Rhode Island, on a requisition by Gov. Berry, on a charge of converting to his own use $10,000 belonging to the Mechanic's Perpetual Loan Fund Association, of Manchester. Friday morning he was arraigned before the Police Court, and gave bonds in the sum of $2000 to answer further on Saturday morning. Dr. Nelson was Treasurer of the Company for six years, and his accounts were not inquired into until after he joined the Cavalry.

☞ Capt. Fox, Asst. Sec. of the Navy, returned from Fortress Monroe on Thursday. He has had some additions made to the defences of the Monitor since the fight. Her pilot-house had perpendicular square sides, and the concussion of a Merrimac ball on the house near the lookout, is what injured Lieut. Worden, and checked the fight. Her pilot-house has now angular fronts, from which a ball will glance as from her slooping sides.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.

	Berry.	Stark.	Wheeler

		1553
Deduct	29098	Scat 56
Berry's maj.,	2276	29098

There remain to be heard from 18 towns, the vote of which in March, 1861, was as follows: Berry, 958; Stark, 1230. Taking that vote for present purposes, Berry's majority will be about 2004.

The whole vote this year is about 62,500. Last year it was 67,142. The shrinking of this vote is easily accounted for. It amounts to only 4642 by the above figures; but call it 5000, and then remember that we have 7 or 8,000 men absent in the army and a few in the navy, more than last year; remember also that in the late canvass of the 2d Regiment about five-eighths of the men proved to be legal voters; which would go to show that were our men at home as last year, the vote would be almost exactly the same in amount, and nearly the same as to parties, save the Wheeler vote.

The Concord Statesman has a list of 286 representatives of whom 182 are Republicans. Towns to hear from are likely to choose 24 Democrats and 10 Republicans. If so, the Republican majority will be 77.—Half a dozen representatives are classed as of the third or Union party.

Nine of the twelve Senators are republicans.

The next Council will consist of the following gentlemen: First district, Richard P. J. Tenney, of Pittsfield; Second, Oliver Wyatt, of Dover; Third, Oliver Pillsbury, of Henniker; Fourth, Charles F. Brooks, of Westmoreland, and in the Fifth, there is probably no choice. If so, Ethan Colby, of Colebrook, will be elected by the Legislature, thus making the Council all Republicans.

THE REBELLION.

New Madrid is ours. It is a town in the southeastern part of Missouri, on a bend of the Mississippi river, several miles below Columbus, where the retreating rebels had made a stand with a force of nearly 10,000 men, with four gunboats at anchor off the town. It was invested by the army of Gen. Pope, and some skirmishes took place there a week ago, in which several of our troops were killed by shells thrown from the rebel gunboats. The place was evacuated on Thursday night, after some fighting between the rebel gunboats and our siege batteries, in which we lost 20 killed and wounded. A shot from one of their guns dismounted one of our 24 pounders, killing four or five. The loss of the enemy is not known, they carrying off their dead and wounded.

It is also reported that Island No. 10 has been evacuated.

Gen. Hooker was of the opinion that at 9 o'clock on Friday the rebels had not abandoned Fredericksburg. Firing from the Aquia Creek batteries Friday night seems to confirm the opinion. Information from Union Mills is of similar importance. It is ascertained that the rebels employed five hundred cars and from thirty to forty locomotives, in effecting their retreat from Manassas, but this not being sufficient, a large part of the army moved south by the Warrenton turnpike.

The Memphis papers suggest daily prayer meetings to supplicate God to give success to the Confederate cause.

A dispatch from St. Louis asserts that when the rebels evacuated New Madrid, they left all their artillery, field batteries, tents, wagons, mules, &c., and an immense quantity of military stores. It was the last rebel stronghold in Missouri, and no rebel flag is now flying in the State.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says:

The War Department has authorized Gen. Halleck to supersede Gen. Grant, unless he should ask to be relieved, on account of bad conduct at Fort Donelson and elsewhere.

Com. Stevens of the Stevens' battery has obtained permission from the Secretary of War to make use of the 15-inch gun at Fortress Monroe, to be placed upon his steam propeller Naugatuck, to be used in defense of New York harbor, and to attack the Merrimac in event of her appearance.

☞ A Liverpool letter of the 1st inst. states that the Bermuda was nearly ready to sail. The rebels have also a gunboat nearly ready to be delivered to the owner at Malta. She is taking in stores for a six months' voyage. The Bermuda has rifled and other cannon aboard in convenient position to be discharged. It is not improbable that the two vessels will meet at sea and partially exchange cargoes.

☞ It is rumored that the sloop-of-war John Adams is to be razeed, and turned over to Capt. Ericsson to be iron-plated.

☞ The Last Gun from the Cumberland was fired just as she settled to the bottom and on the very moment of its discharge, gun and gunner went to the bottom together. In all the stories of Greek heroism or Roman firmness, there is nothing exceeding this.

☞ To day, Monday, March 17th, is St. Patrick's day—a day, which with the Irishmen is a national festival, binding him to fatherland and its church. Whatever loyalty he has for the Fourth of July, he will never forget his allegiance to the Seventeenth of March.

☞ It is stated that the proposed national tax on manufacturers, if agreed to, will make Gov. Sprague's firm in Rhode Island, pay a tax annually of $125,000.

☞ A subscription paper is in circulation among the New York merchants, which is intended as a suitable testimonial to Captain Ericsson for his services as an inventor, and handsome sums have been subscribed.

☞ Nearly 900,000 persons, four and a half per cent. of our population, are (says the London Spectator) now receiving parish relief; a terrible background to all our pictures of English prosperity.

☞ Hon. Robert Toombs, in his letter declining an election as a rebel Senator, says he has determined that he can now better serve his State and country in the army than in the Senate.

☞ Gov. Brown, of Georgia, has come out in a long letter against the planting of the usual amount of land with cotton this year, and in favor of making a large provision crop.

So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part—
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few.
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt every one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

A CHANGE.

Having disposed of my milk business from this date to my son CHARLES H. HAYES, I would hereby express my thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the past TWENTY YEARS; and would respectfully request a continuance of the same to my successor.

All Milk bills contracted since the first of January, 1862, will be settled by CHARLES H. HAYES.

CHARLES HAYES.

Portsmouth, March 1

Having purchased the milk business as above, I would announce to the present customers and all others who may wish to favor me with their patronage that the business will be conducted as heretofore. Nothing but the purest article of NEW MILK will be sold. Every exertion will be made to insure its prompt delivery at the earliest possible hour.

Having retained the services of Mr. JOHN P. SWEETSER as Agent, all persons wishing to take Milk will please leave their orders with him, or at PLUMER'S Bakery, and they shall be promptly attended to.

Great pains will be taken to make the change satisfactory to all. CHARLES H. HAYES.

Local.

☞ We learn that Rev. A. L. Stone of Boston, is to deliver the closing lecture of the course of Popular Lectures in this city, on Monday evening, March 31st. As Mr. Stone is considered a fine speaker, he will doubtless be met by a large audience.

☞ Thomas C. Sumner, aged 18 years, a native of Massachusetts, who was one of the crew of the U. S. ship Constellation, died, with measles, at the Naval Hospital, Portsmouth Navy Yard, March 11th.

☞ We give in another column, a communication from one of our oldest and most esteemed correspondents, commenting on (a rather strict construction of) "Somebody's" squib concerning Fred Douglass, &c. Now that paragraph was written mainly for a joke, and was from the pen of one who don't fear a black future for anybody, any more than he believes in a hard past or present for the slaves at the South—who thinks they are as well off as they would be if freed,—or as most other "poor folks" are, and better than if their ancestors had never been brought to America. Further, that the black man has been the engrossing subject in our government,—including politics, literature and religion—almost ever since its foundation—and that it seems nothing more than fair that he should stand back for the white man now. The nigger has had the past—let us own his poor white brother at least his equal, and give him the "future."

A Learned Cat.—Mr. Southwick, at his store in Newburyport, keeps a puss which he has taught many ingenious tricks that make her a curiosity. She will not only scratch when he orders—which is more than can be said of Jeff. Davis' troops*—but what is more uncommon, when in a tempest of passion, at a mere shake of the finger, she will lie as quietly as a lamb, and mew as lovingly as though she never had a claw. She will sit up on her hind legs and give her paw to shake hands like a little lady. She will jump or lie still as commanded; will open a door as handily as a child, and has various ways of expressing her likes and dislikes, manifesting a greater degree of intelligence than we have ever seen before in one of her species.—Herald.

* Yes—they will "scratch gravel."

We once had a cat that would roll over and over if any one whistled slowly and softly in his hearing—and would begin the motion, no matter whether he had been running about or lying asleep, and keep it up for any reasonable period—but if you began or changed into too quick time or shrill tone, pussy would shake his head and run from the room. We think our cat was wiser than the other—for anybody knows what they are taught, but our kitty took to this, "natural."

☞ As the recent order of Sec. Stanton prohibits the publication of the movements of troops from one State to another, we, of course, refrain from mentioning some that have recently taken place, although some of our contemporaries have been less cautious.

☞ In the Massachusetts House of Representatives, on Friday, Gov. Andrew was authorized to use any portion of the sum heretofore appropriated for the purchase, to building one or more Ericsson or other iron-clad steamers, for the coast defence of Massachusetts.

☞ Mr. Spaulding Wheeler, of Brookfield, Mass., was so affected at the sight of his grandson, who had been kicked by a horse and badly wounded, that, after the utterance of a few words expressive of the deepest anguish, he fell backward to the floor and immediately expired. The child is likely to get well.

☞ Mr. John A. Bates, of Boston, formerly of this city, and son of Paymaster John A. Bates of the U. S. Navy, on Friday was appointed, by the Secretary of the Navy, Assistant Paymaster in the Navy.

☞ The resolution to expel Mr. Powell of Kentucky from his seat in the Senate, for alleged disloyalty, was rejected on Friday by a vote of 11 yeas to 28 nays.

☞ It is confidently asserted that three more "Merrimacs" are fitting up in Southern ports—at Mobile two, and New Orleans one.

☞ Why do they call a hog "dressed," only when he is undressed?

☞ General McDowell has been confirmed as Major General of volunteers.

DEATHS.

In this city, Sunday, March 16, Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Mathes, aged 47, wife of Mr. Jeremiah M. Mathes.

In Exeter, 3d inst., Mrs. Susan Lane, aged 26, wife of Oliver Lane.

YEARNINGS FOR SPRING.

Would that the balmy days of Spring would come!
My heart's sick pulse beats wearily to and fro,
While earth is lying cold and deathly dumb,
Wrapt in white cerements of the winter's snow.
O sweetest of all sweet-recurring times—
Thou bright and earnest childhood of the year,
How childlike come you! Thou art filled with passionate rhymes
Would smile and pierce old Winter's frozen ear;
And call from deepest chaos dream
Of night-like dread and white bewildering night
Thy warm and mellow eves, and morns of lavish light.

Arise, O spirit of Spring! with fervent song
Sweep over you lone white wold and woodland bleak;
With soft magnetic touches thrill and throng
Each sluggard sense, and flush the pallid cheek.
Break up the barren silence! chill and mute,
Even the stormcock shuns the rushing rain;
Alone the robin pipes his piteous flute
Chanted by the far-off glimmering casement pane—
Nor pines to my lone ear in vain;
And dusky horses of wildfire, hungry and spare,
From frozen mountain meres, driven seaward,
clang the air.

When I look forth, thoughtful, to see where lie
The old familiar places of my love—
Wide wastes, slow drifting, circle my and eye
With swirling storms of snow and sleet above—
A dreamy realm where no soft shadows fall,
No sounds arise, save whispers from afar.
Heard spirit-deep, as Time should wearily call
To silence wearier—"We only are!"
Nor Sun nor moon, nor lonely star
Comfort the desolate land; and his white head
Weird Winter lays along the grave of all things dead.

O for a potent spell to shape awhile
A gorgeous pageant of enchanted days,
When Hope, the ariel of Life's lonely isle,
Charmed with sweet airs all childhood's flowery ways!
O that on plumes of swift and silent thought
In wide and widening rings my soul would rise
Over these late dark days, till memory caught
Far off, the marvelous gleams of sunset skies;
Thence fondly feasting her lone eyes
With all the spirit splendors of the past
That on the years unborn their rosy reflex cast!

A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

Also

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

Chronicle Office, Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, on good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

F. S.—Feb. 8, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

We shall also add other names soon, unless they are cleared from our books by payment.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will have at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undesirable ones.

☞ Sec. Stanton has appointed Hon. Joseph Holt and the Hon. Robert Dale Owen a special committee to audit and adjust all contract orders and claims on the War Department in respect to ordnance, arms and ammunition. Should they find that any agent or employee of the War Department was interested in any contract for ordnance, arms or ammunition, or received any consideration for its procurement, the Secretary orders that such fact shall be good cause for adjudging the claim to be fraudulent.

☞ Ship Moses Davenport, 900 tons burthen, built at Newburyport in 1855, has been sold at Calcutta for 65,000 rupees, ($32,000). She was owned by the estate of Moses Davenport, John Osgood, T. & E. Choate, and John Currier, Jr., of Newburyport; Capt. Lambert, of Portsmouth, and Capt. Hill, of Boston.

Ship J. Montgomery, lately ashore on the rocks, foot of 9th street, East River, is now on the balance dock at New York for repairs. She has sustained considerable damage to her bottom, about twenty feet of her keel aft being torn off and copper badly chafed. She will be stripped, recaulked, newly coppered, and receive a portion of new keel.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, on Friday, Mr. Hale, of this State, introduced a bill authorizing the building of a steam iron-clad ram and steam gunboats; also to complete the Stevens battery. The bill appropriates one million of dollars for the ram, thirteen millions for gunboats, and three-quarters of a million for the battery. Referred.

Lord Brougham, says a correspondent, of the Manchester Guardian, is much respected by the inhabitants of the Canons; "but the lower orders cannot make out why so great a millionaire should persist in wearing a hat for which no one in his senses would give a couple of centimes."

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States and in all the principal foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed with the utmost care and despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its numerous branches and well-paid Examiners, and ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that NONE IS MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other Office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved Inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse".

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, or more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for Private Use; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other salesmen. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in far or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive our prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancer, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and false coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 2, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.
Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1y30

PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

It is the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably
SUPERSEDE ALL OTHER HAIR-BRUSHES

Whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who, have examined it, pronounce it a complete success.

It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot possibly get out of order; is compact, elegant, durable, and WILL SAVE TWICE ITS OWN PRICE, within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,
THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!
Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.
FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 1862.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

"Anonymous" thinks "the word of encouragement to the lover, is Persist," in that Stripes Riddle. The same answer has been given before in these columns.

"S. P., Kittery Point," says they used to take the Daily Chronicle at the store where he trades, but he looks in vain for it now; and he suggests that we send them a few copies, and perhaps the new store-keepers will take it. In reply, we will merely say that we never yet sent our paper (except where it was ordered, and we don't believe we shall begin to do so at this late day in our experience. Why don't S. P. order it himself?

"Homo" says, "Persons who attended the North Church last Sunday, can form some idea of the temperature of the churches in olden time, when stoves were not in vogue." Perhaps, religious zeal was warmer in those days, not to mention the theological teachings of "the fathers." Churches, now-a-days, are oftener too warm than too cool.

AN IMPROVED POSTAL LAW.

An admirable measure has just been introduced into Congress in a new postal bill, prepared by Mr. John Hutchins of Ohio.—We confess to a good deal of gratification to see a Western member of Congress frame a bill so clearly adapted to the commercial and social wants of the country.—The great bulk of the correspondence is from the densely populated commercial states of the North and East, and it is these communities that a vast increase of letters proceed from at each reduction of postage. In 1845—and for many years previous—our postal income was four million dollars, without any increase of revenue for many years. Then the postage averaged from 12 to 15 cents a letter. Now the postage is 3 cents a letter, and the annual revenue of the Post Office for two years has been over $9,000,000. The lowest point or rate, for profit or convenience, has not been reached. Two cents for all letters, as provided in Mr. Hutchins' bill, will bring more revenue, and be far more convenient and economical to the people and the Post Office than several rates. This bill provides for a uniform rate on letters of two cents, except to California, which will be eight cents. On printed matter the several hundred rates now in use are reduced to a limited number without one price for one sort of matter and another for another, with distinctions and differences for every imaginable reason (but without rhyme, sense or reason in any of them) till no one can ever learn or understand them. The bill cuts off newspaper exchanges, abolishes the franking privilege, and provides for the payment of all Government postages out of the Treasury. It also provides for a Post Office Money Order Office,—a safe and secure way of remitting money by mail—a letter delivery by carriers in cities without any extra charge, and for various minor improvements. It provides for one or more cheap Postal Guides to be published by the Postmaster General, as is done in England, to be distributed and sold for the information of postmasters and the public.

This bill ought to pass. It will be the greatest possible aid to our commerce, trade, and manufactures, and will bring more revenue to the Post Office—if all reductions in postage heretofore made are any guide whatever—and will enable the producing and trading classes to extend their business and make money, and meet the heavy taxation that all are ready to pay. If Mr. Colfax, the Chairman of the Post Office Committee, will urge this bill to a passage by his official position, and his powerful eloquence, he will prove that he is acquainted with the commercial wants of the country, and make for himself a position throughout the length and breadth of the land and particularly at the East, that few Western men have ever had.

☞ The words of James Guthrie grow more and more inspiring: "The work of restoration is more than half accomplished; the Union is bound to endure completely and everlastingly; the United States of America is soon to command the respect and fair treatment of all the nations on earth."

The policy of putting down a pro-slavery insurrection upon pure pro slavery principles is an absurdity.—N. Y. Tribune.

We suppose you think that you see the sense of trying to put down an anti-constitutional rebellion upon pure anti-constitutional principles.—Louisville Journal.

☞ The military authorities at Fortress Monroe have been relieved from the care of the numerous "contrabands" in that Department, and they are turned over to the management of Mr. Charles B. Wilder, who has been appointed "Superintendant of Vagrants."

If we desire to perfect and perpetuate the work which our armies have begun, the government must see to it that the rights of free speech and free press are henceforth firmly maintained in the South.—New York Post.

To "South" add "North," and the Post leaves nothing to be said.—N. Y. World.

☞ The grave of Col. Cameron having, it is said, been found at Bull Run, the body has been carried to Georgetown, D. C., and is awaiting the orders of his brother, Gen. Cameron.

A SAD MEMORIAL OF A NOBLE SAILOR now lies open before us, making us feel how sad a thing is war, and how essential it is that the present war should be pressed forward with vigor to the speedy crushing down of rebellion and the rebels, and to the stability of peace, freedom and good government to the whole nation.

The Memorial is a letter from Nicholas Gargiulo, an Italian seaman in the United States navy, written some time ago on board the Cumberland, at Newport News. It derives the keenness and the sadness of its interest, from the fact that the writer went down with that vessel into his watery grave. He was ward-room steward of the ship, and in the battle was engaged in passing powder. His station was in the ward-room; he did not leave it, but was overtaken by the water as it poured in.

Mr. Gargiulo was a native of Naples, and from a family in comfortable circumstances there. He came here in the U. S. service, with parser Bates, and was known and esteemed by many persons here. He writes thus, from Newport News, to a friend here:

"We had, at Hatteras, a two days' engagement, which was terrible, from beginning to the end, the Cumberland using her Dahlgren and pivot guns in such a manner as to compel the enemy to succumb to our stars and stripes.

We have had, since, some little skirmishes, and the Cumberland always came out victorious. May she never do less. At present we are lying here at Newport News. The rebels have raised up the frigate Merrimac, and are theatening to come and take us.

We are looking for them every day;—and if they should come, you may depend that we will give them a good reception, so much so as to satisfy them that the Cumberland still lives. Friend ——, never fear for our ship; when she shall be taken by the rebels, it will be merely smoke, and we will go down with our glorious stars and stripes."

The above, written three or four months ago, now looks like prophecy,—and looks also, as if what was known to such a sailor, ought to have been heeded at Washington.

CHURCH BURNED.—The Union Church in Portland, of which Rev. Henry D. Moore is pastor, was destroyed by fire on Saturday evening last. The tower and walls of the church are left standing, but it is doubtful whether the latter are sufficiently strong to build upon. The chime of bells, which cost $4,000, remains uninjured. Some of the pew furniture, and the carpets in the house, were saved. The organ was destroyed. The church was built in 1856, and cost, including land, organ and the chime of bells, about $45,000. About $5,000 was paid for the land. There was insurance upon the building for $15,000; the organ and furniture were also insured for $5,000. The fire is supposed to have originated from some defect in the smoke pipe in the attic. It was but a few days ago the building caught fire in the attic from the same cause. This is the first church edifice ever destroyed by fire in Portland. An old Methodist Church was burned down a year or two since, but it had been sold and was occupied for other purposes.

While the fire was raging with the utmost fury, some individual made his way to the tower and commenced to chime the bells. The effect was startling. The hissing, crackling flames, whirled high above the doomed church by the furious blasts of the storm, the shriek of the fierce winds that fed the destroying element, the peculiar and not unmusical refrain of the hardy firemen, mingled with the wild melody of the chiming bells, produced an effect upon those present not soon to be forgotten.

IMMORTELLES.

Is there, when the winds are singing
In the happy summer-time—
When the captured air is ringing
With earth's music heavenward springing,
Forest chirp and village chime!
Is there, of the sounds that float
Mingling, a single note
Half so sweet, and clear, and mild
As the laughter of a child!

Listen! and be now delighted,
Morn hath touched her golden strings;
Earth and sky their vows have plighted;
Life and light are re united,
Amid countless carollings;
Yet, delicious as they are,
There's a sound that's sweeter far—
One that makes the heart rejoice
More than all,—the human voice!

Organ finer, deeper, clearer,
Though it be a stranger's tone;
Than the winds or waters dearer,
More enchanting to the hearer,
For it answereth to his own.
But of all its witching words,
Sweeter than the songs of birds
Those are sweetest, bubbling wild
Through the laughter of a child.

—Lamon Blanchard.

THE FROST.

The Frost looked forth one still, clear night,
And whispered, "Now I shall be out of sight;
So through the valley and over the height,
In silence I'll take my way.
I will not go on like that blustering train—
The wind and the snow, the hail and the rain,
Who make so much bustle and noise in vain,
But I'll be as busy as they."

Then he flew to the mountain and powdered its crest;
He lit on the trees, and their boughs he dressed
In diamond beads; and over the breast
Of the quivering lake he spread
A coat of mail, that he need not fear
The downward points of many a spear
That he hung on its margin, far and near,
Where a rock could raise its head.

He went to the windows of those who slept,
And over each pane, like a fairy crept;
Wherever he breathed, wherever he stepped,
By the light of the moon were seen
Most beautiful things; there were flowers and trees,
There were bevies of birds and swarms of bees;
There were cities with temples and towers; and these
All pictured in silver sheen!

—Hannah F. Gould

THE REBELLION.

At the battle of Pea Ridge, Ark., which lasted three days, the rebels are said to have used stone in their cannon when their shot gave out. Their force is stated at 25,000, including 2200 Indians under Albert Pike. As near as could be ascertained, our loss was 500 killed and 800 to 1000 wounded. The rebel Surgeons who came to dress the wounds of their fallen, acknowledge a loss of 1100 killed and from 2500 to 3000 wounded. We took 1600 prisoners and 13 pieces of cannon, 10 of which were captured by Gen. Sigel's command. Two of our cannon were taken by the rebels, but were recaptured by our troops—The rebels were completely defeated, one division under Gen. Price flying in one direction, and the other under Gen. Van Dorn, taking another.

The N. Y. Times' Washington dispatch says:—

Reliable information has been received through the sworn statements of four railroad men employed by the rebels in the removal of their forces, that up to last Friday week the rebels had between 90,000 and 100,000 men at and near Manassas, 25,000 between there and Aquia Creek, and 12,000 at Winchester, Leesburg, &c., all of whom could have been concentrated at Manassas at a day's notice. The rebels were able to concentrate at a brief notice 500 railroad cars. They never talked of evacuating till after the fall of Fort Donelson, when they freely said they should have to retreat whenever McClellan advanced. They declared that the roads had been so horrible that they were obliged to convey provisions from Manassas to Aquia Creek on pack mules, and finally the men were moved nearer to Manassas to be provisioned.

The rebels, in their retreat from Manassas, burnt storehouses and railroad cars, containing supplies, but at one point were found 52 freight cars loaded with commissary stores, valued at $20,000. The fire the enemy kindled failed to consume them.

A letter from New Madrid, Mo., of the 11th, pronounced the fort at that point impregnable, and said it would be made the American Thermopylæ. This, however, did not prevent the evacuation of the place by the rebels as soon as Gen. Pope contracted his lines around it.

An expedition consisting of the gunboats Benton, Louisville, Cincinnati, Carondelet, and Conestoga, under Flag-Officer Foote, left Cairo at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. At Columbus they were joined by the Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Mound City, and were overtaken by eight mortar boats in tow of four steamers with transports and advance boats. The expedition reached Hickman, Ky., on Saturday afternoon. At half past five Sunday morning, the flotilla got under way and dropped down the river slowly till about seven o'clock, when, being about six miles above Island No. 10, they discovered a rebel stern-wheel steamer run out from the shelter of a point on the Kentucky shore and steam down the river. Four shells were thrown after her, but the distance was too great for effect. At 2 P. M. the boats were within range of the Island and momentarily expected to open fire, but as yet nothing had been heard from the enemy. There appeared to be a large rebel force on the Kentucky shore: 13 guns were counted in position on the bluff. A large number of transports were seen busily engaged around the Island, but it could not be determined what they were doing. The much talked-of floating battery was also seen.

We are indebted to Wm. H. Brewster, Esq., of Boston, for a slip from the Traveller office containing a dispatch dated Cairo, Sunday evening, which says:—

Com. Foote is shelling the rebels at Island No. 10 on the Mississippi river. Gen. Pope's batteries prevent their escape down the river by means of their gunboats. The rebels are said to be 15,000 or 20,000 strong. Their gunboats are understood to be engaging Gen. Pope's batteries.

A SWINDLER.—A man about 30 years old, of plausible appearance, by representing himself to be a son of a well-known member of the profession has, swindled several physicians in Boston out of sums varying from $10 to $50, under the pretence that he has been robbed. He played a similar swindling game in New York, Philadelphia, and other cities. In Philadelphia he bled the brethren of about $300. He is the scamp who travelled about last Fall as "Colonel," appearing at Concord, N. H., as Col. Nelson, of Lancaster, Penn., and at other places as Col. Porter, Col. Parker Col. Lawrence, &c.

☞ The rebels have lost seventeen of their Generals by wounds, resignation and suicide, during the war. The Union army has lost but two—one was killed in the saddle, the other died of sickness produced by wounds.

☞ Mr. Patterson, lately appointed U. S. Consul at Maranham, Brazil, died ten days after arriving at that yellow fever locality.

☞ Rev. A. Bonnerman, of the Mayo street Universalist Church, in Richmond, has been arrested by the rebels on a charge of treason.

GEN. McCLELLAN ARCHING ON!

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC,
Fairfax Court House, Va., March 14.

Soldiers of the Army of the Potomac:—For a long time I have kept you inactive but not for want of purpose. You were to be disciplined, armed and instructed. The formidable artillery you now have, had to be created. Other armies were to move and accomplish certain results. I have held you back that you might give the death blow to the rebellion that has distracted our once happy country. The patience you have shown and your confidence in your General are worthy of a dozen victories.—These preliminary results are now accomplished. I feel that the patient labors of many months have produced their fruit.—The army of the Potomac is now a real army, magnificent in material, admirable in discipline and instruction, and excellently equipped and armed. Your commanders are all that I could wish. The moment for action has arrived and I know that I can trust in you to save our country.

As I ride through your ranks I see in your faces the sure prestige of victory. I feel that you will do whatever I ask of you. The period of inaction has passed. I will bring you now face to face with the rebels, and only pray that God may defend the right. In whatever direction you may move, however strange my actions may appear to you, ever bear in mind that my fate is linked with yours and that all I do is to bring you where I know you wish to be, on the decisive battle field. It is my business to place you there. I am to watch over you as a parent over his children, and you know that your General loves you from the depths of his heart. It shall be my care, it has ever been, to gain success with the least possible loss, but I know that if it is necessary you will follow me to your graves for our righteous cause. God smiles upon us. Victory attends us. Yet I would not have you think that our aim is to be obtained without a manly struggle. I will not disguise it from you that you have brave foes to encounter—foemen well worthy of the steel that you will use so well. I shall demand of you great heroic exertions, rapid and long marches, desperate combats and privations perhaps. We will share all these together, and when this mad war is over we will all return to our homes and feel that we can ask no higher honor than the proud consciousness that we belonged to the army of the Potomac.

GEO. B. McCLELLAN,
Major General Commanding.

☞ Parson Brownlow and his son have reached Nashville. He says he was imprisoned in the common jail at Knoxville, Dec. 5th, in violation of an agreement with the rebel government. He was confined in a small damp room, where he was attacked with the typhoid fever. He was then removed to his residence, and was laid up eight weeks. He was under strict guard all this time. He proceeds North to publish a story of his martyrdom. He is not affected by consumption as reported.

☞ Capt. Ericsson the builder of the Monitor, expresses a firm belief that his battery will sink the Merrimac on her next appearance. He says they shot too high, and should have taken the Merrimac near the water line, where she would have received the full force of the shot. They failed to throw their largest shot, also, for fear the guns would explode. The next embrace of the monsters, he predicts, will be more terrible, and for the Merrimac a death struggle.

The N. Y. Tribune has taken to infamous private personal attacks upon McClellan. Civil war is an awful calamity, but what's Greeley?—Boston Post.

A CHANGE.
Having disposed of my milk business from this date to my son CHARLES H. HAYES, I would hereby express my thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the past twenty years; and would respectfully request a continuance of the same to my successor.
All Milk bills contracted since the first of January, 1862, will be settled by CHARLES H. HAYES.
CHARLES HAYES.
Portsmouth, March 1
Having purchased the milk business as above, I would announce to the present customers and all others who may wish to favor me with their patronage that the business will be conducted as heretofore. Nothing but the purest article of NEW MILK will be sold. Every exertion will be made to insure its prompt delivery at the earliest possible hour.
Having retained the services of Mr. JOHN F. SWEETSER as Agent, all persons wishing to take Milk will please leave their orders with him, or at PLUMER'S Bakery, and they shall be promptly attended to.
Great pains will be taken to make the change satisfactory to all. CHARLES H. HAYES.

REMARKABLE HEROISM. — Portsmouth Shares in it.—In speaking of the great naval battle near Norfolk, between the sloop-of-war Cumberland and the iron clad monster Merrimac, the Boston Journal pays the following richly earned compliment to the crew of the Cumberland :—

"If to deserve success is better than often times to gain it, then Lieut. Maurice and the gallant crew of the ill-fated Cumberland merit the admiration and thanks of the whole loyal country. The sight of such an invulnerable monster as the Merrimac bearing straight down upon a wooden vessel, not in the least affected by a half a dozen broadsides, would have unnerved many a crew. But it had no effect on the gallant sailors of the Cumberland. They kept up their rapid firing till the iron monster crashed her horn into the side of the Cumberland, knocking in a hole as large as the head of a hogshead. Even then, while the water was rushing in like a flood, and the vessel going down, and the Merrimac, at the distance of three hundred yards, was pouring in murderous broadsides, the men fought till the last gun was submerged. The fight continued three quarters of an hour; and the firing of the Cumberland's guns was so accurate that when one of the Merrimac's crew crept out of a port to the outside of her plated roof, a ball instantly cut him in two! We do not believe that there is an action on record which shows more heroic fighting than this hopeless one on the part of the Cumberland. She lies now in fifty-four feet of water, with the stars and stripes still flying from her topmast; but a grateful country will honor her commander and surviving crew, and honor as best she may, the departed braves who went down with their ship."

As the official account may not be published for some days, we deem it a duty and a pleasure to let the world know that six of these gallant defenders of the Cumberland were natives or citizens of Portsmouth, and vicinity, viz :

Wm. M. Laigton, carpenter, injured, but doing well.

Eugene Mack, gunner.

Nicholas Garginlo, ward room steward, drowned.

—— Webber, of Kittery, coxswain, legs shot off, and drowned.

—— Pierce, seaman.

Thomas Moore, ward room boy, slightly wounded in the face.

Walter Gray and Frederick Willey, boys.

It is with pleasure and pride we make this record, not only that it affords an opportunity to do honor to these brave men now, but that it may be made known to future generations that Portsmouth, N. H., claims to have furnished her share of those who fought "the great Battle of the Cumberland."

The Norfolk Day Book, in its account of the ravages of the Merrimac, pays a high compliment to the bravery of the officers and crew of the ill-fated Cumberland. In describing the sinking of that ship, it says:

"When the Cumberland had sunk to her white streak she still continued her fire.

A gallant man fought that ship—a man worthy to have maintained a better cause. Gun after gun he fired, lower and lower sunk his ship—his last discharge comes from his pivot gun—the ship lurches to starboard, now to port, his flag streams out wildly, and now the Cumberland goes down on her beam ends, at once a monument and an epitaph of the gallant men who fought her."

☞ Mr. William Dearborn, aged about 53 years, fell down on Market Square about 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon, apparently in a fit, and died instantly. He was a cabinet maker by trade, and leaves a family.

☞ Letters, dated Mar. 9, have been received in this city, from Mr. Charles Ridge, Co. K, 2d N. H. Regiment, who was taken prisoner at the battle of Bull Run. He was then, with others, confined at Salisbury, N. C., but expected to be released soon.

IMPOSSIBILITY OF BOARDING THE MERRIMAC.—It is stated that the Cumberland, which fought the impenetrable iron-clad frigate with a desperate courage worthy of Paul Jones, made three attempts to board her antagonist while she was in collision with her, but from the peculiar shape of this armored vessel this was found to be an impossibility.

☞ William Brown, of the Mackerel Brigade, N. Y. V. M., writes from Manassas :—"We have met the enemy, and they are hours—ahead of us !"

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for April, is here, prompt as a gun, to open the Spring, with elegant fashions, fine engravings, and lively literature.

☞ Arthur's Home Magazine for April is published ;—the Nos. for this year sustain the well-earned reputation of the work.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for April has a curious shopping scene for a frontispiece labelled, "Ruinous Prices."

"Fred," said a little four-year old, "give me sixpence to buy a monkey." "We've got one monkey in the house now," replied the elder brother. "Who is it, Fred ?" asked the little fellow. "You," was the reply. "Then give me sixpence to buy the monkey some nuts." His brother "shelled out."

☞ The Secretary of War has informed a friend of Gen. Fremont that no court of inquiry would be ordered in his case, as there was nothing on which to base it.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, such as politics cannot do to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child (twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

Also

COLE'S COMET BURNER,

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

AN O[illegible]

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the [illegible]

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized, [illegible]
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it sup-
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part—
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt every one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which pay ment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Oct. 5, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

We shall also add other names soon, unless they are cleared from our books by payment.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will have at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undesirable ones.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE

—OR—

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of Reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of JAMES F. SHORES, Jr.,

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching thesame. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished for Ten Dollars. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not possessed by not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that more REJECTED APPLICATIONS AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive the most careful attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

HIS PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and bowels complaints, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

HIS FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

HIS CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppression of lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.

Rev. EDWIN BURNHAM."

PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably
SUPERSEDE ALL OTHER HAIR-BRUSHES

Whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it, pronounce it a complete success.

It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot possibly get out of order; is compact, elegant, durable, and WILL SAVE TWICE ITS OWN PRICE, within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

Please call and examine, buy and use them.—Sold at the Medicine Store of

And examine the PATENT

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

According to the official report of Gen. Pope to Gen. Halleck, the success of the National arms at New Madrid, Mo., is even greater than at first reported. Twenty-five pieces of heavy artillery—24-pounders and rifled—thirty-two batteries of field artillery, an immense quantity of fixed ammunition, several thousand small arms, hundreds of boxes of musket cartridges, three hundred mules, tents for an army of 12,000 men, and an immense quantity of other property of not less value than a million of dollars, have fallen into our hands, only the men themselves escaping.

The gunboat and mortar fleet of Com. Foote have driven the rebels from their strongly fortified position on Island No. 10, in the Mississippi river. The enemy's forces succeeded in escaping, as they did from New Madrid, leaving their artillery and military stores, with several vessels of war and transports as prize to the victors. Gen. Halleck announced, Monday evening, at St. Louis, that another victory had been gained in Arkansas. The next defended points the rebels hold on the Mississippi are Forts Wright and Randolph, sixty miles above Memphis, on the Chickasaw bluffs.—The works there are of Gen. Pillow's construction, and more remarkable for their elaborateness than for strength. They are exposed to bombardment from the Hatchee river, which enters the Mississippi a short distance above Fort Randolph.

The victory in Arkansas, spoken of by Gen. Halleck, was at Salem, Fulton county, where our troops encountered a largely superior force of rebels, and after a sharp fight routed them, killing 100 and taking many prisoners, among them three colonels. Our loss was about 50.

The N. Y. Times says a new military department has been created, which is composed of the States of South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, and Maj. Gen. Hunter has been assigned to the command. Headquarters are to be at Beaufort.

It is said that a brigade of rebels, consisting of infantry, cavalry and artillery, approached within a mile of Manassas, Sunday night, but did not venture to attack our outposts there.

The World's Washington dispatch says: We have private advices that Fredericksburg has been occupied by the Union troops. Our reports state that the capture was effected on Sunday. We have no particulars except that the rebels failed in their attempt to destroy the cars on the railroad track there.

Gen. Burnside's expedition left Roanoke Island on the 11th inst., for the purpose of capturing the city of Newbern, N. C., and reached the Neuse river on the evening of the 12th. The troops were landed at a point fifteen miles below Newbern. On Thursday, the 13th, the army reached a distance of eight miles, notwithstanding a rain storm prevailed, and then bivouacked for the night. On Friday morning Gen. Burnside attacked a force of 10,000 rebels posted in a very strong position, and after four hours of sanguinary fighting, the enemy fled precipitately, and set fire to Newbern, but our troops immediately followed in and quenched the flames. The enemy's works were very extensive, being a mile and a half long, with thirty guns. Five other batteries were also deserted by the fleeing rebels. The rebels had placed formidable obstructions in Neuse river, but they were overcome. Ninety-one Federal troops were killed, including Lieut. Col. Henry Merritt of Salem. The number wounded was 466. A large amount of property was captured, including sixty four cannon and a large lot of ammunition and camp equipage, together with cotton, turpentine, &c. Owing to the protection afforded by their works, the rebel loss was less than ours. Owing to a dense fog the gunboats did not engage in the fight. All along the river side were a series of batteries, which were taken by our troops, one after another, until they reached a line of very strong earthworks, extending across the road from the river to a swamp in the west, two miles distant. In front of these works the rebels had piled a large number of trees, forming an almost impenetrable abattis. Here the flying rebels were rallied and made a desperate stand. Our brave fellows fought until all their ammunition was spent, when an order to charge was given, and they charged. The rebels, supposed to number 8000, fled across the bridge, burned it and made their escape in cars. They left everything behind them. We captured a number of prisoners, including a Colonel. None of our Generals or staff officers were wounded. We took from 30 to 50 cannon.

☞ An officer of Porter's mortar fleet writes that the general impression is that they will be in New Orleans by the 31st of the present month.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Merrimac Lyceum, in Concord, gave three lectures more than were promised, and yet had quite a surplus of money remaining in the hands of the Treasurer.—At a recent meeting the members of the association, after reserving what they thought necessary to commence a course of lectures next winter, voted to give $50 in books to the City Library and $25 towards purchasing the New American Cyclopædia for the library connected with the High School.

—— On Monday night, Feb. 24, Mr. Joseph E. Smith, of Sandwich, left a neighbor's, to go home at about half-past eight.—The weather was very stormy, with a high wind. He soon became bewildered, and leaving the road, wandered into a pasture, where he was frozen to death. He leaves a wife and seven children.

—— The Democratic candidate for Register of Deeds in Cheshire County—Isaac W. Derby, Esq.,—is chosen by a very large majority over the Republican candidate.—Mr. Derby has been a school teacher, and lost an arm at the battle of Bull Run. The great Republican majority in Keene of nearly 300 on Governor, was completely reversed on Register of Deeds, and it was very much so in other towns.

—— The Laconia Democrat says Samuel F. Gilman, who was arrested in that town last week for passing counterfeit bills, got bail and has since left for parts unknown.

—— At an anti-tobacco meeting at the Town Hall in Lebanon, on Wednesday evening, old tobacco users seemed to take special delight in exhibiting each other in the most ridiculous light conceivable, and kept the audience convulsed with laughter a good portion of the time. An anti-tobacco pledge was drawn up and signed by most of those present, including a large number of the most inveterate and intemperate tobacco users in the town. While the gentlemen were signing this pledge, the young ladies who were present drew up one which reads something like this:

"We the undersigned do solemnly affirm that we will never receive the attention, or permit ourselves to be addressed by any young gentleman who uses tobacco in any form."

This was circulated and pretty generally signed by the young ladies, after the meeting.

—— Among the Republicans elected to the N. H. Legislature is Col. Kent, of Lancaster. It is said to be probable his party will select him for the office of Speaker.—He has been Clerk of the House.

☞ An order was issued on Sunday morning for the seizure of the printing office and the arrest of the proprietor of the Washington Sunday Chronicle, and his trial by a Court Martial, that paper having published news of military operations and movements. The editor stated that the news was handed in at a very late hour, and the paper went to press without his personal supervision, and he promised to guard carefully against a recurrence.—Whereupon the execution of the order was suspended.

No More Letters from the Army.—The writing of letters by soldiers in the Army of the Potomac now on the road to Richmond is prohibited by an order issued from headquarters. Letters written just before the march was commenced, were detained three days or more at Washington before they were dispatched northward.—How long this rule will be enforced it is impossible to say. Those who have friends in the army and receive no letters will understand the reason.

Fatal Accident at a Funeral.—At Yonkers, N. Y., one day last week, as a funeral cortege was on the way to the cemetery a distressing accident occurred, which resulted in the death of one woman and severe injuries to five other persons. The accident was caused by the breaking of the yoke attached to the pole of the wagon, in which the deceased was carried, causing the horses to plunge forward, coming in collision with the carriage next ahead and upsetting both vehicles.

☞ Boston now owns and has in service nine steam fire engines, all in excellent order. An additional engine has been purchased from the Amoskeag Company, of Manchester, N. H., to be finished and delivered in Boston in about five weeks, and during the financial year, to commence May next, it is proposed to purchase two more. So the Department will soon have 12 steam fire engines, ten in service, and two to be used as relief engines.

☞ Last Saturday, Mrs. Hartford, of Searsport, Me., leaving home and her three children, Fancis, ten years old, took a gun which had been left loaded with ball, put on a percussion cap, not knowing that it was loaded, and exclaimed to the other children that he was going to fire. Going into the room to see him fire, the gun was discharged, when Ida, aged three years, got in range, the ball going through her head, killing her instantly.

The Duello in England.—The sitting of the English House of Commons was enlivened on the night of Feb. 25th by an episode of a most exciting and unusual character. In the course of a speech a few nights previous, it seems that Sir Robert Peel referred in contemptuous terms to the meeting at the Rotunda, in Dublin, to sympathize with America and declare Ireland's friendship for her. He spoke of the persons who assembled at that meeting as "manikin traitors who sought to imitate the cabbage-garden heroes of 1848, but who failed to induce a single person of respectability to join the 'national' movement."—The O'Donoghue presided over this meeting, and it is asserted that when the impetuous Chief Secretary poured ridicule upon the "manikin traitors," he waved his hand in the direction of the "Chieftain of the Glens," (O'Donoghue) who is described as a person of anything but Titantic proportions. O'Donoghue, stung by what he believed to be a personal insult, resolved to send a challenge to Sir Robert Peel. But the matter was taken up "officially." The Speaker called upon The O'Donoghue to apologise for his contemplated breach of privilege, and also to give an assurance that the matter should go no further.—The O'Donoghue complied with the mandate, but not without hurling a dignified sarcasm at Sir Robert Peel, and declaring that he should have considered himself disgraced and unworthy of his name if he had not resented the insult offered to him. He said that "if the ancient mode of arbitrament had disappeared, so had the unseemly manners that rendered it almost necessary." Americans will sympathize with The O'Donoghue for it is Irish friendliness and Irish sympathy with the Union cause in this country that originated the affair.

Disunion.—Mr. George Wilkes proposes that laws should at once be passed in all the loyal States, granting the right of divorce to loyal wives against husbands who have taken voluntary service in the Southern army.

What an idea he must have of love, to think a woman's affections could be at all influenced by the circumstance or accident of its object siding for or against any government.

☞ Ship Audubon at New York reports that on the 11th, off the Capes of Virginia, she was chased by a long, black, fore and-aft schooner three hours. The latter finally hoisted a new American ensign and left.—The captain of the Audubon has no doubt that she was a privateer.

☞ A decision of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin declares that all the State taxes since 1855 are unconstitutional by reason of inequality of taxation. The Legislature will take immediate action in the matter.—The act for the relief of farm mortgages is also declared to be unconstitutional.

☞ The heroic Capt. Alexander McRae who was killed in New Mexico in command of his battery, and the last man left at his guns, was a North Carolinian and a graduate of West Point in 1851. He had been ten years in active service, and disregarding the ties of kindred and State, he stood by the flag of his country and heroically laid down his life in its defence.

☞ At the Police Station in Newark, N. J., on Wednesday night, two children—one named Mary McCristel, aged 13 years, the other named Elizabeth Dutton, a mere babe of 4 1-2 years—were brought in by Officer Byrne, who found them in an almost insensible state of drunkenness in Market street.

☞ The N. Y. Times predicts that within twenty days Richmond will be in the hands of McClellan, Norfolk in possession of Burnside, and Jeff. Davis either a prisoner in our hands, or a fugitive among the people whom he has deluded and ruined.

☞ Later details from the battle of Pea Ridge go to show that the hardest fighting and most brilliant movements in that memorable contest were the work of Franz Sigel. There is no doubt that he is both a great tactician and a great strategist, in the correct meaning of these terms.

☞ At the recent term of the Supreme Court in Windsor County, Vt., seventeen divorces were granted, and in four of them the divorced wives were allowed to assume their maiden names.

☞ An improvement in street lanterns, in Brussels, reflects the light downwards upon the street, by a series of mirrors placed at different angles within the lantern. It has proved an excellent economist of light.

☞ The great freshet in California did a good thing in drowning out the ground squirrels and gophers so destructive to farmers. The hawks and dogs had a thanksgiving festival for a day or two.

☞ Mr. Thomas Donoho has held the position of bookeeper in the National Intelligencer for about forty-five years, and during that time he has made but one single visit to the capitol.

Bloodless Victories.—The National Intelligencer makes the timely suggestion that Gen. Scott once said that our people do not think much of a victory unless purchased at the cost of many lives.

☞ It was stated in a case on hearing in the Supreme Court, Saturday, that the reduction of rents upon State street, Boston, recently, had in some instances amounted to two-thirds of the original rent.

☞ A sportsman in California has succeeded in bagging a crow, which is black as any of its species, with the exception of the wing feathers, which are pure white.

Big Thing on Ice.—They have an icicle estimated at forty feet long and four feet in diameter at Worcester.

Local.

☞ It will be seen by our advertising columns, that Rev. Dr. Chapin is to deliver the closing lecture of the Kittery Lyceum, to-morrow evening. No doubt many of our citizens will be glad of the opportunity to hear him. The young men of Navy Yard Village have shown no little enterprise and good judgment in the arrangement and conducting of their course of twelve lectures, and we are glad to know they have been in every way successful.

ADVERTISING. — Allen & Paine, the cloak makers of Boston, had a six-column advertisement in the Boston Journal, Monday evening. They as much outstrip all Boston on advertising there, as they did all Portsmouth when here. They will have to emigrate to New York soon—Boston can't hold 'em long.

☞ A Shanghai hen, owned by Capt. John Drake of Rye, has laid an egg,—a monstrous egg, of a very dark mulatto color—which eclipses that other egg, by measuring 8 3-4 by 8 inches, and weighing 4 1-4 ounces. It is evidently a double-yolker, having a ridge in the centre. That hen made a goose of herself, sure.

☞ One evening last week a rumor was pretty extensively circulated in this city that Gen. Burnside's forces had been literally cut to pieces by the rebel army which had retreated from Manassas. It was too late for us to get a dispatch from Boston, and becoming satisfied on inquiry that there was no good foundation for the report, we did not publish it. The account of the brilliant victory, which we publish to-day, shows that at that time Gen. Burnside was engaged in a much more satisfactory manner. The Portland Advertiser of Tuesday morning, expressed the hope that Gen. Burnside would "burn the rebels on all sides." Last Friday he evidently turned his attention to a New burn.

CONGRESS, Monday.—In the Senate, Mr. Hale of New Hampshire offered a resolution that the Naval Committee inquire into the expediency of appropriating money to make experiments testing and proving iron-cladding for vessels of war. Adopted.—On motion of Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts the joint resolution authorizing the President to assign the command of troops in the field to officers without regard to seniority, was taken up, and after discussion it was recommitted to the Committee on Military Affairs.

In the House, Mr. Lovejoy of Illinois introduced a resolution, which passed, instructing the Committee on the District of Columbia to report by what authority Mrs. Bristow of Georgetown was seized and sent to Baltimore and imprisoned in jail, and whether such arrest and imprisonment was not a violation of that provision of the Constitution which says no person shall be deprived of life or liberty without due process of law. The Tax bill was again before the House in Committee of the Whole.

PERLEY ON THE LATE ADVANCE.—This writer says, March 13:

After having waited some four months to witness an engagement before the fortifications of Centreville, your correspondent has seen over a hundred thousand men marching thither (with as many more to support them), and has witnessed their disappointment at learning that there was no enemy to be found behind the trifling earthworks and wooden guns of this much talked of "Sebastopol" of the rebels. So he has returned to continue his Congressional chronicles, devoutly hoping that they may find foemen worthy of their steel. It is not very long since the President consulted twelve general officers of the "Army of the Potomac" on the practicability of a movement, and only Generals Heintzleman, McDowell, Keyes and Sumner thought it prudent to advance—the other eight siding with Gen. McClellan. These four adventurous officers are now each at the head of an army corps, and we do not expect to see them remaining in this vicinity.

☞ In reply to a letter from the rebel General Van Dorn to General Curtis, asking permission to bury the dead, at the battle of Pea Ridge, the latter states that, although he grants the permission required, he regrets to find that many of the Union soldiers who fell in that battle were tomahawked, scalped and otherwise shamefully mangled, contrary to the rules of civilized warfare, and expresses the hope that the present struggle may not degenerate into a savage warfare. The Indians present at the battle are doubtless responsible for the hideous tomahawking and scalping business.

☞ A dispatch to the New York Herald says the relatives of Capt. Franklin Buchanan, who commanded the Merrimac, have written to his relatives in Washington from Baltimore that he is dead, and that his body is to be brought to the old homestead on the eastern shore of Maryland for interment.

ANTI-DEMOCRATS.—The sentiment of these men, whether it assumes the outward form of higher-law politics or civil-war religion, or servile-war philanthropy, is still nothing but hatred of Democracy. The political clergy, in every country, always prove themselves, sooner or later, the deadliest enemies of liberty. Fanaticism always degenerates into despotism.—N. Y. Argus.

—— The Manchester American says an Irishman in Ward One worked valiantly on election day distributing votes, and manifested a deep interest in the result while the officers were counting. After the result was announced, he stepped up to the Moderator and accosted him with "And yer honor will be affther paying me?" "Pay you," said he, "what have you done?" "And hain't I workt out the Dimmicratic ticket all this blissid day?" The Moderator, having little friendship for the "Dimmicratic" party, directed Patrick to the proper authority in such matters and escaped the penalty of paying Democratic bills.

☞ The American Telegraph Company having delayed a message three hours and 25 minutes, whereby a seasonable attachment of property of the value of $12,000 was prevented, a jury in New York have returned a verdict against them for $13,481.90.

We believe that the initiation of the President's policy (of voluntary compensated emancipation) would protract the war, add a thousand millions to the national debt, and subvert wholly our system of national and State governments.—N. Y. Argus.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham in the State of New Hampshire.

Respectfully Represents MARY BATSON, of Newcastle in said County, that SAMUEL BATSON of said Newcastle has lately deceased, intestate, having, at the time of his decease, a family homestead, situate in said Newcastle, described as follows, viz.: bounded northerly by the road leading to Fort Constitution, easterly by land of the town of Newcastle and George Vennard, southerly by land of said Vennard, and westerly by land of William Neal; that your petitioner is widow of said deceased, and has been and still is in the occupation of said premises; that no release or waiver of the right of homestead has been made; that the minor children of said deceased are Abby N. Neelley, Clarinda Batson, Harriet H. Batson, Sarah L. Batson, Frances M. Batson, Thomas E. Batson. Wherefore she prays that a homestead of the value of five hundred dollars be set off to her agreeably to the statute in such case provided.

MARY BATSON.

Dated the 11th day of February A. D. 1862.

Rockingham ss. Probate Office at Exeter, in said County, February 11th, A. D. 1862

Upon the foregoing Petition it is Ordered, that a hearing be had thereon at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, on the second Tuesday of May next, at ten o'clock A. M.; and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned or interested therein to appear at said Court, and show cause if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed, affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $3.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized,
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks if suppliest;
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part—
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For it was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show,
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, it was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you want "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt every one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Feb. 8, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

We shall also add other names soon, unless they are cleared from our books by payment.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will have at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undesirable ones.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE

—OR—

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY-SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press, printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of
JAMES F. SHORES, Jr.,
No. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK,
who will receive subscriptions for the same.

THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC:

Containing besides the usual Astronomical matter,

Accurate Lists of the Executive and Judicial Officers of the U. S. Government;

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions; and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but there are few inventors who have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably surpassed by those which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has the best reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond competition, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Advertising.

For a Square (1½ inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50, one month $3, three months $5, six months $8, one year $15. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly (Gazette) without special order and charge.

Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.

Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; an will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising.

The Chronicle.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN, dramatized, is now being acted in four different theatres, and by a horse company and a negro minstrel troupe, in New York city—six different representations each night. The whole nation is also acting "Uncle Tom," with variations. No work of fiction in the English language ever had a circulation at all comparable to the book. In the United States four different editions were published, one illustrated and one in German, and not far from 400,000 copies were sold. In England, not being protected by copyright, editions were issued at all prices from 6d. to 10s., and more than 500,000 were sold. It was translated into every language of Europe, and several of those of Asia, including Arabic and Armenian; and in many of these, as in the German, French, Italian, Welsh, Wallachian and Russian, there were from two to twelve different translations.—The British Museum has a long shelf filled with its different translations, editions and versions.

PROMOTIONS. — The volunteer officers are not at all pleased to learn that Secretary Stanton has determined not to promote or appoint officers or soldiers from the volunteer service into the regular army. No matter how bravely a man may fight, or how well he may deport himself, if he is "only a volunteer," he cannot be rewarded by a commission in the regular army. A statement of this fact on the floor of the Senate prevented the passage of the bill authorizing the transfer of "enlisted men" from volunteer cavalry regiments into the regular army. Senator Clark and others properly remarked that if the army are to have the privilege of taking the men, they should not refuse to occasionally take an officer.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is fully witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottle, 25 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.

Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1206

THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 1862.

TO CORRESPONDENTS, &c.

"A Friend of the Poor" don't like the proposition to give the shoddy clothing to State Paupers—but suggests that 'll prisoners hereafter taken, be clad in it, and thinks this threat would cause a panic and stampede in rebeldom, which would out-Floyd Floyd.

"Consistency" wants to know what our "independent" idea of the Government's duties in reference to slavery, are? Well, we think they ought to 'let it alone,' and be neither pro-slavery nor anti-slavery—that they can't legally touch it—and that it looks a little queer to see the same men who denounced the last administration so bitterly for striving (as their opponents said it did) to plant the institution in Kansas—to see those same chaps now calling on the present administration to take it away from other States? Ah! consistency, thy name is politician. Long may the States select their own institutions, be they what they may, say we.

"A. B." suggests that the Monitor should have two turrets, for greater safety in case of explosion; and that the turrets should be pierced for rifle balls. Also, that the turrets should be turned by a turn-table, like those used on railroads, which would save much trouble and weight in coal, &c. Its is not alone in his mistake that the Monitor happened in Hampton Roads at the nick of time—but the fact was, the captain of the Merrimack knew the Monitor was coming, and that he must strike before its arrival. It is an error also, to call the Monitor a private enterprise—she was built on conditional contract for the U. S. Government.

"Snow Plough" thinks it surprising in these times of general education, newspapers, and lightning telegraphs, that it should take about a two hundred pound cannon shot to knock new ideas into the minds of the community.

THE REBELLION.

The report of the occupation of Fredericksburg, Va., by our troops on Sunday, was probably premature.

Accounts from Island No. 10 to Monday night do not confirm the report that the enemy's batteries had at that time been reduced by the flotilla of Com. Foote. Besides the strong defenses upon the island there are several batteries on the bank of the river, opposite. Additional mortar boats had been ordered to leave Cairo for the scene of action.

At the last accounts received from Humphrey Marshall, he was at Gladesville, Wise County, Va., a small village between Abington and Pound Gap. It is presumed he is watching Gen. Garfield at Piketon, and that on the latter manifesting any sign of marching on the Gap, Marshall would order his troops up and contest the passage with him.

Key West advices of the 10th report the sailing of a portion of the mortar fleet.—Destination not stated.

The N. Y. Herald has a dispatch from Washington stating that the rebels on Tuesday night evacuated their batteries at Aquia and Potomac Creeks, and also destroyed the railroad depot and other buildings and property at Aquia Creek. The batteries at Aquia Creek were very formidable ones. A tug, which passed there Tuesday night, reports that the buildings and wharf were in flames, being probably set on fire by the rebels.

Gen. Burnside's official report shows that at Newbern, N. C., we captured eight batteries containing 46 heavy guns, and three light batteries of 6 guns each,—in all 64 guns,—two steamboats, a number of sailing vessels, wagons, horses, a large quantity of ammunition, commissary and quartermaster stores, forage, the entire camp equipage of the rebel troops, a large quantity of rosin and turpentine, cotton, and over 200 prisoners. Our loss was 91 killed; 466 wounded, many seriously. He says:—"We have captured a press and shall at once issue a daily newspaper."

Dispatches from Com. Dupont announce that the flag of the Union floats over Fort Marion, at St. Augustine, Fla. This is the second fort taken. The town was surrendered without fighting. The authorities received Commander Rogers in the town hall and were assured that he would protect the loyal citizens. The rebel troops left the night before the gunboats arrived. Jacksonville, Fla., was also surrendered in like manner, and the Governor of Florida recommends the entire evacuation of Eastern Florida.

It was reported in Philadelphia, Wednesday, that the traitor Yancey had been captured while attempting to run the blockade. This is too good to be true; it was stated some time since, however, that he was endeavoring to make his way home in disguise, by means of some vessel running the blockade.

☞ The United States have the following iron-clad vessels already built, contracted for, and proposed:

The Monitor	1
The Galena, built at Mystic	1
The powerful vessel at Philadelphia	1
The Adirondack	1
The Stevens battery	1
The Naugatuck, built by Stevens	1
Iron clad gunboats ordered by Congress	20
Iron clad frigates, recommended by Senate Naval Committee	20
The Iron ram, do	1
Gunboats ordered by Massachusetts	2
Total	49

New York State will probably add one or two more, thus making a naval force of fifty iron-clad gunboats—greatly exceeding the combined iron-plated vessels of all Europe, and able to whip the navies of the world.

The above list does not include our iron-plated gunboats on the inland waters of the West, but only those on the Atlantic seaboard.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—During the past four or five weeks numerous complaints have been made of the non-reception of letters directed to parties in Manchester, and an examination of the losses resulted in the arrest of Frank B. Knowlton, a boy about 14 years old.—He admitted that, at different times, he had taken from the boxes about twenty letters, besides numerous papers, pamphlets, etc.—In one of the letters was a check for $6555. 60, and in others different sums of money: the check and all of the money except $15 were recovered.

—The Directors of the Sullivan County Agricultural Society have appointed Wednesday and Thursday, October 1 and 2, for holding their annual fair.

—"We saw the other day," says the Boston Post, "a very chilly looking daguerreotype view of a sleeping-room in the Tip-Top House, Mount Washington, taken Feb. 11, 1862, by Mr. White of Lancaster, N. H. The bedstead is festooned with icicles, snow bleaches all the surroundings, and there seem to be good skating on the floor. The visit of Mr. White and his companions to the summit, amid the rigors of Winter, the terrors of slides, avalanches, drifts, tornadoes, and various other little obstacles, must have taxed their courage and endurance severely—but with the faith of a Millerite, they felt bound to go up."

CURIOUS ERRORS.—Three very able papers in our two neighbor States, Maine and Massachusetts, have made each a singular error.

One says, "the third party, Union, is composed chiefly of the remains of the old Whig party."

There were doubtless some individuals of both,—but that they were chiefly so, will be news to Mr. Wheeler, who never was a whig.

A second says of the Republican party here, "the negro is the beginning, middle, and end of their political creed."

It is a remarkable fact that their platform this year, made no mention of the negro or of slavery at all.

A third says, "the Republican Committee canvassed the whole State previous to election, and reported that the Republicans had only one thousand voters in the army:—Here is evidence that the remainder, seven thousand, are Democrats, and this accounts for Stark's defeat."

The committee made no such report,—and there are no such facts. Of the 8000 men only about 5000 are voters,—and of these probably three thousand would be republicans or vote for Wheeler, and say 2000 democrats, so that the republican party lost about 1000 votes by men absent in the war, and this is exactly what was expected, and what the committee stated.

☞ Diplomatic circles at Washington are reported to be seriously disturbed by authentic news received there from Cuba, indicating a serious misunderstanding between the allied powers in Mexico, the probable departure of the British forces from that country, the return of several Spanish regiments from Vera Cruz to Havana, and the augmentation of the French force in Mexico. A rupture between the French and Spanish legations in Mexico is supposed to have occurred.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, on Tuesday, Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts, from the Military Committee, reported back the joint resolution authorizing the President to assign the command of troops in the same field without regard to seniority, with an amendment striking out the portion giving the President power to dismiss officers from the service without court martial. The amendment was adopted and the resolution passed

Mr. Clark, of New Hampshire, introduced a bill to furnish clothing and supplies to the sailors and men who were on board the sloop-of-war Cumberland. Passed.

☞ The Attorney General has decided that all disabled soldiers of the three years or war men are entitled to invalid pensions, under the act of July 22, 1861, and that all disabled three months soldiers called into the service under the President's proclamation of April 15, 1861, are entitled to pensions under the acts of 1802 and 1816. He also decides that there is no law giving pensions to widows and orphans of deceased soldiers of the present war.

DEATHS IN THE ARMY.—Many exaggerated statements having been made as to the mortality in the army, it is ascertained from official sources that the number of deaths among the regular soldiers stationed at Washington, for the quarter ending March, 1861, was 28. For the quarter ending with June, 33 regulars, and 46 volunteers; for the quarter ending with September, 56 regulars and 749 volunteers; for the quarter ending with December, 108 regulars and 2970 volunteers; total deaths 3990, of which 100 were from wounds.—The above deaths were in 257 regiments, including those of the Potomac.

☞ A wonderful child has just died in England, who at the age of 10 years, 5 months and 13 days weighed 15 stone (190 pounds) and required a coffin six feet long, two feet wide and seventeen inches deep.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

EQUALITY CONSIDERED.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

Messrs. Editors:—As a correspondent whose identity is well known, freedom of speech may be allowed me in criticising "Somebody" and everybody who in jest or in earnest, undertake to defend slavery, apologize for it, or bow down to it.

You say, very truly, in an editorial of Monday,

"That the black man has been the engrossing subject in our government, almost ever since its foundation."

This terrible fact entirely refutes the false pretence that the republican of to-day and the abolitionist of yesterday are the cause of secession, rebellion, and civil war. Its cause lies further back, even as you say, at the foundation of the government, where the black man was made a difficult subject. What was the difficulty? Answer, not that he was black, but that he was a slave. This difficulty has followed the government all the way down to this time,—and will follow it as long as slavery exists.

You say, in the same connexion,—

"It seems nothing more than fair that he should stand back for the white man now."

He would doubtless be very willing to stand back out of reach of the fugitive slave law, the Dred Scott decision, and the dicta that he has no rights which the white man is bound to respect. If Congress, the Courts, and the States would only let him stand back thus he would be much obliged.

And last and next of all you say,—

"The nigger has had the past—let us own his poor white brother at least his equal, and give him the "future."

Well, Messrs. Editors, let them be equal, as to liberty: this is exactly what we call for. But what has been the negro's past? Answer, slavery, chattel slavery,—to be bought and sold. And do you seriously, or "in joke," propose that in future the poor white man shall be a slave, and the black man be free?

Slavery and the slave laws are exactly what the negro has had in the past,—and now if you mean to take off his slavery and put it upon the white man,—the negro might not object to it, but the white man would not like it.

Really and truly, the slavery of any one class, in any country, is a curse to all the rest. Most of the nations have learned this lesson. We are learning it now, and paying a high price for our tuition. We cannot ignore the question of freedom or slavery,—for it lays hold of us in the war, in the elections, and above all in the taxes. We must meet it. Our "Southern brethren" will compel us to do so. U. T.

ELIOT TOWN MEETING was held on Monday, when the following officers (being on the Republican ticket.) were chosen for the ensuing year:—

Moderator—Asa Gowen.
Town Clerk—Samuel A. Remick.
Selectmen, Assessors, and Overseers of Poor—Jonathan Worster, James Shapleigh, Timothy Dame.
Supervisor of Schools—Calvin H. Guptil.
Constable—Daniel P. Spinney.
Treasurer and Collector—Ira S. Paul.

☞ A curious practice is said to exist among the Chinese of California. A Chinaman is married to one of the loose women of the larger cities, takes his wife to the mining districts of the State and sells her at from $500 to $500. He then returns to the city and makes application to the authorities for his wife, of whom the law compels a surrender to the husband.—The Legislature has been obliged to interfere, such has become the extent of the traffic.

☞ The Imperial Printing Office at Vienna is an immense establishment, having in constant employ eight hundred men and keeping fourteen steam engines in operation. Types are used for two hundred and six different languages. Besides the vast amount of printing done, photography and lithography are carried on in all their branches.

A LILLIPUTIAN COUPLE.—A remarkable matrimonial alliance was solemnized in Newburyport recently. The bridegroom was 42 years of age, four feet and four inches high, and the bride 33 years of age, and three feet and eight inches in stature.

☞ "Feelers" have been put forth in Peru, in view of a proposition to reannex the Republic to Spain. The latter country is getting to be dangerous to republics. Like the lion, which, having once tasted human blood, becomes the confirmed and dreaded man-eater, Spain has gobbled up San Domingo, and new hankers after more of the same sort of game.

☞ Mr. David Deal, of Salisbury, Mass., shot a large red fox, one day last week near his Hotel, at the mouth of the river.—Another was seen in the same locality, on Tuesday last, which had killed some half dozen hens belonging to the house. Foxes have abounded in that locality for years.

☞ Lorenzo Sabine, of Massachusetts, has been appointed Commissioner to confer with Commissioners to be appointed by France and England, in reference to the preservation of the fisheries.

MR. A. ADAMS is spending a few days in Portsmouth, supplying the beautiful lithograpic pictures constantly turned out by Mr. J. H. Bufford, Boston. Among others, are fine album photographs, the new card photographs, also numerous large fancy designs, portraits, &c., for which he furnishes albums, frames, &c.

A speciality with Mr. Adams, are the life size portraits of Scott and McClellan, of which the Post says:

"Bufford's lithographic pictures of Union Generals, Scott and McClellan particularly, are justly esteemed among the finest specimens of the art that have ever been published. The likenesses are exceedingly accurate and the work so nicely beautiful that it suffers not at all in comparison with the best imported lithography. Mr. Bufford is an American publisher, a good Union man, and it is gratifying to see that he competes so successfully with foreign lithographers who have hitherto monopolized the patronage of this country. It is generally known that Bufford's portrait of Scott pleased the old hero amazingly, and it is generally admitted to be equal if not superior to any likeness that has been taken of him, while the work in it is as fine as that of a line engraving."

☞ That sleigh-ride party came off at the Atlantic House last Wednesday evening. With John C. Philbrick for host, Lamprey's Band for music, and that committee of arrangements—of course there was no chance for anything but a good time. There were about twenty-five couple, we believe, some coming miles to go. We regretted very much that we were "so hoarse that we couldn't speak"—in which condition we didn't dare to keep our end up with so many yarn spinners as there were in that crowd, and so we stayed at home. Alas! when there were so many fine lasses there. How about that Imperial Quadrille?

☞ Gen. Halleck was lately guilty of giving expression to the following bon mot:

Col. Wyman, the commandant at Rolla, Mo., on being ordered by Gen. Curtis to join him with his regiment, telegraphed to St. Louis for instructions as to what he should do with his post, as there was no one to relieve him of his command. In reply to his message, Gen. Halleck sent him the following:—"Stick the post in the ground and go on."

☞ Those patriotic citizens in New York who generously came forward and completed the Monitor by dint of private subscriptions and sent her round to Fortress Monroe just in time to save our fleet and perhaps prevent the destruction of Washington, are entitled to the gratitude of the country.

☞ Capt. Cadwalader Ringgold, of the U. S. Navy, has been presented by the New York Life Saving Benevolent Association with their large gold medal, in commemoration of his successful efforts, and those of his officers and crew under his command, on board the U. S. frigate Sabine, in saving over four hundred lives from the transport steamer Governor, on the 2d and 3d of November 1861.

☞ On Thursday last Mrs. Foust, wife of Jacob Foust, of Gaysport, Pa., fell on the pavement, whilst walking in the funeral procession of Miss Amy Rollin, and immediately expired. Mrs. Foust had attended to her household duties in the morning, as usual, in apparently good health.

Engineers and gentlemen conversant with military operations, bring back from Centreville and Manassas very different stories from those of sensation correspondents who have trotted out and back, and have had no time, had they the ability, to judge of the strength of the fortifications, or to estimate the number of the rebel forces. —N. Y. Com. Adv.

IRON CLAD VESSELS.—Gen. Totten has advised the diversion of the $7,000,000 appropriated by Congress for coast defenses, to the construction of iron-clad vessels of war, Commodore Smith, the head of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, has been authorized by Secretary Welles to build an iron-clad gunboat within sixty days.

☞ Mr. Fox, the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, is in New York to order the construction of four floating batteries exactly, or nearly, like the "Monitor," and the preliminaries to that end have been made with Capt. Ericsson. The batteries are to be built with all possible despatch.

☞ Roger A. Pryor, who took poison at Fort Sumter, mistaking it for a julep, has offered a bill to the rebel Congress for the suppression of drunkenness.

☞ The Philadelphia Ledger urges a tax on slaves. Appraise the property and levy on it as on manufactures, say three per cent.

☞ The Tribune's Washington disdatch says the nominations of Gen. D. E. Sickles and Paul R. George of N. H. were rejected by the Senate.

☞ Charles Mackay, the English poet, declares that he has nothing to do with the cause of secession in any shape, way or degree.

Gen. Burnside's forces, at the capture of Newbern, consisted of five regiments from Massachusetts, two from Rhode Island, and three from Connecticut.

☞ The Federal officers created by the tax bill as it stands, it is estimated, will amount to twenty-six thousand.

KITTERY, Me., March 19.

Eds. Chronicle:—Until 12 o'clock this day we supposed that, in accordance with previous arrangement, Rev. E. H. Chapin would lecture at this place, as advertised in your paper, viz., Thursday evening, March 20. We have just received a note from him, stating that a funeral in his parish will prevent his being with us to-morrow evening, but will be here the first week in April, of which due notice will be given. Yours,

CHAIRMAN KITTERY LYCEUM.

A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.
HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!
THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.
Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.
In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.
The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.
The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!
A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.
It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.
The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.
Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.
Wood's Patent Carcel Burners
are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.
Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.
PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are
Orne's Patent
FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,
Price 50 cents each.
Also
COLE'S COMET BURNER,
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS EACH.

AN ODE
—TO—
Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized,
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it supplies;
So essential to the looks of man,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part—
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you 'd "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt ev'ry one,
But the place I prefer, any where under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
This that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 29 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.
CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1861.
To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.
In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.
We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any name for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.
P. S.—Feb. 8, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we therewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

MY FATHER.

The following lines were written by Brig. Gen. Henry R. Jackson, of the rebel army, who has been operating on the Upper Potomac:

As die the embers on the hearth,
And o'er the floor the shadows fall,
And creeps the chirping cricket forth,
And ticks the death-watch in the wall,
I see a form in yonder chair,
That grows beneath the waning light!
There are the wan and sallow—there
The pallid brow, and locks of white.

My father! when they laid thee down,
And heaped the clay upon thy breast,
And left thee sleeping all alone
Upon the narrow couch of rest,
I know not why I could not weep—
The soothing drops refused to roll,
And oh! that grief is wild and deep,
Which settles tearless on the soul.

But when I saw thy vacant chair,
Thine idle hat upon the wall,
The book—the penciled passage where
Thine eye had rested last of all,
The tree beneath whose friendly shade
Thy trembling feet had wandered forth—
The very prints those feet had made
When last they feebly trod the earth;

And thought while countless ages fled,
Thy vacant seat would vacant stand—
Unworn thy hat—thy book unread—
Effaced thy footsteps from the sand—
And widowed in this cheerless world
The heart that gave its love to thee—
Torn like the vine whose tendrils curled
More closely round the falling tree.

Oh, father! then for her and thee
Gushed madly forth the scorching tears;
And oft, and long, and bitterly,
Those tears have gushed in later years;
For as the world grows cold around,
And things assume their real hue,
'Tis sad to find that love is found
Alone above the stars with you.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE
—OR—
Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!
By THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in twenty-six Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following:

From Louis Agassiz, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of JAMES F. SHORES, Jr.,
No. 1 Congress Block,
who will receive subscriptions for the same.

THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC:
Containing besides the usual Astronomical matter,

Accurate Lists of the Executive and Judicial Officers of the U. S. Government;
Members of the present Congress;
Ambassadors and Ministers to Foreign Powers;
The Rebel Senate and House of Representatives;
The Rebel National and State Governments;
Population of each Rebel State and County, and of the Principal Cities, from the last Census.
Election Returns of 1860 61;
Acts of Congress passed at the Second Session of last Congress, and at the special session in July;
Record of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, arranged Chronologically from Nov. 10, 1860, to Dec. 7, 1861, and much other valuable matter.

For sale by JOSEPH H. FOSTER.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1836.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, prepares Assignments, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Examines into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters relating thereto. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that more of MODE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, I feel as we recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

HIS FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

HIS CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin cough, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppression of lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.
Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not as recommended. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1209

PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably
SUPERSEDE ALL OTHER HAIR-BRUSHES

Whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it, pronounce it a complete success.

It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot possibly get out of order; is compact, elegant, durable, and WILL SAVE TWICE ITS OWN PRICE, within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

Please call and examine, buy and use them.—Sold at the Medicine Store of

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, MARCH 21, 1862.

WHO IS TO BLAME?—A writer in the National Intelligencer, under the above heading, says with reference to the ordered investigation by the Naval Committee into the affair in Hampton Roads:—

"In order that there may be no injustice done, and to facilitate the investigation of the Naval Committee, the writer begs leave to state that a bill for the construction of iron-clad batteries, and appropriating $1,500,000 therefor, was reported to Congress at its special session, in July last, within a very few days of the opening of the session, with a written request from the Secretary of the Navy that it be passed immediately, in view of the most pressing exigencies of the service. That bill, instead of being passed at once, as it should have been, was delayed in its final passage till among the last days of the session, and the writer's present recollection is to the very last day, or perhaps two, of the session.—Had this bill been promptly passed, it is within the writer's knowledge that the work of constructing iron-clad batteries would have been very much hastened."

Let this poor apology pass for exactly what it is worth,—no more and no less.—The special session began July 4, and closed August 6. The Merrimac sunk the Cumberland and burnt the Congress March 7. Could not our smart Secretary of the Navy have had one iron-clad boat built in these seven months?

One might have been built at each Navy Yard, Portsmouth, Boston, New York; and Donald McKay would have gladly iron sheathed half-a-dozen razee ships long before this time.

POSTING THE BOOKS.—Returns of the Governor vote have been received from all the cities and towns in this State except Cambridge and Wentworth's Location, and the result foots up as follows: Berry 32,234; Stark 28,528; Wheeler 1,590; scattering 54. Gov. Berry's majority over all 2,062. Berry's majority over Stark, 3,706; Berry's majority over Stark, last year, 4,015. Total majority against Stark, this year, 5,350; total majority against Stark, last year, 4,057. The places above mentioned as not returned, gave, last year, 16 votes for Stark.

Adding these 16 to all the votes returned gives the whole vote this year 62,412, against 67,142 returned votes last year, when two small towns made no return. Thus the vote is 4,730 less than last year. Gov. Berry has less by 3,233 than last year; Gen. Stark has 2,908 less. Wheeler and scattering get near 1650.

For Representatives, all the towns in the State, except Carroll, Erroll, and Grantham, give 136 Republicans, 119 Democrats, 4 "Union." The three towns not heard from, elected, last year, 1 Republican and 2 Democrats. If they do so this year there are 197 republicans, 121 democrats, and 4 Union.

☞ The Senate, on Wednesday, confirmed Capt. D. G. Farragut to be a Flag Officer in command of the Western Gulf blockading squadron; also, the following Assistant Paymasters in the Navy, to fill vacancies occasioned by the promotion of Messrs. Eldredge, Thornton, Plunket, Foster and Lawrence, viz.: Albert S. Kenney, John A. Bates, F. Parker, John S. Woolson and Alexander McC. Bishop. Lieut. Col. Daniel P. Woodboro, of the Corps of Engineers, was confirmed as Brigadier General of Volunteers.

☞ Mr. Sparks, in his life of Washington, thus quotes from a private letter written by the father of his country, during the time that he was so bitterly assailed by calumniators at home: "My enemies take an ungenerous advantage of me. They know the delicacy of my situation, and that motives of policy deprive me of the defence I might otherwise make against their insidious attacks. They know I cannot combat their insinuations, however injurious, without disclosing secrets which it is of the utmost moment to conceal." The reader perhaps can supply a parallel to this.

☞ When the veteran Commodore Joseph Smith, on duty at Washington, saw by the first dispatch from Fortress Monroe that the frigate Congress, commanded by his son Joseph, had raised the white flag, he only remarked quietly, "Joe's dead!" No Roman father ever paid a nobler or more emphatic tribute of confidence to a gallant son, than is contained in the words so uttered, nor gave that son to his country with more cheerful and entire devotion. And the sad assurance was well founded. The flag was not struck until his son had fallen.

☞ Capt. Buchanan, of the rebel steamer Merrimac, is very disobliging,—he won't stay dead. A private letter received in Boston from Baltimore, states that he received a slight wound only, in the recent action.

Down with the Yankees.—N. O. Delta.

Don't be impatient. You'll find that they will be "down" soon enough, we guess.—Lou. Journal.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The house of John G. Dickey, Esq., Postmaster at Hillsborough Lower Village, was discovered to be on fire about 1 o'clock on Saturday the 15th inst., in the back part. The neighbors succeeded in extinguishing the fire, as it was thought, before it attacked the main building. But it was soon discovered to be again on fire, and the whole building was consumed. The furniture and contents of the Post Office were saved. Insured in the Cheshire Mutual for $100.

—— On Monday, 3d inst., a child of Mr. H. G. Cater, of Barrington, less than three years old, fell backward into a pail of hot water, scalding himself very badly. His case was considered very doubtful at first, but hopes are now entertained of his recovery.

—— On Thursday night the house of Rev. D. W. Barber, at Milan Corner, was entered, at an unfastened window, and three pairs of pants stolen. The pants were subsequently found in the street, but several hundred dollars in money were gone from the pockets.

—— The Lancaster Republican, with an earnest desire for the good of the farmers in Coos County, is wisely urging them to form an Agricultural Society. It states that as early as 1805, the year in which the County was organized, a County Society was started and sustained with varying success for sometime. The territory was then very sparsely inhabited and the project was finally abandoned.

—— The Ballot says Col. Frink has been offered $7000 for the Greenland House, by parties in this city, but he declined selling under $8000.

—— The Oberlin, O., News announces the death, Feb. 5th, of Mrs. Abigail Locke Lang, widow of the late Capt. Bickford Lang, at the residence of her youngest daughter, in Wellington, Ohio. The News states:

"She was the daughter of David Locke, and was born in Rye, Rockingham County, N. H., in the year 1778, consequently was eighty-three years of age. She was the last of a family of thirteen children, nearly all of whom lived beyond the common age of man. She was married in the year 1796 and soon after removed to Epsom in the same state, where she reared a large family, most of whom sought homes in the West. In 1836 they left the old home and settled in Huntington, Lorain County, Ohio, where her husband died April 7th, 1861. Since that time she has lived with her daughter. She leaves nine children, forty-two grand children, and thirty-five great grand children. She was long blessed with health and vigor, and when age and its infirmities confined her to her room, and, towards the last, to her bed, her consolation was the Bible and its promises, all of which she claimed as a reward of a long and consistent religious life. And when she was called to die, for which event she had so long and anxiously waited, she realized their value, and in peaceful and holy triumph fell asleep."

FROM THE N. H. 3D REGIMENT.

HILTON HEAD, S. C., Mar. 16.

Messrs. Editors:—Enclosed please find a copy of the "New South," the first number of a paper to be issued every Saturday by Mr. Sears, the Postmaster at this place.—Wednesday last I returned from a five days' reconnoisance on the Savannah river. I had about 500 men of the regiment with me and all but one returned in good health. Company D, in which are our Portsmouth boys, with Lieut. Wm. H. Cornelius, were detailed as boatmen: most of the Company being practical boatmen, they were a most important element in the expedition.

During our absence I visited the Stoddard plantation on Dawfuskie Island: on this plantation is a splendid garden attached to the house. One Japonica bush I particularly noticed; it was 9 feet in height and 6 in diameter, and covered with flowers and buds, a sight worth seeing. Some of the officers judged there must have been 300 varieties of flowers, and these with orange trees in blossom and handsome walks, made as beautiful a garden as I ever saw. Some persons of wealth and taste must have lived here, but they showed very poor taste in running away and leaving it.

The health of the regiment is good; all from Portsmouth, I believe, are on duty.—The steamship Atlantic will leave here today, taking our mail and some discharged soldiers of our regiment, 2 from Co. D, 1 Co. G, 4 Co. I, and 1 Co. K—9 in all, discharged for disability by the Surgeon.—Our aggregate this morning was 961. We are expecting some recruits from New Hampshire during this month. Letters directed to soldiers here should not be sent in care of Col. Tompkins: the Regiment and Company should be very plain; all after that tends only to confuse and not assist those who sort the letters.

Adjt. Hill is in good health and busily engaged with his many duties. Col. Fellows is acting as Brig. General and Commander of the post, leaving me in command of the regiment.

I should be happy to hear from you occasionally and have you send me a paper. A large proportion of the papers sent to soldiers here never reach their destination. It should not be so, as a paper from home is second only to a letter while far away friends. I must close now in time for the mail. Remember me to inquiring friends.

Yours, &c., JOHN H. JACKSON,
Lieut. Col. Com. 3d N. H. V.

THE REBELLION.

The town of Strasburg, Shenandoah county, Va., was occupied by troops belonging to the fifth army corps (Gen. Banks) on Sunday evening. It is about 15 miles south of Winchester.

The correspondent of the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser had permission from Gen. Burnside to say that an expedition would soon leave Newbern for Beaufort, sufficiently strong to overcome all rebel obstacles, and the place has probably been captured before this time. The famous rebel steamer Nashville was at Beaufort a few days since, and has probably been captured.

A special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune dated Cairo, March 19, 11 P. M., says a gentleman, just arrived from New Madrid via Sykestown, reports the sinking of a rebel transport armed with heavy cannon, by the gunboat fleet at Island No. 10.

Telegrams from Gen. Curtis state that his loss in killed and wounded at the battle of Pea Ridge, Ark, is about 1400. The enemy retreated to the south of Boston Mountains. There are no rebel troops in Northern Arkansas, except marauders and Pike's Indians, who kill and plunder friends and foes indiscriminately.

The steamer Rhode Island from Key West, with mails, arrived at Fortress Monroe on Tuesday. Yancey was captured a few days since on a schooner trying to run the blockade. He was dressed in sailors' clothes, and was recognized by one of the newspaper correspondents. St. Marys and Jacksonville, Fla., have been occupied by our forces.

The N. Y. Times' Washington dispatch says a reconnoisance from Hooker's brigade towards Fredericksburg discovered a rebel camp of 1500 infantry and artillery near that place. Our force did not engage them, being much smaller, and on returning to Dumfries they found a deserted camp with commissary and other stores, with which they came back loaded. A prisoner captured by them states that Aquia Creek is evacuated, the rebels leaving behind them two quaker guns to cover their retreat.

The Times's dispatch says Gen. Banks' headquarters are removed from Winchester to Fairfax Court House.

An official dispatch from Com. Foote, dated midnight, Mar. 19, says Island No. 10 is harder to co quer than Columbus, as the shores are lined with forts, each fort commanding the one above it. He adds: "We are firing night and day on the rebels, and we gain on them. We are having some of the most beautiful rifle practice ever witnessed. The mortar shells have done fine execution. One shell was fairly landed on their floating battery, clearing the concern in short metre."

The citizens of Gallatin, Tenn., which has been decidedly disloyal, met in town meeting recently and were addressed by Bailie Peyton, Esq., a loyal man, and voted to petition for a post-office there, expressing willingness to return to their allegiance.

The special post-office agent on the Tennessee and Kentucky borders, reports that he has found, wherever he has been, a strong desire for the re-establishment of mail facilities, and a willingness of the people to return to their allegiance.

☞ Adjutant Frazer Alden Stearns, who was killed in the late battle of Newbern, N. C., was 21 years of age, a member of the present junior class in Amherst College and son of Rev. Wm. A. Stearns, D. D., President of that institution. He was at the taking of Roanoke, where he was twice wounded, and for his distinguished bravery received honorable mention from his superiors in command.

BREACH OF PROMISE.—A breach of promise case is shortly to come before the Courts, which is likely to be a sensation.—The plaintiff is a lady resident of Boston, and the defendent an opulent and influential citizen of Fitchburg. Damages are laid at $30,000. H. F. Durant and other strong counsel are engaged for the injured lady.

☞ It has been discovered that the telegraph cable to Fortress Monroe was cut about ten miles from the eastern shore.—The supposed culprit was arrested and handed over to Gen. Lockwood, who will make an example of him.

☞ The following is a correspondent's account of an interview with a contraband:

"We accosted one whose very intense blackness commended him as a genuine, unadulterated scion of Africa: 'Where do you hail from?' 'Culpepper Court House, Sah.' 'What news do you bring?' 'Nothing, massa, 'cept dars a man lost a mighty good nigger dar dis mornin' and I guess he dun lose some more 'fore night.'"

SHAKSPEARE'S DEFINITION OF A HORSE. There is not, probably, in the English language a better description of a "well-proportioned steed," condensed into so few words, as the following from the pen of the immortal Shakspeare:

"Round-hoofed, short-jointed, fetlocks shag and long,
Broad breast, full eyes, small head, and nostril wide;
High crest, short ears, straight legs, and passing strong;
Thin mane, thick tail, broad buttock, tender hide:
Look, what a horse should have, he did not lack.
Save a proud rider on so proud a back."

MASS. 23D REGIMENT.

NEWBERN, N. C., March 14.

Dear ———:—We left Roanoke Island on the 6th of March. We went up the river, and having got into a harbor, lay at anchor that night. The next morning the gun-boats began to shell the woods; they fired for about an hour, when the order came for us to get ready to go ashore. We were soon ready, and were landed about nine o'clock. It took all day to land the troops, but our regiment started about 10 A. M., and marched till ten that night. It rained all day and night.

The first battery we came to was from a mile to a mile and a half in length; it was built within a few rods of the railroad. At first we thought it was the railroad, but soon found out our mistake. It was a very formidable battery; the rebels left it in a hurry; it was built directly across the road.

Gen. Burnside was riding ahead of us and the Mass. 24th. He came back to us and shouted "here they are, boys! now for some fun; boys, it is only six miles to Newbern, and we must sleep there to night." It was then about 8 in the morning. He told our regiment to go to the left of the road, and the 24th to the right. We got in there, and then the rebels saw us, and the way the shot and shell flew wasn't slow. It was one continual roar all the time. We opened fire and fired forty rounds in a very little time. At the first rebel fire our Lieutenant Colonel was killed and the captain of Company K had his leg taken off. Our men fell all around us.

We at last drove the rebels and then there was a rush: the 24th got into the battery first and our's next. The ground was covered with blood. I do not know how many were killed on either side.—There were none killed in our company, but a few were slightly wounded. There were fifteen very fine guns in all in the battery.

W—— and I were standing together, when a ball passed between us and killed a man back of us. Another hit the stock of my gun and knocked it out of my hand, but I soon got it and went to work again.

We started towards Newbern,—the rebels running ahead of us and we after them full speed. We soon came on some cavalry when we charged on them, and they went like birds on the wing.

When we came in sight of N. we saw it all in a blaze. The rebels had burned the bridge between us and the city. The boats, however, soon took us across. It is the prettiest place I have seen this long time.—The inhabitants had nearly all left the city; those remaining say there were from 12,000 to 15,000 rebel troops at the battery and the city. We have first rate quarters. There is a printing office here, and I have been there to work to-day. We intend to start a paper soon. We don't know where we shall go next, but we want to clean them out. PORTSMOUTH BOY.

☞ George G. Giles was arrested in New York on Wednesday, charged with purchasing government property, arms and stores to a large amount, from drunken and speculative soldiers.

THE FALLEN SOLDIER.

Bear off your comrade, boys! See, he has fallen—
The blow at his leader aimed, he made his own;
Loose from the bridle the stiffened hand, softly;
Only this morning it fed his good roan.

Who knows this brave lad, for he scarce can be twenty
That just for his country was eager to die?
Just for his country, without hope of glory,
He dropped from the saddle in darkness to lie.

Bear him in pity, and bear him in anguish—
You think then soft lips, but they changed without moan;
For I, who rode next him, sprang forward and slipped him,
And held both his hands, to the last, in my own.

We knew not the great heart that bore him right onward,
Beating its twenty good years out so well;
But, unknown, I felt the thin hands of his mother
Bearing him up through my own when he fell

Sad 't is to think of the lonely brown homestead
Set in the bleak, barren, North hills afar—
There they have loved him so, there they will mourn him so,
Never returning to them from the war.

A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as new. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Among the more recent inventions are

Orne's Patent

FILTER REGULATING BURNERS,

Price 50 cents each.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized, [plies;
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it sup-
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part—
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.

For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.

In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.

Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help;
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Fill many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.

If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you'll have no cause to demur.

And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you n "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt every one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.

Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Feb. 5, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

FOREIGN.—The steamship Anglo-Saxon, from Liverpool 6th, via Londonderry 7th, arrived at Portland on Wednesday. The importance of the Federal success in Tennessee is generally recognized in England. American securities have advanced in consequence. The steamer Bermuda left Liverpool on the 1st for Bermuda with a large general cargo, including a considerable quantity under the designation of hardware, believed to be destined for the Southern States. It is stated that Mr. Peabody quits England with a fortune of £70,000 per annum. It is reported that Smith O'Brien has challenged Sir Robert Peel, offering to meet him in France or Belgium.

☞ The Gloucester Telegraph says the gale of the 24th and 25th of February last has proved most disastrous to the Gloucester fishing fleet, and there are now thirteen vessels which have no been heard from since the storm. The probability is that most of the vessels, if not all came in contact with one another in the blow,and were at once sunk together on the bank. The vessels now missing were some of the finest and strongest of the fleet, and were manned by from one hundred and fifteen to one hundred and twenty men. The winter-fishing upon Georges Bank becomes more disastrous year after year, as the numbers increase who engage in it; yet men will follow it, and owners of property will risk their vessels, knowing with a certainty that all cannot escape.

☞ The nomination of General Burnside as Major General of Volunteers was confirmed by the Senate on Tuesday.

☞ Hon. Theodore Frelinghuysen is dangerously ill at New Brunswick, N. J.—Slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE

—OR—

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

By THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

The work may be examined at the Bookstore of

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, or determining the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, or determining the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The immense practice of the subscriber, during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications for patents in the last year, which patents have been granted, and that is some standing. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. VOL. 20. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1862. NO. 43

The Chronicle.

REV. RUFUS CHILDS.—The Montpelier Association, Vt., (trinitarian congregational) have expelled Rev. Rufus Childs from their body, "for gross public offense against purity and the obligation of his family relations, thus bringing scandal upon the Church of Christ and the cause of his Master." He confessed the charge. Childs is son-in-law to the venerable and Reverend James Hobart, who used to preach at Newcastle, Nottingham, &c.

☞ Among the prisoners who have arrived at Chicago, is Rev. W. G. Howard, D. D., chaplain of one of the Louisiana regiments. It is said that he was formerly a Baptist minister in Albany, Rochester and Chicago. The Chicago Tribune intimates that numerous bills which he contracted there are still unsettled, and the Independent says he was chiefly remarkable for a capacity to run in debt.

An ingenious Yankee has lately been arrested in Washington for counterfeiting the confederate treasury notes, of which he has circulated several hundred thousand dollars' worth in the rebel states, making 30 or 40 cents on the dollar by the operation. He insists that he committed no crime against our laws, and was only engaged in crippling the financial resources of the enemy, by bringing their notes into disrepute. This plea fairly bothered Secretary Seward, who only shines in international law, and the Yankee is now walking about on parole, with every prospect of being regarded as a patriot.

SPECIMEN OF "MILLIONAIRE" LITERATURE IN NEW YORK.—The following note, written by Mr. Drayman, of Draymansville, is a verbatim et literatim production of one of the richest landholders in New York.—He is so rich in real property that a considerable collection of houses is named after him:—

NEW YORK FEBRY THE 21ST

dear Sur yours is recvd. you want to no a bout My house at High Bridge occupyed by —— i ask 1600 dolls for the hole plase. (Signed) &c., &c.

The gentleman to whom this note was addressed declined "the hole plase," as he was afraid that it wasn't healthy, and he might, like its owner, have a bad spell.—Boston Post.

☞ The damage by the fire at the oil cloth manufacturing establishment of Messrs. Alden, Sampson & Sons, in Manchester, Maine, on Thursday evening of last week, is estimated at $45,000. There was insurance, mostly in Boston offices, for $25,000.

"Well, neighbor, what's the most Christian news this morning?" said a pious gentleman to his friend. "I have just bought a barrel or flour for a poor woman." "Just like you," said the other: "who is it that you have made happy by your charity this time?" "My wife!"

SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The official list of the Federal loss at the battle of Pea Ridge, Ark., is as follows: Killed, 212; wounded, 926; missing, 174.

The steamship Mississippi from Port Royal, with Gen. Butler and his troops, arrived at Ship Island on the 12th inst.—Capt. Fulton, of the Mississippi, has been detained at Port Royal to await an investigation into the circumstances attending the disaster to that vessel.

The enemy's flotilla at Island No. 10, which is hemmed in between Commodore Foote and Gen. Pope, has made another attempt to escape from the river. Their gunboats engaged Gen. Pope's batteries on the 18th, for an hour and a half, but were driven back with a severe loss. One rebel gunboat was sunk and several badly damaged. They are completely hemmed in, and can escape only by fighting their way out.

5000 rebels entrenched on the summit of the Cumberland Mountains, at Pound Gap, have been routed by Gen. Garfield. He ascended the mountain with his infantry by unfrequented paths, and while his cavalry, by advancing along the main road and making a vigorous attack in front, drew the rebels a short distance down the summit, the infantry advanced along the ridge and completely routed them after a fight of less than twenty minutes. The rebels abandoned everything.

The Times' Washington dispatch states that five white men from Fredericksburg report that the rebels are leaving there very fast, and that the foundations of the railroad bridge over the Rappahannock have been removed. A mutiny had occurred in a North Carolina regiment, and many were being marched out of Fredericksburg with their hands tied. The impression was that the rebels were all falling back on Richmond, and that large bodies are going to Norfolk and Yorktown.

Deserters state that no more Virginia troops can be raised, and that the condition of the rebel army is in the worst state of demoralization. Thirteen citizens of Fredericksburg had been sent to Richmond for refusing to take Confederate scrip. They were also charged with belonging to Union clubs. There are no fortifications at Fredericksburg.

A Fortress Monroe letter in the N. Y. Tribune says a letter has been received from on board the gunboat R. R. Cuyler, dated Mar. 10, which states that the steamer Water Witch captured a schooner on the 8th, with William L. Yancey on board, disguised in sailor's clothes, who was delivered over to the fort.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch states that Gen. Blenker has been suspended from his command.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Manchester Mirror makes the following statements in relation to steam fire engines, and the results of the trial of them in that city:

"The substitution of steam fire engines for hand engines has produced a revolution as important in the destruction of fire, as the substitution of iron-clad steamers for wooden ones has in naval warfare. The saving to property by the change is immense, and the saving in cost to cities and towns is a pretty large item. Manchester is a good illustration. We have now three steamers, a Hook and Ladder Co., and a Hose Co. They protect our city against fire as well, we think, as any place in the United States is protected. The cost of running them is about $4000 a year. Under the old system, with seven hand engines, the amount per year went as high as $14,000. The three steamers can throw as much water, and are equal in power to twelve first-class hand engines, for the first twenty minutes, till the men lag on the hand engines, and after that, when they work hours, they are equal to twenty, as steam does not get tired."

—— The City Marshal of Concord, who has been on the track of the fellows for some time, on Saturday, succeeded, with several of the police, in arresting eleven gamblers, who were caught in the very act, among them an old bird, 'Science Smith.' They took from the table about $40 in money. On Monday they were fined $8 and costs each.

—— A writer in the Manchester Mirror says:—"With the proceeds of a lecture and subscription paper, amounting to about $140, we have made and sent to the Sanitary Commission three barrels, filled with blankets, sheets, shirts, drawers, &c."

—— Col. Converse, of the N. H. 6th Regiment, has resigned, and reached his home in Keene on Wednesday evening, very feeble in health, coming from Springfield in an extra car, and upon a matress. A vote of the regiment has been taken, resulting in the recommendation of Lieut. Col. Griffin as Colonel, Major Scott as Lieut. Colonel, and Capt. Dort as Major.

☞ A letter received in New York from Fort Pickens states that Major Mewby, of the Wilson Zouaves, attempted to assassinate Billy Wilson, but was unsuccessful.

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

SIMEON IDE, of New Ipswich. — This is an old acquaintance that Uncle Toby never saw face to face,—but as both of us were in the same business, printing and bookselling, Mr. Ide a few years the senior,—and both in a small State where only a few men engaged in our vocation, Mr. Ide's name and his works were as familiar as household words, a few years ago.

With much pleasure, therefore, Uncle Toby has lately seen two or three articles in the Congregational Journal, showing that Mr. Ide is living, active and useful; and that he has been in advanced years, pleasantly employed in his favorite pursuit, printing and publishing good books.

Mr. Ide was, we believe, a native of New Ipswich, N. H., and was the first printer of the New Testament in this State.

In the fall of 1809, his father placed him in the office of the Vermont Farmer, as an apprentice to Farnsworth and Churchill, publishers of that paper, to learn the "art of printing." He continued with them, in the faithful discharge of his duty as he thinks, till Dec., 1812, when he was cast adrift by the dissolution of the above firm; Sylvester Churchill, the junior partner, entering the regular army as first Lieutenant of Artillery, and, at the breaking out of "this rebellion," he was Inspector General of the U. S. army, but is retired on account of old age.

The lad in question worked at his trade, as a journeyman, one year and a half in Windsor and Brattleborough, and about a year in Rutland, Vt., until the declaration of peace between the United States and Great Britain, in Feb., 1815, when he returned to his father's, "in New Ipswich, over the mountain, near the borders of Rindge." Here, with his father's joiner's tools, he made the stands, cases, galleys, and other printing-office fixings, and then proceeded on horse back to Boston, 60 miles distant, stopping at night at a tavern near the north end of Charlestown Bridge. The next day he bought of Munroe & Francis his type, press, ink, composing sticks, &c., paid for the same, and started for home where he arrived before the night of the third day. He then took a span of horses and wagon, and in three days from leaving home, returned with his printing-office complete, and without accident. Having fitted up the office in order in the "blacksmith's shop," he took a trip some 12 or 14 miles in the northerly direction to Peterborough, and contracted with Samuel Smith, Esq., of that town, for 170 reams of p per, of demi-size, at $2 75 per ream; such as now can be bought for $1 50 per ream.

His edition of the Testament was a very good one, much above the average of those days. It was, we think, printed on long primer type, and worked off on a "Ramage two pull press," (the size of the mahogany platen about 12 × 19 inches.) On this hand press, Mr. Ide worked the 5000 Testaments, at "half-press," as it was termed; when the same person both "beat" or inked the form, and "pulled," or gave the impression. The form was inked with balls, made of sheep's pelts and wool, which, in after years, gave place to composition rollers.—His sister set the type mostly, and it took the two nearly five months to set the type and do the press-work—the book running up to nearly 400 pages.

Rev. Dr. Seth Payson, at that time Vice President of the N. H. Bible Society, assisted in correcting the proof-sheets. This Dr. Payson was the father of the celebrated Dr. E. Payson, of Portland, and was a man of sound learning, and of great modesty, which received a slight shock from this edition of the Testament. In order that this edition of the Testament might not suffer from the obscurity of its origin, the publisher obtained leave of the Doctor to insert in the title page, just above the imprint, "Revised and corrected by the Rev. Seth Payson, D. D." Soon after the book appeared in full sheep binding, on the Doctor's centre table, a visiting brother in the ministry, taking it up and opening it at the title, accosted him with—"Well, really, Doctor, I did not know that you had undertaken a new translation of the New Testament!—Why did 'y u tell me? Are you going through with the Old Testament also?"—This was too much for the good old gentleman's acute sensibility. But a very short time after this elapsed, ere his well-known horse stood hitched at the door of the young man's father, about three miles or more from his own domicil. "Mr. Ide," said he addressing the young publisher with much apparent perturbation, "the Testament must be suppressed! it must not go out! not another copy! it will ruin me!"—"What is the matter, sir?" said the young man. "Why," said the Doctor, "the insertion of my name in the title, carries the idea that it is a new translation, I can't let it go so." "Very well, sir," replied the young man, after a little reflection, "I think I can mend it up, and prevent any misunderstanding about your name being in the title, without suppressing the book." So he went to work and covered up the unlucky line, in the title, by pasting over it a narrow strip of paper, having printed upon the words, "Third New Ipswich Edition." When assured that this should be done to all the copies on hand, the Doctor expressed himself much relieved by the contrivance.

The N. H. Bible Society paid $280 (less than cost) for 1000 copies of this Testament. But the young publisher has been many times heard to say, that he felt himself under infinite obligations to the Rev. Doctor, for using his influence with the Directors of the Society, and helping him to the sale, notwithstanding the low price; for he was thereby enabled to pay Exj. Smith promptly the amount of his note, given in part for the paper used on the Testament, and was thus saved from pecuniary embarrassment. The Testaments for the Bible Society were bound by Isaac Long, of Hopkinton.—The retail price of the Testament was 50 cts. It was the best and most correct edition of School Testament then in market.

In January, 1817, Mr. Ide established the American Yeoman at Brattleborough, Vt.; at the end of one year, he united this paper with the Vermont Republican at Windsor, Vt., and afterwards (1829) Spooner's Vermont Journal was united with the Republican, under Mr. Ide's management. In the year 1835, Mr. Ide removed to Claremont, where the stockholders of the "Claremont Manufacturing Company," (formed about the year 1832,) for 24 consecutive years elected him their Agent, in which capacity he has superintended the manufacture of many millions of books; among which, not an insignificant proportion, were Common School and Quarto Bibles, Testaments and Prayer Books, of various sizes; and it may not be derogatory to his reputation, in conclusion, to add, that for the manufacture of these he has ever shown a marked partiality.

FOREIGN ITEMS.—Mr. Peabody, the American banker in London, is about to leave England; it is said that he has realized in that country an annual income of £70,000. As a token of gratitude to the English nation, he has decided on presenting £100,000 for a charitable purpose in London. Sir Emerson Tennent is appointed one of three trustees.

A thousand Mormons from the three Northern countries of Europe, are just leaving for Utah, by way of Hamburg.—The greater part come from Denmark, very many of them belonging to the well-to do members of the peasant class.

The iron steam frigate Warrior made the voyage from Tagus to Gibralter, 320 miles, in 22 hours, being at the rate of nearly fifteen miles an hour. The ship was under sail and steam, not full power. She leaks a little and her steering apparatus is defective.

☞ The Judiciary Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives have made a report respecting the censorship of telegraph dispatches in Washington. They say that the censorship seems to have been without any clearly defined limits, and the censor either lacked capacity or has not exercised proper discrimination. Many dispatches of a harmless character, having no connection with military operations, have been suppressed. The report concludes with a resolution, to the effect that the Government should not interfere with the transmission of dispatches by telegraph, except in cases where the intelligence thereby conveyed may be injurious to the public interest, by giving information to the enemy.

☞ A young pastor, Calvin Cutter, was ordained a few days ago, at New Ipswich, New Hampshire, over the congregation and church which Rev. Mr. Lee lately resigned. At the close of the services, Dea. N. D. Gould, of Boston, a native of that town, now four score years of age, presented the church, in person, a brief manuscript history of its origin, pastors, officers, and members, written in his own beautiful and ornamental style. The young pastor, in behalf the of church, accepted the presentation with appropriate remarks.

EPIGRAM.

The Dorelson prisoners, exchanges inform us.
(This is one of the items that is not suppressed.)
Can't or won't eat the bread they make in Chicago,
For the Flower of the South hates the flour of the West.

Pray, what would they have, these poor, ragged rebels?
What grub is the best for Secesh of the station?
Give rations they're used to—on corn be they fed.
For don't they belong to a Cornderation?

—Vanity Fair.

A singular corroboration of the account of the original famine in the time of Joseph in Egypt, given in the Bible, is found in some ancient Chinese records, which have recently come into the possession of the Chronological Institute of London. Chronologists make the famine to have been somewhere between 1703 and 1772 before Christ, as many as a dozen different dates being assigned to it. The Chinese account places its commencement at the year corresponding to 1764 before Christ, and makes it last seven years, just as the Hebrew account does.—Boston Courier.

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY-SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER.—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

LOST—On Tuesday evening, probably not far from Market Square, a pink FAN. The finder will be liberally rewarded, on leaving it at the Chronicle Office.

Local.

☞ Mr. Levi Moses, formerly a printer, and well known in this city and in Boston, was lost overboard from the U. S. steamer Flag, in a gale off Hatteras, on the 27th or 28th of last September, and drowned.—He was an excellent seaman and a great favorite on board the vessel. Everything was done by officers and crew to rescue him, but he went down in less than five minutes, apparently having been struck by the vessel, or injured in some other way, as he made not the least exertion to save himself. He was 35 years of age.

☞ Ship Judah, Truro, Hanscom, from Liverpool (Jan. 28) for Philadelphia, owned by Capt. J. Gilman Moses of this city, was abandoned at sea Feb. 26. All hand (including seven passengers) were taken off by ship Bizantium at New York.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Rev. Mr. Scudder will preach at the North Church to-morrow.

Rev. Dr. Barrett, of Boston, will preach at the Unitarian Church to morrow.

☞ Ship Germania, at New York, reports that Mar. 13th, lat. 36 28, lon. 63 10, saw a 74-gun ship with gunboat along side,—probably the Vermont. When first seen both had sails furled, but towards night they made sail, steering S. S. W.—The weather was then pleasant and the sea smooth, with a light air from the West.

☞ A Portsmouth boy has sent home from North Carolina, an envelope "manufactured by W. & J. Donitz, Goldsboro', N. C." It is of cheap brown paper, which would answer very well for wrapping paper, and is ornamented with a most wretched woodcut representing a badly proportioned, ill-starred rebel flag, floating over a diminutive specimen of a cannon. Beneath this are the lines:—

"Bright Banner of Freedom, with pride I unfurl thee;
Fair Flag of my country, with love I behold thee,
Gleaming above us in freshness and youth,
Emblem of liberty, symbol of truth;
For the Flag of my country in triumph shall wave,
Over the Southerner's Home and the Southerner's Grave!"

A gentleman who saw the envelope supposed it to be a wrapper for tobacco.

☞ Harper's Magazine for March is out, prompt as usual. Boston, A. Williams & Co. For sale in this city by J. F. Shores, Jr.

SUICIDE.—Col. Nicholas Berry, of Camden, Me., committed suicide on Saturday last by hanging himself. He left his family after dinner, on that day, in his usual sound and cheerful spirits. Not returning to supper, search was made, and he was found in his office, suspended by the neck, and cold in death. From interviews which were had with him and from letters which he wrote on that afternoon, it is supposed that suicide was not premeditated, and that he committed the act during some aberration of mind, induced from being unfortunate in his business affairs.

Col. Berry was one of the most worthy and influential citizens of Camden. He was a member of the Grand Division of Sons of Temperance, Past Grand Worthy Chief Templar of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars of Maine, and was last year the President of the Knox County Temperance Association.—Portland Adv.

—— Much inquiry has been made of late as to the whereabouts of the 4th N. H. V. Eight companies, all but E and F, were at the taking of Jacksonville, Fla., the 12th inst. Those two companies are left at Fernandina, Fla., for Provost Guard, Capt. Towle of company K, being Marshal.

☞ The Belfast, Me., Age says there are now at that port, awaiting shipment, at least seventy cargoes of hay, and nearly twenty-five cargoes of potatoes; there are at least 3000 tons of hay, and a large quantity of potatoes yet to come.

☞ A late number of the New Orleans True Delta is reported to have contained a very remarkable article, one of the early troubles; intimating the hopelessness of the doctrine of secession, and hinting that it would be well for the cotton States to return to their allegiance. The secessionists threatened to mob the office, but the editors declared they should defend themselves, and it was thought the threat would not be carried out.

☞ Returns from nearly all the precincts of Accomac and Northampton Counties, Va., showed Watson ahead of Segar nearly 100 votes. The vote in Hampton precinct, however, changes the result, and Joseph Segar is elected by 130 or 140 majority.

☞ By order of Gen. Wool, boats' crews are not permitted to receive Southern papers, and consequently the press is cut off from the supply heretofore drawn upon.

☞ John Sellgett has been appointed postmaster at Nashville. He wrote some of the best articles against secession during the agitation of the subject in Tennessee, and now returns in n a official capacity.

☞ The Cologne Gazette states that out of the 10,000 houses in Berlin, there are only thirty-one which are entirely free from mortgage.

☞ The first train from Bangor since Saturday last, arrived at Portland on Thursday afternoon.

☞ A poor fellow in California, who lost his wife and child by the floods at Sacramento, has become a raving maniac.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century. It has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent ruffling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no attention to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized, [piles;
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it sup-
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a par—
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some;"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt ev'ry one.
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want:
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know.
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H.,
Nov. 23, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the usual advertising prices and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Feb. 8, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we have set forth after the following remaining bills for sale:

C. M. Colley, Hill, " 1860	3.12

We shall also add other names soon, unless they are cleared from our books by payment.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will SAVE at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undesirable one.

IMMORTELLES.

MEMORY.

There are things that are passed that I would not forget
For the brightest of pleasures that earth can now give;
Their bliss had a mixture of sorrow, and yet
Like stars in the night of my bosom they live.

As on scenes we have passed, when by distance made soft,
We gaze the more fondly, the further we go,
So, when years of our prime have gone over, how oft
We turn with delight to past pleasures and woe. —Mary A. Brown.

DEATH.

Dear, beauteous death, the jewel of the just,
Shining nowhere but in the dark;
What mysteries do lie beyond thy dust,
Could man outlook that mark.

He that hath found some fledged bird's nest may know,
At first sight if the bird be flown;
But what fair dell or grove he sings in now,
That is to him unknown.

And yet, as angels in some brighter dreams
Call to the soul when man doth sleep,
So some strange thoughts transcend our wonted themes,
And into glory peep. —Henry Vaughan.

PRAYER.

Even as a fountain, whose unsilled wave
Wells in the pathless valley, flowing o'er
With silent waters, kissing, as they lave,
The pebbles with light rippling, and the shore
Of matted grass and flowers—so softly pour
The breathings of her heart when she prays,
Low-bowed, before her Maker; then no more
She muses on the griefs of former days;
Her full heart melts, and flows in heaven's dissolving rays. - —Percival.

MORNING.

Soon
I used to get up early, just to sit
And watch the morning quicken in the grey,
And hear the silence open like a flower,
Leaf after leaf —Mrs. Browning.

INCREASED AFFECTION.—A woman living up in Jackson county has lost, within eighteen months, two husbands. The first was a common farm-hand, able to earn ten dollars per month—the latter a millwright, who earned two dollars a day, but was killed the second week after he got a steady job for a year. She said to a consoling friend, the other day, "It seemed so hard to lose him, just after he'd got a good job, too." —La Crosse Democrat.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (un der the Act of 1836.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Specifications, Deeds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Examinations made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters relating thereto. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Wash ington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages not securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES ANTICIPATED, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse" CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in securing inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES
FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.
We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of no less. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

His PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

HIS FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

His CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin cough, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it."
Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1y20

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use.
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

MONDAY, MARCH 24, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch to the Chicago Journal, from Cairo 21st, says direct and positive information has arrived that Gen. Grant (Smith) is at Savannah, Tenn., 60 miles from Florence. The troops are in fine health and spirits. Gen. Beauregard is in command at Corinth, Miss., with 15,000 men. Generals Cheatham and Bragg have divisions near by. About 6000 men in the vicinity of Savannah have enlisted in the Union army recently. On the night of the 13th a division of the 5th Ohio cavalry put a part of Cheatham's forces to flight, and burned the railroad bridge.

Reports from Island No. 10 to Thursday, state that all but one of the guns on the upper batteries have been silenced, and a heavy gun on the Island has been dismounted. It is thought that the enemy are making preparations to evacuate. Gen. Pope has all the rebel gunboats between his batteries, and they cannot escape. One of them was decoyed to within fifty yards of a masked battery, by which she was immediately sank. A refugee from Memphis says that there are only three regiments between the Island and Memphis, and they are at Fort Pillow.

Advices from Memphis say that the question is still debated, whether to burn the city, in case it becomes necessary to evacuate. Gov. Harris disappeared from the city two days before the time appointed for the adjournment of the Legislature, and nothing is known as to his whereabouts, although he is supposed to be at Corinth. The Legislature is also dispersed to the four winds.—Impressments have become very common since the fall of Fort Donelson.

Dispatches from Fort Smith, Ark., to the Memphis papers, acknowledge the death of McCulloch and McIntosh at Pea Ridge. The Memphis Appeal has a dispatch from Richmond, stating that Jeff Davis was going west soon, and urging everybody to rally to his standard.

Gen. Grant has been re-instated in command of his expedition.

The Merrimac, according to rebel advices, was at the last accounts taking in powder and provisions for six months.

No branch of the government has yet received any intelligence of the capture of Yancey. Correspondents, however, continue to re-assert it. Probably some one resembling him in personal appearance has been taken.

CRINOLINE ACCIDENTS.—The following items about fire-proof dresses for ladies, are from the London Times, a few months ago.

The various means proposed for rendering textile fabrics non-inflammable were carefully investigated a short time back by two well-known chemists, Messrs. Versmann and Oppenheim. An account of their experiments was read at the Aberdeen meeting of the British Association in 1859, and was afterwards published in the 'Journal of the Society of Arts.'

They showed that linen and cotton goods dried after immersion in a solution of one or other of several salts, possessed the property of non inflammability, and that the best results were obtained with a solution of sulphate of ammonia or of tungstate of soda, neither of which liquids produced any injurious effect upon the tissue or color of the fabric. The tungstate of soda solution was found most applicable to laundry purposes, on account of its not interfering in any way with the process of ironing.

Muslins, &c., steeped in a 7 per cent. solution of sulphate of ammonia, or a 20 per cent. solution of tungstate of soda, and then dried, may be held in the flame of a candle or gas lamp without taking fire. That portion of the stuff in contact with the light becomes charred and destroyed, but it does not inflame, and consequently the burning state does not spread to the rest of the material.

I am induced to send you these remarks through the mention of my name by Dr. Gull at the recent inquest on the death of Mrs. Brodhurst, as reported in the 'Times.'

☞ Among the letters found at Columbus, Ky., was one from which is copied the following extract. It is from a young man named James G. Hollingshade of the 10th Louisiana regiment, to his father in Baton Rouge. Its date is Feb. 27, 1862:

"The d—d Yankees are whipping us, or at least it looks so. Gen. Polk says Tilghman always was an abolitionist, and that Buckner was a coward. As for Pillow and Floyd, the dirty thieves, I hope I will live to see either of them, and I will not want to live another day, if I don't shoot them on sight. The Yankees are coming down to Columbus after us."

An agent of the Government has recently been in Concord endeavoring to purchase locomotives and cars for use on the Southern railways, which are falling into the military possession of the United States. He was in treaty with the managers of the Concord Railroad; with what success we do not know. He concluded some purchases with the Boston & Maine Railroad.—Concord Statesman.

☞ The N. Y. Times' dispatch says the celebrated Dr. Merritt, the picket shooter, has been arrested below the Occoquan and brought to Alexandria.

☞ What Com. Foote wants is some heavily plated gunboats, like the Merrimac. At almost every point where they have water batteries, the rebels are found to be in possession of large 128-pounders, which will tear everything to pieces less than 4 1-2 inch iron-plating. They are no doubt English cannon, brought over in the Bermuda and other English steamers, which have run the blockade. They are said to be Armstrong guns, but this is probably a mistake, as the British Government allow none of these to be exported. They are probably Blakely guns, which are quite as effective as the Armstrong, the latter having only the great advantage of being much lighter and consequently handled and moved with greater facility.

☞ The Bath Times says an ox team and sled broke through the ice near that city, and with the driver, went down in fifteen feet of water. The accident was witnessed by some young ladies, who immediately supplied themselves with ropes and started off to the rescue. One held the oxen by the horns, while another lay down on the ice and water and succeeded in passing a line under the fore legs of the oxen and fastening it. Then the brave girls manned the ropes and with the assistance of others who had by that time arrived, succeeded in pulling the team from the water. The Times "thinks these young ladies deserve much credit for their prompt and efficient services." So do we—but did the man get out? and where was he, while the girls were slinging the oxen, &c.?

☞ The Paris correspondents of the London papers represent the popular feeling in the French Capital as being uneasy Many hundreds of arrests have been made, and all men suspected of being chiefs of barricades in former insurrections have been imprisoned. The Emperor has sent a quarter of a million francs from his private purse to the suffering workmen at the great industrial centres.

☞ From India we learn that Prince Kumroodin, of the house of Mysore, grandson of Prince Gholam Mahomed, and third in descent from the famous Tippo Sultan, has been found guilty of an attempted fraud on the Bank of Bengal, in trying to pass off a ten-rupee note, which he had defaced, as a note for one thousand rupees, and has been sentenced to seven years' imprisonment, with labor, in Alipere jail.

☞ Brig. Gen. Franz Sigel was confirmed, by the Senate on Friday as Major General of Volunteers. Of all the officers in the service, no one has better earned his promotion by downright hard fighting. The Senate also confirmed the following nominations as Major Generals of the volunteer forces, viz: Brigadier Generals Don Carlos Buell, John Pope, Samuel R. Curtis, John A. McClernand, Charles F. Smith, and Lewis Wallace.

☞ The story of the "Quaker Guns" at Manassas, turns out to be a canard set afloat by our own soldiers. Col. E. H. Wright and Col. J. J. Astor, who rode through the rebel works immediately after they were entered by the advanced guard of the national troops, are reported as stating most positively that there were neither "Quaker Guns" nor painted logs, nor logs of any kind in the embrasures at that time.

CONGRESS.—The U. S. Senate on Friday discussed the bill for the establishment of a national foundry.

The House passed a resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to have the steam frigate Roanoke covered with iron.—This vessel is now at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. She is of about the same size as the Merrimac, 3400 tons, and with proper alterations and improvements may be converted into a very formidable iron-clad vessel. The consideration of the tax bill was resumed. An amendment was adopted, fixing the license of wholesale venders of wine and liquors at $100.

☞ The snow in Vermont must be deep, and the drifts high. The papers say one drift in Troy has been tunnelled for a distance of over fifty rods, and loads of hay, wood, &c., pass through. In Newport, a large drift was excavated, so as to make a room sixty ft. by forty, and eighteen ft. high in the centre. In this room a festival was held on Wednesday evening, 180 ladies and gentlemen being present. Two large tables were spread, and the snow palace was illuminated by twelve hanging lamps.

☞ Advices from Nashville report that Yancey has arrived safe in New Orleans, and that in a speech to the people he expressed no hope of aid from abroad. But a letter from Howard Potts, Engineer of the U. S. gunboat Water Witch, re-asserts that the schooner Wm. Mallory, with the traitor Yancey on board, had been captured by that vessel.

☞ Vera Cruz advices are to the 8th, but they contain no news of importance.—The British troops have all embarked, and are ready to start for home.

☞ W. S. Fosdick, the "poet laureate" of the West, died at Cincinnati on Monday, aged 42 years. He was born at Cincinnati and educated at the Lexington (Ky.) University, since when he has alternately practised law, managed a theatre, written poetry, and edited a newspaper. He was one of the most genial men, and his death is lamented by a wide circle of friends. He was never married. Julia Dean Hayne was his half sister.

☞ The New York Express learns from passengers who came from Port Royal, in the Atlantic, that an attempt was made by the rebel gunboats to run down to Fort Pulaski from Savannah, on the 16th inst., in which the rebel flotilla was badly whipped and had but a narrow escape through the numerous inlets. The flag vessel of Commodore Tatnall was crippled and had to be towed in.

EXPLOSION.—An iron fan five feet in diameter and making 2000 revolutions a minute, used in the Dye-House of the Salisbury Mills Company for the purpose of drying wool, exploded on Tuesday morning last with a loud noise, but did no injury other than staving a hole through the roof of the dye-house and knocking off a portion of the slating.

DISGRACEFUL CONDUCT.—The Montezuma (Iowa) Republican says that when the news of the capture of Fort Donelson reached the Iowa Legislature, both branches immediately adjourned and repaired to the Des Moines Hotel, where they indulged in a grand "spree." The Governor and other State officials participated and got gloriously drunk.

☞ Exeter has appropriated $100 to pay for a writing master for the High School in that town. Messrs. Newell & Foss, in this city, commence a new term to begin this Monday evening—for particulars of which, see advertisement. They are both responsible gentlemen, and have had large experience; and their terms are only one dollar.

☞ The Gloucester Cape Ann Weekly Advertiser reports the proceedings of a meeting held there to take measures to raise funds for the relief of the seventy-five widows and one hundred and sixty orphans of shipwrecked fishermen. A subscription Committee was appointed, and the first subscribers on the fund list were the firm of R. W. Ropes & Co. of Salem for $500.

☞ George F. Davenport of Huntington, Pa., is author of one of the ten tracts for the soldiers for which the American Society offered prizes of $10 each, by virtue of a late bequest. The Cleveland Herald says that this is the Capt. Davenport who, at the last term of the court in Cleveland, was sent to the Penitentiary for forgery. The title of his tract is "Halt."

☞ The stock holders of the Bank of New Hampshire, Portsmouth, have voted to reduce the capital stock of the bank one third. The par value of the shares will be reduced from $100 to $60, by a payment of $40 per share in June next.

—— The Manchester Mirror says a member of the N. H. 2d Regiment, in a letter dated Beaufort, Md., March 17th, states that on the Tuesday before, Co. B of that Regiment presented a sword to Col. Marston, valued, as he says, at $225. The presentation remarks were made by the Chaplain, Rev. Mr. Parker.

☞ The Snow in Northern Vermont and New Hampshire is of great depth. In Peacham, Vt., the people are using their chamber windows for doors, and the orchards are so buried that the tops of the trees appear like bushes, the uppermost twigs only coming above the snow.

☞ Two new military departments have been created; that of the Gulf, under Gen. Butler, and that of the South, including South Carolina, Georgia, and the expedition under Gen. Sherman. Gen. Hunter commands the latter department.

THE REBEL STEAM-RAMS.—Government has information from several sources that the four steam-rams now building by the rebels, two at Mobile and two at New Orleans, are similar in construction, though undoubtedly more formidable, than the Hollins turtle. They will, however, bear no comparison with the Merrimac.—Tribune.

☞ The Philadelphia publisher of Dr. Kane's works has offered Parson Brownlow $10,000 for the copyright of his proposed book, giving an account of his sufferings.

☞ General Wool has not ordered newspaper correspondents from Fortress Monroe, as reported, or made any complaint of the manner in which they perform their work.

☞ Capt. Paul West, who died at Nantucket recently, aged 84, was a hardy pioneer in the American whale fisheries, and sailed with the first captain who killed a sperm whale in the Pacific Ocean, in 1798.

A very tedious fellow annoyed Douglas Jerrold very much by his everlasting long stories, and on one occasion he related having heard a song by which he was quite carried away. Douglas looking round, asked if any one present could sing that song.

IRON CLAD VESSELS.—The Tribune's dispatch says the Navy Department has ordered the builders of the Monitor, Messrs. C. O. Bushnell & Co., to build six more iron-clad vessels, similar in construction, but more formidable. They are to be 204 or 205 feet, instead of 170 feet long, and are to carry two fifteen-inch instead of two eleven-inch Dahlgren guns. It is intended that they shall be able to run ten knots an hour, and shall be thoroughly sea-going. It is not unlikely that a dozen iron-clad vessels, similar to the Monitor, will be contracted for. Wiard, the steel gun maker, has prepared plans for a mailed war vessel, which some experts pronounce superior even to the Monitor.

The steamship Vanderbilt, at New York is now being converted into an iron-clad man-of-war steamship, and the Ocean Queen is to be converted into a steam-ram.

A CHANGE.

Having disposed of my milk business from this date to my son CHARLES H. HAYES, I would hereby express my thanks to the public for the liberal patronage received during the past TWENTY YEARS; and would respectfully request a continuance of the same to my successor.

All Milk bills contracted since the first of January, 1862, will be settled by CHARLES H. HAYES.

CHARLES HAYES.

Portsmouth, March 1

Having purchased the milk business as above, I would announce to the present customers and all others who may wish to favor me with their patronage that the business will be conducted as heretofore. Nothing but the purest article of NEW MILK will be sold. Every exertion will be made to insure its prompt delivery at the earliest possible hour.

Having retained the services of Mr. JOHN P. SWEETSER as Agent, all persons wishing to take Milk will please leave their orders with him, or at PLUMER'S Bakery, and they shall be promptly attended to.

Great pains will be taken to make the change satisfactory to all. CHARLES H. HAYES.

HOTELS IN PORTSMOUTH.—The "Piscataqua House," on Market Square, is to be enlarged and refitted by Col. Wm. S. Hadley, its owner. T. B. Hoyt, late landlord of the Piscataqua, has removed to the old Sheafe mansion, at the corner of Market and Deer streets, and opened the "American House." Several out-of-town landlords have desired to take the Franklin House, kept by the late Mr. Barnabee, and now conducted by his family; but have been deterred on account of the owners being unwilling to make a lease of the property for more than a year. It is to be hoped that long-established house may have a suitable successor to Mr. Barnabee, whose excellent fare was well known throughout the country. The "Rockingham House" is owned and well conducted by Messrs. Wm. E. Hadley & Co., as a first class house; and the City Hotel has Maj. R. F. Goodwin for landlord.

The U. S. District Court held a session last week. The "Ferdinand Clarke" case in bankruptcy employed the attention of the Court. This case has been twice decided in Supreme Court of the United States in favor of the assignee and against the bankrupt, and will doubtless be finished as soon as this court can get another case before it. —Ballot.

MORRIS MINSTRELS.—This popular Troupe are to give their first concert at the Temple this, Monday, evening. The Nashua Telegraph, in speaking of their concert in that city a few nights since says: "Such a rush as there was at Franklin Hall on Tuesday night we have not seen for many a day. The hall was packed to its utmost. The company were in fine spirits, and their performance gave great satisfaction." And the Portland Argus says of their concert on Friday evening:—"There was nothing vulgar or exceptionable in the performances, and they elicited shouts of applause. A violin solo, by Mr. W. H. Brockway, was one of the gems of the performance, and brought down the House, eliciting enthusiastic encore."

NAVAL.—Sailing sloop Portsmouth, 22, Com'r Swartwout, was off the Rio Grande 1st inst. Frigate Santee, 50, Com'r Eagle, was off Galveston the same date. Sloop Vincennes, 20, Lieut. Madigan, was at the South Pass 4th inst. Steam sloop Brooklyn, 25, Capt. T. T. Craven, and steamer Mercedita, 9, Com'r Stellwagen, were at Pass a l'Outre.

Commander James S. Palmer, late of the Iroquois, has been acquitted of all blame on account of the escape of the Sumter from Martinique, and is now waiting orders.

Capt. Henry C. Keene of Augusta, Me. who lost his leg at the battle of Port Royal on board the Ottawa, of which he was Senior Acting Master, has been tendered by the Secretary of the Navy the command of the U. S. store-ship Fredonia stationed at Callao, Peru.

☞ Ship Judah Touro, Hanscom, already reported abandoned, from Feb. 18th to the 24th, experienced a series of heavy gales, in which she lost her bowsprit, foretopmast and foremast head, main topgallant mast, and all her sails. Her stern frame was shaken, bulwarks stove, and she sprung a leak, which kept all hands continually at the pumps. Capt. Hanscom tried to reach Fayal, but the ship leaked so badly, and the men were so exhausted by continual pumping and exposure, that he was compelled to abandon her. On the 26th, all hands were rescued by the ship Byzantium, and arrived at New York 21st inst.

☞ Gen. Fremont left Washington on Friday afternoon for New York. It is said the bounds of his Department have been enlarged so as to include Ohio and other points.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT UNDER CANVAS.—The rebel Provisional Government of Kentucky is to assemble in a Sibley tent near the headquarters of Gen. Crittenden at Huntsville, Alabama, on the 21st.

☞ A sergeant of the Mass. 21st regiment writes that among the cannon captured by Gen. Burnside at Newbern, were thirteen brass field-pieces taken by the enemy at Bull Run.

☞ The establishment of the U. S. Agricultural Department is a fixed fact. The House bill for that purpose, which passed some days ago, has been reported upon favorably by the Senate Committee.

Says the Chicago Times: "The President has concluded to give Fremont another trial in the field. We believe somebody, after repeated trials, has made a whistle of a pig's tail, but it was a very poor whistle."

☞ The veteran artist, Charles B. King, died in Washington, on Tuesday last, of heart disease. He was born in Newport, R. I., and was about 76 years old.

☞ A Miss Evans, a handsome young English lady, only sixteen years old, is said to be lecturing in Dublin to crowded audiences, in favor of total abstinence.

——Gov. Berry has appointed Thursday, April 10th, as Fast Day in New Hampshire.

Special Notices.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MINUTE OF TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that it will not injure the clothes, by coming in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our co.) if properly consumed, affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized,
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it supplies;
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part.
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
I'll many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When Independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they 'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some."
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you in "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt every one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know.
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich, "you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 21 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall hereafter in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year remaining, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be debunded.

P. S.—Feb. 8, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

Morning Chronicle.

A VILLAGE PICTURE.

In robes of purple, gold and brown,
The mountains guard our little town,
Which nestling in their bosoms lies:
And over all are skies of blue,
With fleecy clouds, slow sailing through
Their depths, like aerial argosies.

As quiet is yon village street
As if no heart-pulse near it beat;
How different from yon city's roar
Scarce sught is heard save children's talk,
Home tripping on the granite walk
At noon and eve, when school is o'er

And near is many a wood and glen
And quiet nook, where dreamy men
May loiter through the livelong day;
Groves, whence the song of wild bird calls
Unto the answering waterfalls,
Where rainbows gleam, 'mid the mist and spray.

Here, far from life's unceasing riot,
Fain would I spend my days in quiet,
With books and birds, and flowers and friends:
But vain—stern Duty claims her due—
He who would live must struggle, too,
Through life, and till life's conflict ends.

GROWING DARK.

The lizard, with his mouse-like eye,
Peeps from the mortice with surprise
At such strange quiet after day's harsh din;
Then ventures boldly out,
And looks about,
And with his hollow feet
Treads his small evening beat,
Darting upon his prey,
In such a tricksy, winsome sort of way,
His delicate marauding seems no sin;
And still the curtain swings
But noiselessly;
The bells a melancholy murmur ring,
As tears were in the sky:
More heavily the shadows fall,
Like the black foldings of a pall,
Where lyts the room's beam from the wall;
The candles flare
With fresher gusts of air;
The beetle's drone
Turns to a dirge-like solitary moan;
Night deepens, and I sit, in cheerless doubt, alone. — Emily Judson.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The MORE EXTENSIVE business gives to these terms is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, twice made to reject applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in bulk or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

HIS PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL OF Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and bowel complaints, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound, he has proved to be the worst remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

HIS FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

HIS CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a dose and try it.
Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM."

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of these medicines shall have pay for it, if it do as agrees with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. 1209

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use.
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly estimated by eminent physicians, used in European and American hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New-Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no admixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, MARCH 25, 1862.

☞ The state of Europe is thus described by the paragrapher of the Boston Post:—Hungry workmen, in procession, parade the streets of Liverpool and Paris; in the French Legislative body, a serious quarrel is springing up with the Emperor, which may ere long lead to another coup; at Rome, all was alarm under an apprehension of a popular [illegible] in consequence of which the [illegible] garrison had been placed under arms, [illegible] closed, and the Papal troops con[illegible] barracks. In Greece, a re[illegible] full blast, and in Turkey, its next [illegible] neighbor, the Turks and Christians have just been having a free fight, resulting in the sacrifice, some reports say, of a thousand lives. With trouble thus all round—in the old world—we do not know that even with rebellion on our hands, the United States is not, after all, the quietest place on earth for a Peace-Society man to dwell in.

☞ It is stated that there is not an Armstrong gun in the country. Nor has Armstrong made a gun for any other than the English government. The large rifled cannon procured by the rebels from England, were made at the Lowmoor works after designs by one Blakely of the Royal Artillery. About twenty of these 100-pounder rifle cannon have been delivered to the rebels, which with thirty smooth bore seige cannon, constitute all the heavy ordnance the rebels have obtained from abroad which has escaped capture. Most of the rifled guns used by the rebels have been smooth navy guns rifled, and many of them have burst from the enormous strain they were not designed to bear.

FOREIGN.—The steamship America, from Liverpool 8th inst., via Queenstown 9th, arrived at Halifax on Saturday. The most interesting matter in the news by this arrival, is the report of a debate in the House of Commons upon the American blockade. Mr. Gregory (M. P. for Galway) having moved for a correspondence on the subject, proceed to express his strong sympathy for the Confederate States, and declared that hitherto the blockade had not fulfilled any of the conditions which could render it legal and effective. Mr. Wm. O. Foster refuted the assertions of Mr. Gregory, and adduced facts to prove the stringency rather than the inefficiency of the blockade. Mr. Wm. S. Lindsay quoted from his American correspondence, to prove that the blockade was a mere paper blockade. The Solicitor General, on behalf of the Government, urged upon the House the duty of maintaining a strict and impatial neutrality between the contending parties. He quoted precedents to show that the present blockade was as effective as those of former times, and that very few instances had occurred of successful attempts to evade it. On taking the question the motion of Mr. Gregory was negatived without a division.

The privateer Sumter still remained at Gibraltar, and the U. S. steamer Tuscarora was keeping watch over her. Some trouble had occurred at Tangier, on account of the arrest, by the U.S. Consul, of one of the officers of the Sumter and a Mr. Thompson, formerly Vice Consul at Cadiz. These persons were conveyed on board of the U. S. gunboat Ino, against the remonstrances and threatened violence of the European residents and Moorish populace. This was on the 26th ult. On the 7th inst., in reply to a question on the subject, in the House of Commons, Mr. Layard said they had been released.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY FOR APRIL, has a good table of contents. Agnes of Torrento has a fine close, marrying Agnes to Prince Agostino Sarelli, with the full approbation of Father Antonio. There are several papers "for the times," among them John Lamar, What shall we do with them, i. e. the rebels,—and Then and Now in the Old Dominion.

The publishers say, in a note to this number:

This magazine has not shared the unfavorable influence which the war has had upon literature generally. Since the beginning of the year more than 10,000 copies have been added to its circulation—a result at once highly satisfactory to its conductors and gratifying to the lover of literature.—The same thoughtful and patriotic political papers, from the best prose writers, will continue to lend power and dignity to its pages; and favorite poets will evolve from the ever shifting phases of our national affairs the lessons of the hour. The two great serial features which have so firmly fixed public attention—Professor Agassiz's popular expositions of the science of Natural History, and James Russell Lowell's "Biglow Papers"—will be continued each month.

☞ Sir G. C. Lewis, during a recent debate in the English Parliament, gave a complete denial to the reports of the failure of the Armstrong gun. He said that 2400 had thus far been manufactured, and with very slight exception they had answered every expectation entertained of them.

THE REBELLION.

Our forces are penetrating into the country about Savannah, Tenn., and have entire possession of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, in the vicinity of Savannah.

A fight took place on Sunday near Winchester, Va., between 8000 of our troops under Gen. Shields, and 15,000 rebels under Gens. Jackson, Smith and Longstreet. The fight lasted from 10 1-2 A. M. until dark, and resulted in the total rout of the rebels. We captured a large number of prisoners, some guns, and the ground was strewn with the arms they threw away in their flight. It appears that the rebel Gen. Jackson was marching on Winchester, under the impression that our troops had left the place.

Steamer Saxon, which has been in search of the U. S. ship Vermont, arrived at Boston, Sunday morning, for coal. She left Philadelphia on the 12th, having on board a spare rudder, with shackles and chains complete, furnished at the Navy Yard. On the 15th fell in with the Vermont in tow of gunboat Aroostook. The Aroostook reported lying alongside of the Vermont for seven or eight days, and having lost smokestack, one boat, and sustained other damage during a gale of wind. At 5 P. M. the Aroostook stood for Philadelphia, to repair damages. In towing the Vermont, the hawser parted and there being so much sea on, it was impossible for the Saxon to get another hawser to her. Having but four days' coal on board, and being unable to render any assistance, the Saxon, on the afternoon of the 18th, parted company with the Verhang it At the time the Saxon launched mont. The spare rudder taken out was lost while an attempt was being made to the rudder, the Vermont had a temporary one on deck which had been made on board, and it would be hung when the weather moderated.

Immediately after the occupation of Newbern by Gen. Burnside, an expedition to Beaufort, N. C., was started. The place was evacuated, however, before our troops approached. Fort Macon was blown up by the rebels, and the steamer Nashville was burnt on the day Gen. B. occupied Newbern. Sixteen thousand troops were on the road between Goldsboro' and Newbern.

A Nashville letter of the 19th, in the N. Y. Times, says:—

"The advance corps of our army, under Gens. Mitchell and Dumont, is ere this in Murfreesboro, and it is reported there that Hardee has fallen back on Chattanooga, and is reinforcing Gen. A. Sydney Johnston, who with a large force is fortifying the hills about that naturally strategic position. A gentleman from Mobile, who arrived here yesterday with a pass from Gen. Beauregard to our lines, informed me he left that city only a week since, and on his way up found trains filled with soldiers and material of war, their principal destination being Corinth, Miss. He had conversed with many troops who assured him that they had not received any pay for six months, and when their time was up they intended to go home. The rebels are determined to make a desperate stand at Chattanooga. There is not the least doubt that if they are whipped there they will yield and sue for peace."

The commanding officer at Fort Craig writes to the government that he has no doubt of being able to hold the post.

Key West letters leave no doubt of the non-capture of Yancey. The rumor was caused by the fact that the consul at Havana sent word to Capt. Ridge of the Santiago de Cuba that Yancey was aboard the schooner Mallory, subsequently captured by the Water Witch. The mate of the Mallory says Yancey sailed the day before her in the schooner Break-of-Day for Mobile.

As certain newspapers have persisted in publishing military movements, Sec. Stanton has ordered the enforcement of the penalties, and a special Court Martial to be assembled at Washington for the trial and punishment of the offenders.

A Philadelphia dispatch says the relatives of Capt. Buchanan, late of the rebel steamer Merrimac, have received positive information of his death at Norfolk, from his wounds.

☞ Twenty-seven privateers, comprising the officers and crew of the Beauregard, arrived at Boston on Sunday morning, and were sent to Fort Warren. The officers among them are a Captain, two Lieutenants and a Purser. Most of the men are young. The Post says few of them are in danger of being accused of possessing any great amount of intelligence. In Philadelphia, just as they landed at the wharf, they gave three cheers for Jeff. Davis.—They were made to understand, in the most emphatic manner, that this sort of thing could not be safely repeated; and it was not attempted.

One of them asked a Boston policeman if they would not be exchanged, as other prisoners had been. The reply was that the only exchange pirates every got here was in neck-ties, from cloth to hemp,—a bit of information that suddenly brought the conversation to a close.

☞ Stephen S. Harding of Indiana was last Friday nominated for Governor of Utah, vice Dawson, rejected.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A new religious society has been organized by the Baptists in Lebanon, to be known as the "First Baptist Society in Lebanon." A chapel is to be erected by them early in the coming season.

—— Dr. Tracy, Surgeon of the 6th N. H. Regiment, arrived home on Tuesday last, in a feeble state of health, induced by exposure and severe duty at Hatteras. The resignation of Col. Converse of the same regiment on account of ill health has already been reported.

—— Mr. John Conner, of Exeter, has been appointed a Master's Mate in the Navy.

—— About three o'clock Thursday morning the barn of Charles H. Copp of Derry, with one horse, cow, colt and some hay, was consumed. The barn was insured.—The fire is said to be the work of an incendiary.

—— Mr. Stephen Ordway, of Hebron—93 years of age—at the recent election went three miles to vote. He has lived in Hebron since he was 21. And at the election in South Hampton, Mr. Samuel Currier attended all day. He was 98 years old on the 8th inst., is in good health, and enjoyed "town meeting day" as agreeably as in his younger days.

—— The Manchester American learns that the case between the Directors of the Mechanics' Loan Fund and Dr. Nelson has been settled, the prosecution entering a nol pros.

—— The News Letter states that in Exeter, on Sunday morning, as Lewis O. Leavitt, aged about 12 years, was leading a horse to water, he accidentally slipped and the horse's foot struck the boy's face near one of his eyes, inflicting a bad wound and breaking a bone. The boy was taken up insensible and bleeding freely, but is now comfortable.

—— The residence in Exeter, formerly owned and occupied by Prof. J. G. Hoyt, but lately owned by J. B. Wadleigh, deceased, was purchased last week by Mrs. Burleigh of Great Falls for $4,500.

—— Rev. N. Hooper, of the Baptist Church in Exeter, acknowledges a present of $75 in money, at a social interview in the Parsonage.

FAST IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

GOV. BERRY'S PROCLAMATION.

In view of our entire dependence upon God for all that we can hope in the life that now is, and for that which is to come; for protection in times of individual and public peril; for propitious seasons of the year, and exemption from prevalent and fatal disease; for deliverance from present and apprehended disaster; and in accordance with the usage of our honored ancestors, it becomes our duty to set apart a day in which to humble ourselves before the Lord our Maker.

I, therefore, by and with the consent and advice of the Council, appoint Thursday, the tenth day of April next, to be observed throughout this State as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer; and earnestly request the people thereof to assemble in their respective places of public worship, and maintain a religious Fast, according to the design of such an observance. Remembering the unhappy state of our beloved country—the result of our waywardness and inconsideration—let us humbly confess our transgressions as individuals and as a people, and devoutly pray for the pardon thereof through the merits of Jesus Christ.

Let us all meet and solemnize such a Fast as will be in accordance with those well known directions of the Holy Scriptures, a Fast during which humility and contrition shall possess us as a people, who, for wise reasons, are experiencing the chastisement of God, to whom the most fervent supplication shall be made that it prove not in vain that we have been afflicted. Let prayer be offered to the God of our fathers, that he will grant his gracious presence, the benign influences of his Spirit, and the exercise of his sovereign mercy, in this season of national distress: That his blessing be upon our interests as a State and a Nation: That vice in every form be subdued: That vital religion, pure and undefiled, exercise its saving influence upon all hearts: That prosperity attend our religious, charitable and literary institutions: That Slavery come to an end, and that the present War terminate in a restored Union. Remembering that "unless the Lord keep the city the watchman waketh in vain," let fervent supplication be made to him that he will shed upon us the light of his reconciled countenance and give us peace, and that we may be emphatically that people whose God is the Lord.

☞ Rev. Charles Mason, D. D., died in Boston at 4 o'clock Sunday morning, March 23, aged 49 years. He was son of Hon. Jeremiah Mason, and was born in Portsmouth July 25, 1812. He graduated at Harvard College in 1832, in high standing, and entered the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. At the time of his death and for seven years previous he was the reverend and beloved Rector of Grace Church. He leaves a widow and seven children.

☞ Orders have been sent by the Secretary of War to Gens. Wright and Halleck to send troops to protect the entire overland route, mails, emigrants and treasure, which the Government is anxious shall be carried on our own soil and not through a foreign country.

☞ A balloon has been sent to Commodore Foote, for the purpose of making a reconnoissance of the works of the enemy.

NAVAL.—Senator Latham having made applications to the Secretary of the Navy to detail an experienced navigator to bring to San Francisco, the Saginaw, which was abandoned by our officers in the Chinese seas, the Department has detailed Capt. Watkins for that purpose. The machinery in this vessel is said to be excellent.

Acting Master James B. Gordon, of the U. S. ship Gemsbok, has been dismissed from the service.

The Secretary of the Navy has written a letter to Lieut. Morris, thanking him for his brilliant defence of the Cumberland.

Lieut. Alexander A. Semmes is detailed from the Rhode Island, and ordered to report to Flag Officer Goldsborough, at Hampton Roads.

Secretary Wells has ordered Capt. Palmer to resume command of the Iroquois at once.

Over three hundred applications have been filed with the Navy Department soliciting a vacant Chaplaincy in the Navy, caused by the death of the Chaplain on the Cumberland.

It is not true that the steamer Vanderbilt has been purchased by the government, to be altered to an iron-clad vessel. She is merely chartered for a transport.

☞ Duncan Dunbar, an eminent shidowner in London, who died suddenly a short time since, left property estimated at a million and a half to two millions sterling.

☞ "A thing of beauty—a joy forever," is one of the sea-shells, filled with growing flowers, which Mr. Meinerth introduced here some years since—and several of which may always be seen ornamenting the window of his residence, No. 53 Islington street. [And by the way, those passers who appreciate the beautiful, have not failed to often admire the perpetual display of house plants made by two ladies of good taste, living on either side of the same street, a little below Mr. Meinerth's—where, at all seasons of the year, the most flourishing pot plants seem to delight in acknowledging the fostering care of those who thus keep dreariness away from winter, and help nature's summer rejoicing.]

Mr. Meinerth is an indefatigable worker for the promotion of good taste, and the advancement of the beautiful in nature and art. Of this we have a new triple evidence before us at this moment—first, one of these same large marine shells, filled with soil, in which, after several vain attempts in winter, he has kindly coaxed five different varieties of beautiful running plants to take root and grow, and which are hanging over the pearly sides of the shell, climbing up the four cords by which it is suspended from the ceiling—forming one of the most beautiful objects conceivable. Next, we have an elegantly colored stereoscopic picture (taken by himself) of one of his own shells, full of bright flowering plants; and also a descriptive and instructive article concerning "flowers in Shells," finely illustrated with beautiful drawings from life,—all from the pen of Mr. M., and published in the N. Y. Agriculturist. For all which favors, we return thanks to him, while we hope our "joy" and its special patron "may live forever."

☞ At the Concert given by the Morris Minstrels at the Temple last evening, every thing passed off finely. There were lots of laughter-provoking jokes—lots of humorous burlesque, but nothing to offend the most delicate taste. That the audience enjoyed the affair, was abundantly testified. They will give another concert this evening, with an entire change of programme, the last that will be given here. Lovers of fun will take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

This troupe met with such unusual success in Portland that the Advertiser of the city, which is chary of such commendatory notices, after their departure, said:

A very large audience—larger than we ever before saw at an entertainment of the kind—greeted the Morris Minstrels, and by frequent demonstrations of applause expressed their approbation of the performances. It is pronounced the best troupe that has visited this city.

☞ The Printers of this city had another Lottery last week, at the City Rooms, and the publisher of the Chronicle drew the prize—the Printing of the School Committees' Reports for the past year. At the prices the City pays, it is not a very fat job—not paying better than most army contracts. By the way, we are beginning to believe in lotteries—though we suppose our neighbor of the Journal will now hold them in greater horror than ever. We hope he never dabbled in stocks, (say P. S. Mill, or P. & C. R. R.,) or Government loan, or any gambling of the speculative sort.

☞ Gen. Blenker has been suspended from his command, and it is thought will not return. Evidence of improper conduct has been found by the Committee on the Conduct of the War, and reported to the Senate, and his nomination was unanimously rejected. The President, it is said, has been asked to order Sigel to take his division.

☞ Gen. Fremont has received his final instructions at the War Department, and leaves immediately. His body-guard, under Zagony, will accompany him, and reorganize the Cavalry.

☞ A Washington dispatch, March 22d, says it is asserted as the general prevalent opinion in military and naval circles, that by this time the national banner floats over New Orleans, and it is believed that our mortar fleet attacked the rebel Fort at the Rigolets within two days after the departure from Ship Island of the steamer bringing North the last intelligence from that point.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham in the State of New Hampshire:

Respectfully Represents MARY BATSON, of Newcastle in said County, that SAMUEL BATSON of said Newcastle has lately deceased, intestate, having, at the time of his decease, a homestead, situate in said Newcastle, described as follows, viz.: bounded northerly by the road leading to Fort Constitution, easterly by land of the town of Newcastle and George Vennard, southerly by land of said Vennard, and westerly by land of William Rose; that your petitioner is widow of said deceased, and has been and still is in the occupation of said premises; that no release or waive of the right of homestead has been made; that the minor children of said deceased are Abby N. Neelley, Clarinda Batson, Harriet H. Batson, Sarah L. Batson, Frances M. Batson, Thomas E. Batson. Wherefore she prays that a homestead of the value of five hundred dollars be set off to her agreeably to the statute in such case provided.

MARY BATSON.

Dated the 11th day of February A. D. 1862.

Rockingham ss. Probate Office at Exeter, in said County, February 11th, A. D. 1862

Upon the foregoing Petition it is Ordered, that a hearing be had thereon at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, on the second Tuesday of May next, at ten o'clock A. M.; and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned or interested thereto to appear at said Court, and show cause if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days prior to said Court.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed, affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized,
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it supplies;
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part—
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man;
From his[illegible] hallowed women. 'T was intended
She c[illegible] conceived, which fact we all know;
For [illegible] member, the tongue, is hard to [illegible]
[illegible] possessed by woman, allowed to do [illegible]
In [illegible] times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place.
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day.
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you u "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt every one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—mise it you can;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H.,
NOV. 22, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Feb. 3, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

We shall also add other names soon, unless they are cleared from our books by payment.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will have at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undesirable ones.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that more MONEY HAS BEEN MADE AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reasons to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The long and extensive practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leaves me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made six series rejected application, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz.:

HIS PANACEA is unrivalled for the cure of Cancer, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes and all impurities of the blood. Price $1.00.

CORDIAL of Dandelion, Spikenard and Benecet—a remedy unsurpassed for the liver and heart complaint, costiveness, dizziness and pain in the head, stomach and side, and the whole family of consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

RHEUMATIC COMPOUND, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and modes of acute and chronic gout, neuralgia, lumbago, &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for those complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

HIS FAMILY PILLS are warranted paramount to any in the market, as a safe, easy and effectual physic. Price 25 cents.

HIS CONSERVE cures the piles, headache and costiveness, and, is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it

REV. ELIPHAS BURNHAM."

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent Physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, curing Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The Federal loss in the battle near Winchester, on Sunday, amounts to nearly 350, among whom is a large proportion of officers.—The enemy had 500 killed and wounded, and lost 300 in prisoners.

A special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune, dated 9 o'clock Sunday night, off Island No. 10, says the firing continues slowly day and night at intervals of half an hour. Our fire is mostly concentrated upon the upper battery, which is now fairly blown to pieces. This battery has not replied for two days. Only one gun can be seen in position, and that is probably a quaker. The batteries on the main shore are also mysteriously silent, and the encampments grow smaller day by day. Transports still continue flying about, apparently carrying away troops. The river is still rising, and everything is overflowed; the rebels were drowned out of some of their batteries, and have been attempting to erect new ones, but the well directed fire of our mortars prevents them.

A detachment of the 1st Iowa cavalry, sent out from Jefferson City, Mo., by Gen. Totten against a guerilla band, had a skirmish with the enemy, killing two, wounding one, and taking 75 prisoners. Over 200 horses, 48 kegs of powder, and a quantity of arms were also captured. Our loss was four wounded.

Armed rebels are still being concentrated at Corinth, Miss. All unarmed troops are being sent to Decatur, Ala. At Memphis all rebel stores are being removed to places of safety, in the event of an attack by the Union forces. There is but little known at Memphis of the movements at Island No. 10, outside of military circles. Beauregard is at Jackson, Tenn.

On Tuesday last, the bridge across Turkey Creek on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, was burnt by Union troops.

New rebel troops are pouring into Richmond. Jeff. Davis has declared martial law over the counties of Elizabeth City, York, Warwick, Gloucester and Matthews. Seventy-seven citizens of Loudon county, Va., were sent to Richmond on Thursday night, and committed to one of the military prisons.

On the 20th, Gen. Burnside sent a force, with several gunboats, to Washington, N.C. There was no opposition to our landing. Our troops occupied the town, and the Union flag is flying on the Court House. The inhabitants of Newbern are gradually returning to the town, and taking the oath of allegiance.

The statement that Gen. Blenker has been suspended from his command is pronounced untrue. Neither has the Senate Military Committee reported against his confirmation.

Gen. Shields was wounded in the left arm at the engagement at Winchester, and it is rumored that he will be obliged to have his arm amputated: but the rumor is not entirely credited.

No details of the late battle at Winchester, Va., have yet been received. Our army was at Strasburg on Tuesday morning, and is vigorously pursuing the rebels, whose retreat is a flight.

Federal re-inforcements for Col. Canby, at Fort Craig, had reached Fort Union, on the 7th, having marched 160 miles in four days.

ENGLISH COTTON LORDS.—One of our citizens, an Englishman by birth, has handed us a copy of the Ashton, (Eng.) Standard, Feb. 22. This paper is published in the midst of a great cotton district,—and it contains an account of a great meeting at Ashton, of those who sympathize with the United States, in our struggle against the rebels.

The chairman of the meeting was Hugh Mason, Esq., one of the largest manufacturers of cotton, and a very wealthy man, who kept his mills going and using up his cotton because he would not dismiss his people, when he might have made large sums by selling his great stock of cotton.

Mr. Mason in his opening speech said, "We, (the cotton manufacturers of England,) were not suffering so much from the interruption of the supply of cotton from America, as we were suffering from the absence of demand for our own manufacturing productions!—the war in America interfered with our export trade!"

His sympathies (he said) were anywhere but with the nine States that hold four millions of the human race in bondage. He should dread the time when it could be said of the English people, who had paid twenty millions sterling for emancipation of our slaves in the West Indies,—that for the sake of our own selfish interests, we should so far forget ourselves as to seek an alliance in any way whatever with the Southern slave owners.

The sentiment of the meeting was, that real neutrality of action was Britain's duty and true interest,—and that sympathy with the free north was a demand of justice and liberty.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In the town of Washington, which has a population of little over one thousand persons, there are sixty-five persons over seventy years of age,—thirty males and thirty-five females. Three are over 90 and under 95.

—— A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, who writes from Port Royal, Mar. 18, states that at the time of the occupation of Jacksonville, Fla., Col. Whipple of the N. H. 4th Regiment was ordered to take secure military possession of the place, but the whole arrangement was unskillful, and its execution incomplete and unsoldierly. Some of his lieutenants were obliged to change the position of their guns and of the troops, taking the responsibility upon themselves. The correspondent says "Col. Whipple—forgetful both of his duty and the influence of such an example on a town just peacably occupied,—during all Wednesday night was publicly and shamelessly drunk, carousing at his head-quarters, parading the streets on his rounds at night with a negro woman on his arm, and making drunken speeches to his men till daylight. Attention being called, by a memorandum numerously signed by officers of the regiment, to this outrageous and disgraceful conduct, an order was issued on Thursday morning, to the Provost Marshal, to arrest Col. W. and place him on board the steamer, to be returned to Fernandina. He was permitted, however, to go on shore to see his officers, and persuaded them to withdraw the charges by promising to resign at once. At least once before he has been arrested at Port Royal for drunkenness, and carried to the guard-house by an officer of inferior rank. At that time charges were preferred against him, and dropped on the understanding that he should resign."

—— The citizens of Exeter voted at the recent election to dispense with gas light in the streets, and a writer in the News-Letter in enclosing their action says "the glare of gas lights would destroy the beautiful appearance of this village in a summer's evening, when the straggling moonbeams peeping through the leafy trees paint such panoramic pictures—the attempt to light which, would be like attempting to like Paradise with a tallow candle." But as some do not coincide with him in opinion, he claims that in view of "the enormous taxes which must be eventually paid by the laboring man, it would seem more economical to hire a few boys with lanterns to light those persons home on dark nights who find it so difficult to get there without breaking their necks."

☞ Wendell Phillips was mobbed in Cincinnati on Monday evening, having commenced a lecture by avowing himself an abolitionist and disunionist. Eggs and stones were thrown, and the crowd finally made a rush towards him, crying "put him out," "tar and feather him," &c. They proceeded down the middle aisle towards the stage, and were met by Mr. Phillips' friends. A fight ensued amidst the greatest confusion—ladies screaming, crying, jumping on chairs and falling in all directions.—During the fight Mr. Phillips was taken off the stage by his friends.

FOREIGN.—The steamship Hansa from Southampton, 12th, has arrived. In the House of Lords, on the 11th, Lord Campbell called attention to the inefficiency of the blockade of the Confederate ports, and moved for the correspondence on the subject. Earl Russell replied. He considered the want of cotton in the English markets the best test that the blockade was not an empty one. He said no formal communication had been made by the French to the English Government on the inefficiency of the blockade. The motion was withdrawn. Two hundred thousand pounds in Australian gold had arrived at Liverpool, and one hundred and twenty-five thousand pounds from New Zealand were en route.

☞ Ship Eliza & Ellen, Lunt, three weeks from Boston, bound for Ship Island, near New Orleans, put into Nassau 10th inst., being short of water, and the captain having been unwell during the voyage.—The U. S. Consul (S. Whiting, Esq.) having obtained a pilot, she left the 12th for her destined port. She has on board between 400 and 500 troops belonging to the 8th N. H. regiment, commanded by Lieut. Col. O. W. Lull, besides four captains, eight lieutenants, and a full complement of non-commissioned officers.

One of the immediate fruits of the rebellion was to close up all the common school South. Its duration for a few years would consequently have the effect of entirely suspending the progress of education and reducing the Slave States to a condition bordering on barbarism. One of the first results of the occupation of Nashville by the Federal troops was the reopening of all the public schools. Thus, whilst civilization flies at the approach of the rebels, it follows in the wake of our arms.—Boston Post.

☞ Brigadier General Harvey Brown, U. S. A., late the distinguished commander of Fort Pickens, has been assigned to the command of all the forts in New York harbor. Brigadier General Lewis T. Arnold (major 1st artillery) succeeds Gen. Brown in the command of Fort Pickens.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate Monday, the bill for the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia was taken up, the question being upon the amendment offered by Mr. Doolittle to Mr. Davis' amendment for colonization, that only such persons be colonized as desire to go to some other country, the cost not to exceed $100 per head. The amendment was adopted—yeas 23, nays 16. The question was then taken on Mr. Davis' amendment to colonize.—Disagreed to by yeas 19, including Lane of Kansas, and Trumbull.

Nays—Carlile, Chandler, Clark, Dixon, Fessenden, Foot, Grimes, Hale, Howard, Kennedy, King, McDougall, Morrill, Stark, Sumner, Wade, Wilkinson, Wilmot, Wilson, of Mass.—19.

Being a tie vote, the Vice-President voted in the negative, and thus the amended amendment was lost. Mr. Davis made a speech against the bill.

It is generally supposed the bill will pass and become a law. The idea of colonizing the freedmen of Washington is ludicrous,—as there are now about 12,000 free negroes there, many of whom are wealthy and all busy,—as there are only about 3,000 slaves of all ages,—and 40,000 or 50,000 whites.

The votes on the two amendments above noted, show that no colonization will go on from Washington, except by those who desire to leave the country.

In the House, Mr. Ashley, from the Committee on Territories, reported a bill to organize the territory of Arizona with the Wilmot Proviso, applicable to all Territories. Mr. Cravens moved to lay it on the table. Lost—yeas 40, nays 76. The bill was postponed to next Monday. The tax bill was then taken up in Committee of the Whole.

☞ The Republicans of Rhode Island, "favorable to the nomination of His Excellency Governor Sprague, as a just recognition of his tireless energy in supporting the government from the first moment of its peril to the present hour," called another State Convention, to meet at Providence on Wednesday next,—but subsequently indefinitely postponed the whole matter.

BURNT TO DEATH WHILE INTOXICATED.—John McKnight of Newburyport, 50 years of age, was found by the side of his bed on Sunday morning about 2 o'clock, burned to death. A coroner's jury brought in a verdict of "Died while in a state of breastly intoxication, from the effect of burns, caused by the breaking of a lighted kerosene lamp." He had gone down stairs for a bottle of rum, with the lamp in his hand, and fell on his way back.

☞ The Portland papers, in view of the increased expenses of publishing, present and prospective, are hereafter to charge for religious notices and deaths and marriages. This has been done for a long time in all the large cities, and should the present national tax bill pass, country papers will be forced to do the same.

☞ The rebel leaders have played false in the matter of exchanging prisoners of war; having received 2000 of their men from us after the capture of Roanoke Island, they now refuse to complete the exchange. Cols. Corcoran and Wilcox are still held as prisoners in Richmond.

☞ Leotard, the gymnast, has just concluded an engagement for two years, in England, by which he binds himself to give eight performances a week. For this he is to receive his expenses, namely, suitable "bed and board," and £500 a week, or no less than £26,000 a year, equal to $130,000.

☞ Gen. Grant was so sure of Fort Donelson, that on the eventful Saturday night he ordered the postmaster to have his mails ready to deliver the next day in the fort. The postmaster was surprised but obedient, and an hour after the troops entered they received their mail from an U. S. P. O. in the fort.

☞ A pleasant rumor has got currency that a conscientio s U. S. Representative is lying in wait for chiccory, intending at a suitable time to see that it is taxed higher than coffee, so as to stop the adulteration of this beverage.

☞ On Monday afternoon a girl not more than 16 or 18 years old, passed up through Pleasant street in Newburyport, so drunk as not to be able to walk straight, with a gang of noisy boys following her.

☞ The Portland City Council has voted to purchase another steam fire engine, and also to exchange the "Falmouth" for one of smaller grade.

☞ The breach of promise case, Helen Bell vs. E. R. McGregor, in New Lisbon, Ohio, was decided by a verdict of $10,000 for the plaintiff.

CURIOUS FACT. — President Lincoln, when a member of the House in 1848–49, introduced a bill for the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia.

☞ The Washington Republican asserts that the President has removed Gen. Denver from the command of the Department of Kansas.

☞ This, Wednesday evening, will be devoted by the Odd Fellows of this city to an exercise exceedingly interesting to them and to all friends of the Order. A eulogy upon the founder of the Order is to be delivered at the Temple, and the members will attend in full regalia. The Portsmouth Cornet Band is to furnish the music at the hall, and will escort the procession from the Lodge Room. The arrangements for the occasion are explained at length in the advertisement which appears in this morning's Chronicle.

☞ Mr. Hingerty, Boatswain of the Portsmouth Navy Yard, while in the performance of his duty on Monday afternoon, fell upon the ground, insensible, from a severe attack of apoplexy. He was immediately conveyed to his residence, and is now doing well.

☞ A large audience attended the concert by Morris' Minstrels at the Temple, last evening, and everything went off finely. We learn that it is the custom of the troupe to tender Sands, the unexcelled clog dancer, a complimentary benefit each season, and that he has decided to receive it in this city to-morrow, Thursday, evening.—They will, therefore, make one more appearance here.

☞ The Paris Patrie asserts that a member of the English Cabinet recently declared, to a deputation from the manufacturing districts, that according to information from Washington, amicable separation between the North and South will take place about the month of June; and that, on the basis of a treaty, Tennessee, Missouri and Kentucky will return to the Union; the two republics to have no land customs line, and the search for slaves to be prohibited in all the States. Slavery must disappear within thirty years.

It is reported that the rebel steamer Nashville was not burnt by the rebels, but was captured while endeavoring to run the blockade. The latest account seems to confirm this, and state that the vessel and Fort Macon were very little injured by the rebels.

With mortar, paixhan and petard,
We tender old Abe our Bean-regard.

These lines were got up by a newspaper wag on the occasion of the surrender of Fort Sumter. The Kentucky Banner gives a retort which is good, though we have waited long for it:—

With rebels all routed and flying in fear,
We tender Jeff. Davis our Foote in his rear.

☞ At a recent meeting of the Board of the American Bible Society it was announced that the British and Foreign Bible Society had made an appropriation of two thousand pounds sterling (about $10,000), payable either by bill of exchange or gold, as might be desired, to aid the American Bible Society in its noble work, at a time when the troubled state of the country would be likely to diminish the receipts.

SERVES 'EM RIGHT.—The tax bill now before the New Jersey Legislature provides that a tax of two dollars be levied on each unmarried white male inhabitant, and one dollar on each other white male, over the age of twenty-one years—bachelors being taxed twice as much as married men.

☞ Mr. Fox, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, says it is useless to make any more guns of the calibre now used, but that some fifteen-inch columbiads, that will smash through anything that floats, must be provided for naval warfare.

☞ On Tuesday last, two lads, Eben Pendexter and James Jones, confined in the State Reform School, Portland, attempted to burn the building by setting fire to it in three different places. Fortunately the attempts were discovered in season to prevent much damage.

☞ It is related that a man in Washington who enjoyed State favor enough to obtain the use of the wires during the censorship, was paid $1300 by a N. Y. stock broker for communicating important news in advance.

☞ In accordance with a recent order from Washington, all American shipmasters hereafter clearing at the Boston Custom House will be required to take the oath of allegiance. It was administered for the first time on Saturday.

☞ A Washington dispatch states that passes to Fortress Monroe are refused to all civilians at the War Department. Gen Wool has complained that too many strangers have been allowed to visit the fortress.

THE DEMOCRATS AND ABOLITION IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.—Forney's Press and the Boston Herald advocate the passage of laws by Congress, emancipating the slaves in the District of Columbia.

☞ The eating-house keeper of Allegheny, Pa., who served up roast cat to one of his customers, has been fined five dollars and costs. The man who eat the cat has commenced a suit claiming $10,000 damages.

Colors liable to run. The colors of the rebel regiments.

Special Notices.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

NOTICE.

At a meeting duly notified, of the stock-holders of the Bank of New Hampshire, held on Tuesday, March 11th, it was Voted, That the Capital Stock of the Bank be reduced, and that a dividend of forty dollars per share be paid to the stockholders in three months.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

The subscriber gives notice that he has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of JOHN NASON, late of Portsmouth in the County of Rockingham, deceased.

All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make payment: and all having claims to present them for adjustment.

Dated at Portsmouth, Mar. 19th, 1862.

The N. Y. Tribune says if you have a good article for sale, and it is something that everybody wants, then advertise it. This is one of the many good suggestions made by the Tribune, and we propose to follow it. We have got DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES for sale and we take advantage of the large circulation of this paper to let people know it. They are too well known already as curative agents to need much said in their praise and we shall only say that a complete assortment can be found at the store of J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts, Portsmouth; M. S. Burr & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. Eligible Estate in Portsmouth,

AT AUCTION.

Will be sold at public auction, on THURSDAY, the first day of May next,

at 12 o'clock noon,

on the premises, the house and land known as THE CUTTS' ESTATE in Portsmouth, recently occupied by E. S. Prescott, Esq.

The house is spacious, has conveniently arranged rooms, of high stories and good proportions, heated by a furnace, with a bath-room, closets, and other conveniences. Attached to the house are four acres of excellent land, upon which is a choice variety of fruit trees and shrubbery.

The stables and out buildings are in good repair, as is also the house which can be examined at any time on application to the undersigned.—From the house a fine view is obtained of the River, Navy Yard, Isles of Shoals, &c., which with its high situation renders it one of the most agreeable places of abode in this locality. For terms apply to WILLIAM H. HACKETT.

THE GALLERY OF NATURE,

—OR—

Wonders of the Earth and Heavens!

BY THOMAS MILNER, A. M., F. R. S.,

Will contain a description of some of the most remarkable of nature's works—as seen within the earth and upon its surface; in the atmosphere and in the regions of infinite space.

The work is published in TWENTY-SIX Numbers, each number containing thirty-two royal octavo pages of letter press—printed on very fine heavy paper—making two large volumes of more than eight hundred pages of reading matter, and

72 full-page Engravings.

PRICE TWENTY CENTS PER NUMBER,—and the numbers sold singly.

Among other testimonials in favor of the work is the following

From LOUIS AGASSIZ, LL. D., Professor of Zoology and Geology in Harvard University.

"I have looked through the work entitled 'Wonders of the Earth and the Heavens,' and read entirely several of its chapters, and find it to be an interesting popular illustration of the most remarkable features of the physical world, likely to diffuse much valuable information, and to create a desire for more extensive knowledge upon kindred subjects.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that it can be easily removed, or contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized,
Which beauty doth impart, and gout looks it sup-[plies,
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part —
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For it was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way.—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If yo u "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt ev'ry one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know.
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE, Portsmouth, N. H.,
Nov. 23, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Feb. 8, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

IMMORTELLES.

THE RAINBOW.

How glorious is thy girdle cast,
O'er mountain, tower and town,
Or imbrowned in the ocean vast,
A thousand fathoms down.

As fresh in you horizon dark,
As young thy beauties seem,
As when the eagle from the ark
First sported in thy beams.

For faithful to its sacred page,
Heaven still rebuilds thy span,
Nor lets the type grow pale with age,
That first spoke peace to man. — Campbell.

RESOLUTION.

What should appal a man inured to perils,
Like the bold climber on the crags of Alfas?
Winds whistle past him, billows rage below,
The sea-fowl sweep around, with shriek and clang;
One single slip, one unadvised pace,
One psalm of goldfinch—and peace be with him!
But he whose grasp is firm, whose step is firm,
Whose brain is constant—he makes one proud rock
The mouse to scale another, till he stand
Triumphant on the peak. — Sir Walter Scott.

THE PATRIOT'S NAME.

Who envies not the patriot's doom?
He has a joy in dying well;
His name shall echo from the tomb,
The oppressor's fear, and freedom's spell.

To him the scaffold is a throne,
His fate a triumph!
To bondaged nations, that shall own
His name a pledge, his blood a seal.

RICHARDS' NEW BOOT BLACKING.

This splendid compound is truly unrivaled in this or any other country for its shining quality and nutritious elements for leather, giving the boot an elegant yet black polish, quick and clean: no oil compound, rendering the leather soft and easy to the foot; strengthening leather preservative, will not injure the boot. Try it, Gentlemen, and you will be pleased with it.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see do the Act of 1837.)

73 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign parts. Also, Reissues, Specifications, Deeds, Assignments, and all Papers for Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claim of any Patent procured by writing One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of their inventions, which are not in measurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given from those who have employed me, are not the THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the claims for superiority made by others.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected application, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY,
